Stang Announces Tentative Budget; Holds Tax Increase to 96 Cents Per M

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today announced a tentative 1955 tax rate of $54.72 based on a budget total of $1,733,195.59 to be raised by taxation.

The rate increase is 96 cents over 1954. The amount to be raised by taxes then was $1,708,189.06, a difference of $25,006.53, and the tax rate per $1,000 was $53.76.

TOTAL 1955 city appropriations amount to $1,823,836.87. The 1954 total was $1,761,136.41, a difference of $62,700.46.

Included in the 1955 increase are sums for pay increases, or cost-of-living bonuses for city employes. This represents a total cost of roughly $48,000, but the cost was offset by economies elsewhere in the budget.

The 1955 assessed valuation is $31,673,896 for tax levy, and the 1954 total was $31,744,350.

Mayor Stang will conduct a public hearing on the budget in the Common Council Chamber Dec. 28 at 7:30 p. m. Copies of the budget were available at the mayor's office today from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. They may be obtained until noon tomorrow and throughout next week from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The budget provides for a cost-of-living bonus of $120 to most city employes and a $250 increase for members of the police and fire departments. Of the latter $100 represents a straight pay increase and $150 is to be an allowance for clothing.

THE PROVISION on pay increases says "A $120 cost-of-living bonus shall be paid to all employes of the City of Kingston for the year 1955 to be prorated at the end of each payroll period. Employes excluded from said bonus are employes of the Kingston City Laboratory, fire department, police department (except garage attendant). All elected and appointed officials, and all employes receiving a salary adjustment."

Employes of the city laboratory got a blanket raise of $200, and some raises are noted in the public works department, and a few others in the city hall.

The budget notes a deficit of only $1,290 as against $34,799.34 a year ago, and 1955 debt service provisions present the city's financial picture as about $30,000 better than a year ago.

COUNTY CHARGES went from $269,969.82 in 1954 to $309,054.13 in 1955, a difference of $39,084.31.

Estimated revenues in the 1955 budget of $575,410.32, leaves the net appropriations for city purposes at $1,248,426.55. The 1954 estimated revenues was $537,058.53, leaving the net appropriation then of $1,224,077.88.

The difference between the net appropriations for 1955 and 1954 is $24,348.67.

New items in the 1955 budget include $7,460 for the newly created building department and about $3,370 for operation of the municipal beach at Kingston Point.

Provision for other salary increases bring the salary of the city engineer from $5,900 to $6,500, the public works superintendent from $6,300 to $7,000, his assistant from $4,500 to $5,000, and the superintendent of recreation from $4,100 to $4,600.

OTHER INCREASES noted were for the accountant in the city treasurer's office, from $4,000 to $4,500, and that of the senior clerk from $3,050 to $3,200. The deputy city clerk's salary was raised from $3,100 to $3,500. The salary of the mayor's secretary goes from $3,350 to $4,000.

Differences in the 1954 and 1955 provisions were $180,210 in 1955 for the city laboratory as compared to $160,535 a year ago; police department $220,481.60 against $202,275 in 1954; fire department, $209,916 against $200,462. Other differences were shown in public works and operational costs, with the general government expenses at $1,418,352.01 in 1955 as against $1,349,158.85 in 1954, a difference of $69,393.16.

IT WAS NOTED that the budget with a tax rate of $54.72 compares favorably with one of more than 20 years ago. In 1932 the city had a tax rate of $56.16. The high rate then was due to the pressure of an economic depression, which was felt heavily in the city that year. The normal tax rates in the late 1920's and early 1930's ranged from about $35 to $40 per $1,000. The difference between 1931 and 1932 was more than $16.

Opponents Try to Halt Treaty Talk

Premier May Seek New Ballot

Paris, Dec. 23 (AP)—Opponents of West German rearmament today sought to choke off debate on the Paris treaties. Premier Pierre Mendes-France immediately threatened to make this an issue of confidence in his cabinet.

Vincent Badie, Radical-Socialist (Moderate) opponent of the whole series of interlocking treaties to put Germans again in uniform, filed a motion to adjourn debate until the French-West German agreement on the Saar has been clarified.

HE MADE THE MOVE as deputies reconvened this afternoon to resume discussions which began Monday.

Mendes-France, who wants deputies to make their decision this week, let it be known at once that he will fight any delay or amendment with a formal call for confidence.

Such a call would mean that debate must be suspended for at least a full calendar day before a ballot to determine the cabinet's fate.

In Rome, the Italian Chamber of Deputies pressed toward a ballot this afternoon, closing 10 days of debate on the Paris agreements to put 500,000 uniformed West Germans into the western defense line. Rome's independent newspaper Il Messagero predicted a big victory for Premier Mario Scelba's government.

SUPPORTERS AND opponents of the pact in the French Parliament lined up their big guns for the closing arguments. Former Premiers Robert Schuman and Rene Pleven, the two men who fathered the defunct European Defense Community (EDC) plan, were among those scheduled to speak. Most EDC supporters to speak thus far have objected to the Paris pacts.

Premier Pierre Mendes-France was slated to make his principal appeal for support near the close of the discussion. He has promised to answer all questions raised by deputies during the debate.

At some point following the premier's address, the opposition was expected to introduce a motion calling for postponement of further discussion — the AME parliamentary maneuver used to kill off EDC almost four months ago.

APPROVAL OF SUCH a motion would be tantamount to rejection of the pacts aimed at rearming West Germany as a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). Restoring West Germany sovereignty

President Goes to Augusta

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower, calling out a "Merry Christmas," flew off to Augusta, Ga., today for the holidays.

The President's private plane, the Columbine, took off from National Airport at 11:10 a. m. on the two-hour flight to Georgia. He was accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver.

Just before leaving the White House, the President and the first lady played Santa Claus to members of the White House staff.

Carey Faces Price Bid By Farmers

Syracuse, Dec. 23 (AP)—Among the first problems to hit Daniel J. Carey's desk when he takes over next month as state commissioner of Agriculture may be a bid for a higher fluid-milk price for the 50,000 dairymen of the New York milkshed.

"I certainly will help them, because something will have to be done," Carey said in an interview here.

"I think they should get a (federal-state) hearing to explore the matter. We need to do something to protect the New York dairyman."

A petition for a hearing on the over-all fluid-milk price structure is expected soon from at least one of the state's four large dairy cooperatives.

IT WILL BE FILED both with Secretary of Agriculture Benson and with Carey, because it is a joint federal-state marketing order under which these dairymen sell their milk in the New York city area.

Carey, the incoming Democratic commissioner, is familiar with the problem—from both sides.

The tall, husky, farmer, whose gray hair, features and stance suggest hard work completed and more to be done, was an assistant to former Secretary of Agriculture Brannan from 1948 until January, 1953, when Brannan, a Democrat, was replaced by Benson.

Carey and his son run a 450-acre dairy farm at Groton, Tompkins county. He has 55 cows, "a few purebreds, but mostly grade Holsteins."

THE FARM has been his homestead since he moved there with his parents in 1899, two years after his birth in Little Falls.

Carey began as a boy to learn farming. After graduation from Groton High School, he went to the State College of Agriculture

McCarran Act Upheld By Judges

Security Statute Is Given 2-1 Vote

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals in a 2-1 decision today upheld validity of the 1950 internal security act which requires the Communist party to register as Russian dominated.

The law is known as the McCarran Act after its author, the late Sen. Pat McCarran (D.-Nev.)

The split appellate court decision was the first ruling on constitutionality of the act.

UNDER IT, the Communist Party must list its officers and members with the Justice Department and account for its contributions and expenditures. The law also requires registration of "Communist-action" and "Communist-front" groups.

Today's ruling paved the way for the Communist Party to carry the case to the Supreme Court. Lawyers for the party said in advance that this would be done if the Appellate Court ruled against it.

Judge E. Barrett Prettyman, who wrote the majority opinion, held that the law and an order of the subversive activities control board (SACB) directing the party to comply with its provision "are valid as matters of law."

HE SAID a preponderance of the evidence supports the board's findings that the Communist Party "is substantially directed, dominated and controlled by the Soviet Union, which controls the world Communist movement."

Judge John A. Danaher joined Judge Prettyman in the majority opinion, but Judge David Bazelon dissented, saying he would void the law on the grounds of Fifth Amendment.

This amendment provides that no person shall be required to give incriminating evidence against himself.

10 Men Feared Lost In Pittsburgh Crackup

Pittsburgh, Dec. 23 (AP)—An airliner carrying 28 men—23 of them GI's homeward bound for Christmas — crash landed into the Monongahela river last night.

At 9:45 a. m. (EST) 10 men were still missing. Eighteen—four of them crewmen—were saved, some rescued by a human chain. The plane's wreckage, hoisted by a crane and towed to a sandbar, failed to reveal any bodies.

Walter Ketchel, superintendent of Allegheny (Pittsburgh) county police, said both escape hatches of the plane were open but the main exit was locked.

The twin-engined DC3 chartered airliner was en route from Newark (N. J.) Airport to a Colorado and two west coast forts. It pancaked into the river 15 miles south of here shortly before midnight.

A tower operator at Allegheny County Airport—some two miles from the crash scene—said the pilot reported he was out of gas and was "going to ditch."

Pilot Harold Poe, 33, of Seattle, Wash., one of the missing, skillfully guided the big ship to a crash landing near the shore. It floated for some 15 minutes, while the men scrambled to the wings. Some went back into the ship for their gear.

THEN THE SHIP slipped back into midstream—some 300 feet from shore. It was an icy swim to shore in the 18 degree chill and some of the men apparently couldn't make it.

The liner sank in about 12 feet of oily water.

Help came fast from shore. Rescuers formed human chains to snatch the oil-soaked men up the slippery river banks.

Motorists on the river bank turned their lights on the scene.

All 18 saved were rushed to the McKeesport Hospital. There wasn't a broken bone among them and the hospital said the chief ailment was exposure to the cold.

Many of the soldiers were sleeping when the crash landing occurred within two air-line miles of the Allegheny County Airport which is used mostly by chartered airline flights. A few miles away the Greater Pittsburgh Airport, utilized by passenger flights, reported the pilot radioed that he was running out of gas. Seconds later the ship pancaked into the water.

MARK BRANNIGAN, a Clairton construction worker who was among the scores to rush to the aid of the stricken, declared:

"About six other fellows and myself formed a human chain. We waded out into the river and we grabbed those guys when they came to us. Some swam. Others floated on logs.

Furious Storms Lash W. Europe

London, Dec. 23 (AP)—Furious winter storms lashed western Europe today for the third day, bringing death and anguish in the midst of planning for joyous Christmas festivities. At least 26 persons were dead or missing in the incessant wind, sleet and snow which extended from Denmark to northern Italy, from Scotland to far inland in Germany and France.

And more storms are predicted.

Telephone poles, trees, masonry and even some buildings crumpled before the onslaught of the hurrican force winds. Scores of ships were in distress along the British, Belgian, Dutch and North German coasts. But there was hope that most of them would come safely through the battering.

The 1,317-ton Swedish freighter Petra, feared lost off the Netherlands yesterday, was located last night with her 21-man crew safe. Rescue tugs scurried out to help the vessel reported helpless and leaking.

The British army deferred the Christmas leave of about 3,000 soldiers and placed them on duty along Britain's low lying east coast to guard against any breaks in sea defenses.

GENERALLY, though, the seawalls in Britain, Holland, north Germany and Belgium were holding against the raging seas and there seemed little imminent danger of a repetition of last year's disastrous floods which took thousands of lives.

Hope was virtually abondoned for the 1,352-ton Belgian freighter Henri Deweert and all 19 crewmen aboard. No word had been heard since the ship reported yesterday she was sinking off Holland and unable to

Sahloff Elected Vice President of General Electric

WILLARD H. SAHLOFF

The election of Willard H. Sahloff, 45, formerly of this city, as a vice president of the General Electric Company was announced today by Ralph J. Cordiner, president of the company. Sahloff has been named vice president and general manager of the General Electric Company's Small Appliance Division with headquarters in Bridgeport, Conn. He has held a position as general manager of that division since April 1953. Prior to that he had held several important posts in the merchandising field.

THE NEW GE vice president is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Sahloff of 127 East Chester street. A graduate of the parochial school of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston street, he finished Kingston High School in 1926 and Rutgers University in 1930.

From 1930 to 1933, he was advertising manager of the Perth Amboy, N. J., Evening News. Sahloff then became a buyer, specializing in housewares and appliances, for L. Bamberger and Company, Newark, N. J.

In 1940, he became division manager of the housewares department for Montgomery Ward in Chicago, leaving the company in 1943 to serve 27 months as a lieutenant in the Supply Corps, U. S. Navy.

HE RETURNED to his former position with Montgomery Ward in 1945, then held positions as mail order merchandise man-

Dome Oil Loses Its Drilling Bid

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Nathaniel L. Goldstein said in an unprecedented opinion today that the State Constitution forbids drilling for gas and oil in the forest preserve.

He advised the State Conservation Department that it could not give the Dome Gas and Oil Corp., of (295 Madison avenue) New York city, a Delaware corporation, exploitation rights in Catskill Park, a part of the preserve.

The State Constitution provides that the forest preserve shall be "forever wild."

DOME OIL had sought permission to drill near Panther Mountain, in the town of Shandaken, Ulster county. The attorney general said the Conservation Department had no power or authority to grant it.

Goldstein said his opinion was the first ever given by a New York state attorney general on the question of gas and oil in the preserve. But he noted that in 1934 a private firm had been denied permission to dig for gold in the preserve in St. Lawrence county.

"My own independent research on the subject," Goldstein said, "convinces me that the position taken with respect to mining for gold was not only correct, but that it applies with equal force to explorations for gas and oil on forest preserve land."

Stewart A. Currie of Hamilton is listed as president of Dome Oil.

Robbers Steal 400-Pound Safe At Modena Firm

A 400-pound safe, with money and records, was stolen from the J. E. Hasbrouck Lumber Company at Modena during the night, according to a report from the sheriff's department and state police.

County Investigator Arthur H. Brown said the sheriff's department was notified this morning about 8 o'clock about the robbery, also the state police at Highland.

Brown and Sgt. Lynn Baker are directing a hunt for the safe throughout this area, and are covering the Hudson valley through cooperation with other police agencies.

Brown said Hasbrouck told him his main concern is about records in the safe of the Modena Cemetery Association, the loss of which could complicate matters pertaining to the burying ground.

Business records and an unnamed amount of cash were also in the safe, which was stolen after 9 p. m. Wednesday, the time Hasbrouck said he left his office.

THE SAFE, according to the report given police, is gray, 30 inches high, 20 inches wide and weighs 400 pounds. It is a Protectall model, with the name printed on the front.

Brown and Sgt. Baker are in hopes, they said, that someone may find the safe along the highway or in a hiding spot.

"WE'D APPRECIATE any tips or clues about the safe," Brown said.

Files at the sheriff's office indicate that safe thieves in the area are in jail for robberies solved within the year, which means that the police are without suspects in the Hasbrouck robbery.

City Offices to Close

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today announced that offices and departments in the city hall will close at noon tomorrow in preparation for the observance of Christmas. The mayor also extended his greetings to the people of the city, wishing them a joyous Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Dividend Declared

The board of directors of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., at its monthly meeting in Poughkeepsie today, declared a dividend of 19 cents per share, an increase of one and one-half cents, on its common stock. The dividend is payable Feb. 1, 1955 to stock of record Jan. 10, 1955.

Planning Group Would Supplant Authorities With Regional Bodies

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—A state planning group is sounding out opinion on a proposal for organizing existing highway, bridge and tunnel authorities into six regional bodies that would use toll revenues to support a $359,991,000 road-improvement program.

The plan was unveiled yesterday by the temporary commission on coordination of state activities in the form of a preliminary staff report that estimated the future scope of the program as in excess of 600 million dollars.

The State Thruway Authority would be the only major exception to the program.

However the report did not recommend replacement of the Triborough Bridge Authority, which it said could serve substantially as a regional authority for New York city.

The chairman of the commission, Republican Sen. William S. Hults Jr. of Port Washington, emphasized in a statement that the report had not yet been considered for approval. Hults invited comments on the plan, and asked that they be submitted to the commission by Jan. 21.

Under recommendations contained in the report:

1. Collection of tolls on existing toll highway, bridges and tunnels would be continued indefinitely.

2. The toll facilities would be turned over to five authorities, to be set up by regions—Niagara Frontier, St. Lawrence River, the Adirondacks, Hudson Valley and Long Island. The Triborough Authority would be considered as the sixth regional body.

3. The revenues from all the toll facilities within each region would be pooled to finance additional highways, bridges, parkways and tunnels for the region.

4. The thruway, and its future extensions and additions would be continued, as at present, under one statewide authority.

5. A 10-cent toll would be levied for use of the northern State Parkway on Long Island, and a 20-cent toll for full use of

Ladejinsky Tries to Keep His Agriculture Position

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP)—Wolf Ladejinsky fought today to retain his foreign attache post under the Agriculture Department, despite indications the State Department was willing to keep him on its own payroll in a different job.

It was understood that Ladejinsky supporters were preparing to carry the unusual case to President Eisenhower himself.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has ruled that Ladejinsky, a Russian-born American citizen, is not qualified, technically and security-wise, to continue in the $11,000-a-year post which is being transferred from State to Agriculture Department jurisdiction.

But Sen. Humphrey (D.-Minn.), calling for a "frank and open airing" of the incident, questioned whether it wasn't more a matter of giving the job to a "person of more obvious political persuasion."

Rep. Judd (R.-Minn.) criticized the method of Ladejinsky's ouster and said in a statement the attache's abilities in land reform measures were needed to help save free Viet Nam.

The 55-year-old Ladejinsky, who was naturalized in 1928, was Gen. Douglas MacArthur's chief land reform official in occupied Japan and has served as an agricultural attache under the State Department there for the last four years.

The Agriculture Department announced late yesterday that a review of Ladejinsky's records in connection with the transfer of jurisdiction had raised questions concerning his fitness under security rules to continue in the job. In addition, it said it wanted a man with more American agricultural experience.

State Department officials, obviously irked at an Agriculture

Brown and Sgt. Baker are in hopes, they said, that someone may find the safe along the highway or in a hiding spot.

"WE'D APPRECIATE any tips or clues about the safe," Brown said.

Files at the sheriff's office indicate that safe thieves in the area are in jail for robberies solved within the year, which means that the police are without suspects in the Hasbrouck robbery.

Premier May Seek New Ballot

Paris, Dec. 23 (AP)—Opponents of West German rearmament today sought to choke off debate on the Paris treaties. Premier Pierre Mendes-France immediately threatened to make this an issue of confidence in his cabinet.

Vincent Badie, Radical-Socialist (Moderate) opponent of the whole series of interlocking treaties to put Germans again in uniform, filed a motion to adjourn debate until the French-West German agreement on the Saar has been clarified.

HE MADE THE MOVE as deputies reconvened this afternoon to resume discussions which began Monday.

Mendes-France, who wants deputies to make their decision this week, let it be known at once that he will fight any delay or amendment with a formal call for confidence.

Such a call would mean that debate must be suspended for at least a full calendar day before a ballot to determine the cabinet's fate.

In Rome, the Italian Chamber of Deputies pressed toward a ballot this afternoon, closing 10 days of debate on the Paris agreements to put 500,000 uniformed West Germans into the western defense line. Rome's independent newspaper Il Messagero predicted a big victory for Premier Mario Scelba's government.

SUPPORTERS AND opponents of the pact in the French Parliament lined up their big guns for the closing arguments. Former Premiers Robert Schuman and Rene Pleven, the two men who fathered the defunct European Defense Community (EDC) plan, were among those scheduled to speak. Most EDC supporters to speak thus far have objected to the Paris pacts.

Premier Pierre Mendes-France was slated to make his principal appeal for support near the close of the discussion. He has promised to answer all questions raised by deputies during the debate.

At some point following the premier's address, the opposition was expected to introduce a motion calling for postponement of further discussion — the AME parliamentary maneuver used to kill off EDC almost four months ago.

APPROVAL OF SUCH a motion would be tantamount to rejection of the pacts aimed at rearming West Germany as a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). Restoring West Germany sovereignty

President Goes to Augusta

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower, calling out a "Merry Christmas," flew off to Augusta, Ga., today for the holidays.

The President's private plane, the Columbine, took off from National Airport at 11:10 a. m. on the two-hour flight to Georgia. He was accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver.

Just before leaving the White House, the President and the first lady played Santa Claus to members of the White House staff.

Carey Faces Price Bid By Farmers

Syracuse, Dec. 23 (AP)—Among the first problems to hit Daniel J. Carey's desk when he takes over next month as state commissioner of Agriculture may be a bid for a higher fluid-milk price for the 50,000 dairymen of the New York milkshed.

"I certainly will help them, because something will have to be done," Carey said in an interview here.

"I think they should get a (federal-state) hearing to explore the matter. We need to do something to protect the New York dairyman."

A petition for a hearing on the over-all fluid-milk price structure is expected soon from at least one of the state's four large dairy cooperatives.

IT WILL BE FILED both with Secretary of Agriculture Benson and with Carey, because it is a joint federal-state marketing order under which these dairymen sell their milk in the New York city area.

Carey, the incoming Democratic commissioner, is familiar with the problem—from both sides.

The tall, husky, farmer, whose gray hair, features and stance suggest hard work completed and more to be done, was an assistant to former Secretary of Agriculture Brannan from 1948 until January, 1953, when Brannan, a Democrat, was replaced by Benson.

Carey and his son run a 450-acre dairy farm at Groton, Tompkins county. He has 55 cows, "a few purebreds, but mostly grade Holsteins."

THE FARM has been his homestead since he moved there with his parents in 1899, two years after his birth in Little Falls.

Carey began as a boy to learn farming. After graduation from Groton High School, he went to the State College of Agriculture

Security Statute Is Given 2-1 Vote

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals in a 2-1 decision today upheld validity of the 1950 internal security act which requires the Communist party to register as Russian dominated.

The law is known as the McCarran Act after its author, the late Sen. Pat McCarran (D.-Nev.)

The split appellate court decision was the first ruling on constitutionality of the act.

UNDER IT, the Communist Party must list its officers and members with the Justice Department and account for its contributions and expenditures. The law also requires registration of "Communist-action" and "Communist-front" groups.

Today's ruling paved the way for the Communist Party to carry the case to the Supreme Court. Lawyers for the party said in advance that this would be done if the Appellate Court ruled against it.

Judge E. Barrett Prettyman, who wrote the majority opinion, held that the law and an order of the subversive activities control board (SACB) directing the party to comply with its provision "are valid as matters of law."

HE SAID a preponderance of the evidence supports the board's findings that the Communist Party "is substantially directed, dominated and controlled by the Soviet Union, which controls the world Communist movement."

Judge John A. Danaher joined Judge Prettyman in the majority opinion, but Judge David Bazelon dissented, saying he would void the law on the grounds of Fifth Amendment.

This amendment provides that no person shall be required to give incriminating evidence against himself.

10 Men Feared Lost In Pittsburgh Crackup

Pittsburgh, Dec. 23 (AP)—An airliner carrying 28 men—23 of them GI's homeward bound for Christmas — crash landed into the Monongahela river last night.

At 9:45 a. m. (EST) 10 men were still missing. Eighteen—four of them crewmen—were saved, some rescued by a human chain. The plane's wreckage, hoisted by a crane and towed to a sandbar, failed to reveal any bodies.

Walter Ketchel, superintendent of Allegheny (Pittsburgh) county police, said both escape hatches of the plane were open but the main exit was locked.

The twin-engined DC3 chartered airliner was en route from Newark (N. J.) Airport to a Colorado and two west coast forts. It pancaked into the river 15 miles south of here shortly before midnight.

A tower operator at Allegheny County Airport—some two miles from the crash scene—said the pilot reported he was out of gas and was "going to ditch."

Pilot Harold Poe, 33, of Seattle, Wash., one of the missing, skillfully guided the big ship to a crash landing near the shore. It floated for some 15 minutes, while the men scrambled to the wings. Some went back into the ship for their gear.

THEN THE SHIP slipped back into midstream—some 300 feet from shore. It was an icy swim to shore in the 18 degree chill and some of the men apparently couldn't make it.

The liner sank in about 12 feet of oily water.

Help came fast from shore. Rescuers formed human chains to snatch the oil-soaked men up the slippery river banks.

Motorists on the river bank turned their lights on the scene.

All 18 saved were rushed to the McKeesport Hospital. There wasn't a broken bone among them and the hospital said the chief ailment was exposure to the cold.

Many of the soldiers were sleeping when the crash landing occurred within two air-line miles of the Allegheny County Airport which is used mostly by chartered airline flights. A few miles away the Greater Pittsburgh Airport, utilized by passenger flights, reported the pilot radioed that he was running out of gas. Seconds later the ship pancaked into the water.

MARK BRANNIGAN, a Clairton construction worker who was among the scores to rush to the aid of the stricken, declared:

"About six other fellows and myself formed a human chain. We waded out into the river and we grabbed those guys when they came to us. Some swam. Others floated on logs.

Furious Storms Lash W. Europe

London, Dec. 23 (AP)—Furious winter storms lashed western Europe today for the third day, bringing death and anguish in the midst of planning for joyous Christmas festivities. At least 26 persons were dead or missing in the incessant wind, sleet and snow which extended from Denmark to northern Italy, from Scotland to far inland in Germany and France.

And more storms are predicted.

Telephone poles, trees, masonry and even some buildings crumpled before the onslaught of the hurrican force winds. Scores of ships were in distress along the British, Belgian, Dutch and North German coasts. But there was hope that most of them would come safely through the battering.

The 1,317-ton Swedish freighter Petra, feared lost off the Netherlands yesterday, was located last night with her 21-man crew safe. Rescue tugs scurried out to help the vessel reported helpless and leaking.

The British army deferred the Christmas leave of about 3,000 soldiers and placed them on duty along Britain's low lying east coast to guard against any breaks in sea defenses.

GENERALLY, though, the seawalls in Britain, Holland, north Germany and Belgium were holding against the raging seas and there seemed little imminent danger of a repetition of last year's disastrous floods which took thousands of lives.

Hope was virtually abondoned for the 1,352-ton Belgian freighter Henri Deweert and all 19 crewmen aboard. No word had been heard since the ship reported yesterday she was sinking off Holland and unable to

Sahloff Elected Vice President of General Electric

WILLARD H. SAHLOFF

The election of Willard H. Sahloff, 45, formerly of this city, as a vice president of the General Electric Company was announced today by Ralph J. Cordiner, president of the company. Sahloff has been named vice president and general manager of the General Electric Company's Small Appliance Division with headquarters in Bridgeport, Conn. He has held a position as general manager of that division since April 1953. Prior to that he had held several important posts in the merchandising field.

THE NEW GE vice president is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Sahloff of 127 East Chester street. A graduate of the parochial school of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston street, he finished Kingston High School in 1926 and Rutgers University in 1930.

From 1930 to 1933, he was advertising manager of the Perth Amboy, N. J., Evening News. Sahloff then became a buyer, specializing in housewares and appliances, for L. Bamberger and Company, Newark, N. J.

In 1940, he became division manager of the housewares department for Montgomery Ward in Chicago, leaving the company in 1943 to serve 27 months as a lieutenant in the Supply Corps, U. S. Navy.

HE RETURNED to his former position with Montgomery Ward in 1945, then held positions as mail order merchandise man-

Ladejinsky Tries to Keep His Agriculture Position

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP)—Wolf Ladejinsky fought today to retain his foreign attache post under the Agriculture Department, despite indications the State Department was willing to keep him on its own payroll in a different job.

It was understood that Ladejinsky supporters were preparing to carry the unusual case to President Eisenhower himself.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has ruled that Ladejinsky, a Russian-born American citizen, is not qualified, technically and security-wise, to continue in the $11,000-a-year post which is being transferred from State to Agriculture Department jurisdiction.

But Sen. Humphrey (D.-Minn.), calling for a "frank and open airing" of the incident, questioned whether it wasn't more a matter of giving the job to a "person of more obvious political persuasion."

Rep. Judd (R.-Minn.) criticized the method of Ladejinsky's ouster and said in a statement the attache's abilities in land reform measures were needed to help save free Viet Nam.

The 55-year-old Ladejinsky, who was naturalized in 1928, was Gen. Douglas MacArthur's chief land reform official in occupied Japan and has served as an agricultural attache under the State Department there for the last four years.

The Agriculture Department announced late yesterday that a review of Ladejinsky's records in connection with the transfer of jurisdiction had raised questions concerning his fitness under security rules to continue in the job. In addition, it said it wanted a man with more American agricultural experience.

Planning Group Would Supplant Authorities With Regional Bodies

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—A state planning group is sounding out opinion on a proposal for organizing existing highway, bridge and tunnel authorities into six regional bodies that would use toll revenues to support a $359,991,000 road-improvement program.

The plan was unveiled yesterday by the temporary commission on coordination of state activities in the form of a preliminary staff report that estimated the future scope of the program as in excess of 600 million dollars.

The State Thruway Authority would be the only major exception to the program.

However the report did not recommend replacement of the Triborough Bridge Authority, which it said could serve substantially as a regional authority for New York city.

The chairman of the commission, Republican Sen. William S. Hults Jr. of Port Washington, emphasized in a statement that the report had not yet been considered for approval. Hults invited comments on the plan, and asked that they be submitted to the commission by Jan. 21.

Under recommendations contained in the report:

1. Collection of tolls on existing toll highway, bridges and tunnels would be continued indefinitely.

2. The toll facilities would be turned over to five authorities, to be set up by regions—Niagara Frontier, St. Lawrence River, the Adirondacks, Hudson Valley and Long Island. The Triborough Authority would be considered as the sixth regional body.

3. The revenues from all the toll facilities within each region would be pooled to finance additional highways, bridges, parkways and tunnels for the region.

4. The thruway, and its future extensions and additions would be continued, as at present, under one statewide authority.

5. A 10-cent toll would be levied for use of the northern State Parkway on Long Island, and a 20-cent toll for full use of

Stang Announces Tentative Budget; Holds Tax Increase to 96 Cents Per M

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today announced a tentative 1955 tax rate of $54.72 based on a budget total of $1,733,195.59 to be raised by taxation.

The rate increase is 96 cents over 1954. The amount to be raised by taxes then was $1,708,189.06, a difference of $25,006.53, and the tax rate per $1,000 was $53.76.

TOTAL 1955 city appropriations amount to $1,823,836.87. The 1954 total was $1,761,136.41, a difference of $62,700.46.

Included in the 1955 increase are sums for pay increases, or cost-of-living bonuses for city employes. This represents a total cost of roughly $48,000, but the cost was offset by economies elsewhere in the budget.

The 1955 assessed valuation is $31,673,896 for tax levy, and the 1954 total was $31,744,350.

Mayor Stang will conduct a public hearing on the budget in the Common Council Chamber Dec. 28 at 7:30 p. m. Copies of the budget were available at the mayor's office today from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. They may be obtained until noon tomorrow and throughout next week from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The budget provides for a cost-of-living bonus of $120 to most city employes and a $250 increase for members of the police and fire departments. Of the latter $100 represents a straight pay increase and $150 is to be an allowance for clothing.

THE PROVISION on pay increases says "A $120 cost-of-living bonus shall be paid to all employes of the City of Kingston for the year 1955 to be prorated at the end of each payroll period. Employes excluded from said bonus are employes of the Kingston City Laboratory, fire department, police department (except garage attendant). All elected and appointed officials, and all employes receiving a salary adjustment."

Employes of the city laboratory got a blanket raise of $200, and some raises are noted in the public works department, and a few others in the city hall.

The budget notes a deficit of only $1,290 as against $34,799.34 a year ago, and 1955 debt service provisions present the city's financial picture as about $30,000 better than a year ago.

COUNTY CHARGES went from $269,969.82 in 1954 to $309,054.13 in 1955, a difference of $39,084.31.

Estimated revenues in the 1955 budget of $575,410.32, leaves the net appropriations for city purposes at $1,248,426.55. The 1954 estimated revenues was $537,058.53, leaving the net appropriation then of $1,224,077.88.

The difference between the net appropriations for 1955 and 1954 is $24,348.67.

New items in the 1955 budget include $7,460 for the newly created building department and about $3,370 for operation of the municipal beach at Kingston Point.

Provision for other salary increases bring the salary of the city engineer from $5,900 to $6,500, the public works superintendent from $6,300 to $7,000, his assistant from $4,500 to $5,000, and the superintendent of recreation from $4,100 to $4,600.

OTHER INCREASES noted were for the accountant in the city treasurer's office, from $4,000 to $4,500, and that of the senior clerk from $3,050 to $3,200. The deputy city clerk's salary was raised from $3,100 to $3,500. The salary of the mayor's secretary goes from $3,350 to $4,000.

Differences in the 1954 and 1955 provisions were $180,210 in 1955 for the city laboratory as compared to $160,535 a year ago; police department $220,481.60 against $202,275 in 1954; fire department, $209,916 against $200,462. Other differences were shown in public works and operational costs, with the general government expenses at $1,418,352.01 in 1955 as against $1,349,158.85 in 1954, a difference of $69,393.16.

IT WAS NOTED that the budget with a tax rate of $54.72 compares favorably with one of more than 20 years ago. In 1932 the city had a tax rate of $56.16. The high rate then was due to the pressure of an economic depression, which was felt heavily in the city that year. The normal tax rates in the late 1920's and early 1930's ranged from about $35 to $40 per $1,000. The difference between 1931 and 1932 was more than $16.

Ladejinsky Tries to Keep His Agriculture Position

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP)—Wolf Ladejinsky fought today to retain his foreign attache post under the Agriculture Department, despite indications the State Department was willing to keep him on its own payroll in a different job.

It was understood that Ladejinsky supporters were preparing to carry the unusual case to President Eisenhower himself.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has ruled that Ladejinsky, a Russian-born American citizen, is not qualified, technically and security-wise, to continue in the $11,000-a-year post which is being transferred from State to Agriculture Department jurisdiction.

But Sen. Humphrey (D.-Minn.), calling for a "frank and open airing" of the incident, questioned whether it wasn't more a matter of giving the job to a "person of more obvious political persuasion."

Rep. Judd (R.-Minn.) criticized the method of Ladejinsky's ouster and said in a statement the attache's abilities in land reform measures were needed to help save free Viet Nam.

The 55-year-old Ladejinsky, who was naturalized in 1928, was Gen. Douglas MacArthur's chief land reform official in occupied Japan and has served as an agricultural attache under the State Department there for the last four years.

The Agriculture Department announced late yesterday that a review of Ladejinsky's records in connection with the transfer of jurisdiction had raised questions concerning his fitness under security rules to continue in the job. In addition, it said it wanted a man with more American agricultural experience.

Dome Oil Loses Its Drilling Bid

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Nathaniel L. Goldstein said in an unprecedented opinion today that the State Constitution forbids drilling for gas and oil in the forest preserve.

He advised the State Conservation Department that it could not give the Dome Gas and Oil Corp., of (295 Madison avenue) New York city, a Delaware corporation, exploitation rights in Catskill Park, a part of the preserve.

The State Constitution provides that the forest preserve shall be "forever wild."

DOME OIL had sought permission to drill near Panther Mountain, in the town of Shandaken, Ulster county. The attorney general said the Conservation Department had no power or authority to grant it.

Goldstein said his opinion was the first ever given by a New York state attorney general on the question of gas and oil in the preserve. But he noted that in 1934 a private firm had been denied permission to dig for gold in the preserve in St. Lawrence county.

"My own independent research on the subject," Goldstein said, "convinces me that the position taken with respect to mining for gold was not only correct, but that it applies with equal force to explorations for gas and oil on forest preserve land."

Stewart A. Currie of Hamilton is listed as president of Dome Oil.

Robbers Steal 400-Pound Safe At Modena Firm

A 400-pound safe, with money and records, was stolen from the J. E. Hasbrouck Lumber Company at Modena during the night, according to a report from the sheriff's department and state police.

County Investigator Arthur H. Brown said the sheriff's department was notified this morning about 8 o'clock about the robbery, also the state police at Highland.

Brown and Sgt. Lynn Baker are directing a hunt for the safe throughout this area, and are covering the Hudson valley through cooperation with other police agencies.

Brown said Hasbrouck told him his main concern is about records in the safe of the Modena Cemetery Association, the loss of which could complicate matters pertaining to the burying ground.

Business records and an unnamed amount of cash were also in the safe, which was stolen after 9 p. m. Wednesday, the time Hasbrouck said he left his office.

THE SAFE, according to the report given police, is gray, 30 inches high, 20 inches wide and weighs 400 pounds. It is a Protectall model, with the name printed on the front.

Brown and Sgt. Baker are in hopes, they said, that someone may find the safe along the highway or in a hiding spot.

"WE'D APPRECIATE any tips or clues about the safe," Brown said.

Files at the sheriff's office indicate that safe thieves in the area are in jail for robberies solved within the year, which means that the police are without suspects in the Hasbrouck robbery.

Planning Group Would Supplant Authorities With Regional Bodies

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—A state planning group is sounding out opinion on a proposal for organizing existing highway, bridge and tunnel authorities into six regional bodies that would use toll revenues to support a $359,991,000 road-improvement program.

The plan was unveiled yesterday by the temporary commission on coordination of state activities in the form of a preliminary staff report that estimated the future scope of the program as in excess of 600 million dollars.

The State Thruway Authority would be the only major exception to the program.

However the report did not recommend replacement of the Triborough Bridge Authority, which it said could serve substantially as a regional authority for New York city.

The chairman of the commission, Republican Sen. William S. Hults Jr. of Port Washington, emphasized in a statement that the report had not yet been considered for approval. Hults invited comments on the plan, and asked that they be submitted to the commission by Jan. 21.

Under recommendations contained in the report:

1. Collection of tolls on existing toll highway, bridges and tunnels would be continued indefinitely.

2. The toll facilities would be turned over to five authorities, to be set up by regions—Niagara Frontier, St. Lawrence River, the Adirondacks, Hudson Valley and Long Island. The Triborough Authority would be considered as the sixth regional body.

3. The revenues from all the toll facilities within each region would be pooled to finance additional highways, bridges, parkways and tunnels for the region.

4. The thruway, and its future extensions and additions would be continued, as at present, under one statewide authority.

5. A 10-cent toll would be levied for use of the northern State Parkway on Long Island, and a 20-cent toll for full use of

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Plans for Christmas Eve Program Listed

Woodstock, Dec. 23 — The township is at work this week to make the Woodstock Community Christmas Eve program on the village green a memorable one.

The giant Christmas tree was set in place by members of the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club and the electrical connections made by Central Hudson. As usual the air of mystery pervades the village as to how and where Santa Claus will make his scheduled visit.

Ceremonies will begin at 4:50 with Christmas music from the chimes in the steeple of the Dutch Reformed Church and about the same time the Dickens Minstrels will assemble around the tree on the green. The members of Girl Scout Troop 74 will distribute programs, song sheets and candles.

Opening the service the Rev. John O'Reilly of St. Joan of Arc Roman Catholic Church will give the invocation to be followed by the welcome address by Walter Van Wagenen who will serve as master of ceremonies. A solo, Ave Maria by Abe Molyneaux will follow, before the Christmas Story is told by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd. Roland Heermance will sing The Old Rugged Cross, followed by the singing of carols by the massed choirs of the churches of Woodstock, which will be grouped before the Reformed Church. The entire choir will be directed by Roland Heermance. More carols will be sung by the assemblage and the choirs. After the benediction by the Rev. Olney E. Cook the rousing greeting, Santa Claus Is Coming to Town, will be taken up by all present and Santa will make his long awaited arrival. He will distribute gifts and candy to children.

Roger Baer of Kingston, will play the organ in front of the Reformed Church accompanying the massed choirs.

Parents of children who are ill at the time of the Christmas Eve program, are again reminded that Santa will pay a personal visit on Christmas morning, if a call is made to one of Santa's helpers at Woodstock 2939 any time before the celebration starts.

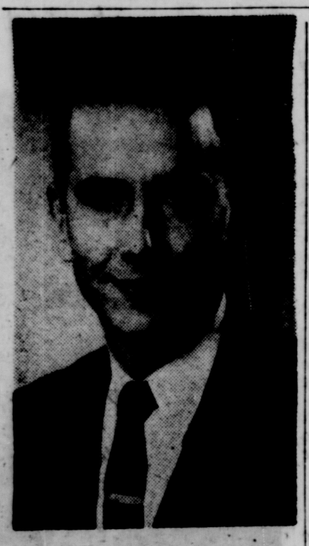

The following committees have been announced as judges of the window and home decorations in the township for the holidays: Woodstock — Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen, Mrs. Clayton Harder, Mrs. Edgar Bauman; Lake Hill and Willow—Clifford Carnright; Bearsville — Ivan Mallow; Wittenberg—Nelson Shultis; Zena—Montcena DeWitt.

Stony Clove Road Plans in Making

A reply to the Stony Clove Parents Committee, Lanesville, relative to the Notch Road, from the State Department of Public Works, reveals that plans are to be developed during the winter.

Chairman John Papp of the Lanesville committee told The Freeman the communication from Burton Hughes, deputy superintendent of the department in Albany said:

"I have discussed this matter (the Notch road) with District Engineer Newton Ronan on several occasions since our meeting July 12, and he assured me that his office will develop the plans for this section of Route 214 during the winter so that we will be in a position to advertise a contract when the new appropriations become available April 1."

The letter was in answer to one by Papp asking:

"Is there any progress being made on the Notch Road? Have the plans been drawn up and has the right of way been bought?"

No Cause Verdict In Ferraro Case

A verdict of no cause of action was returned Wednesday afternoon in the negligence action brought by James C. Ferraro of Glasco against Harold B. Moore and another to recover for injuries which he suffered when he fell from a truck while employed on the thruway. Ferraro claimed he was thrown from the truck when it started while he was engaged in unloading material.

Ferraro, employed by Lane Construction Company, had been assigned to a truck which was leased by that company. The question submitted to the jury under the charge of the court was whether the negligence, if any, was the responsibility of the truck operator or whether Ferraro was in the employ of Lane Construction Company and was under compensation insurance at the time. If the responsibility is not that of the truck owner, Ferraro comes under compensation. Frank Campochiaro appeared for plaintiff and Cashin and Ewig for defendants.

Jurors have been excused for the term with the thanks of the court.

The officer said Mrs. Sullivan told him, "I always win all the fights."

Their 2-year-old son was asleep in a nearby room.

Some didn't have many clothes on. I guess they were sleeping. And they were so cold from that icy water. It was terrible."

Sgt. Paul Middleton, 21, of Granger, Wash., was the first to swim to shore and summon help.

"I started flagging cars and the first four passed me up." Middleton said, "the fifth one stopped and rode me into a town to get help. Then I went back to the scene. I had records of all the soldiers but I wasn't going back to get them because the plane was sinking. I only felt sorry for those that couldn't make it because I know some of them couldn't swim."

The public information officer at Camp Kilmer said the plane was bound for Ft. Carson, Colo., Ft. Ord, in California, and Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Several hours after dawn a diver finally hooked a cable to the plane's cockpit and a crane lifted it to the surface. There was no one in the cockpit.

The plane was on the first leg of its trip. An operation officer said the flight was a Civil Air Movement, a service employed by the army to move troops.

He is the father of three boys and three girls. He joined the Farm Bureau, the Holstein-Friesian Assn. and the Grange. He served as a director of the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Assn., one of the large dairy organizations of the New York milkshed.

He took keen interest in politics and its effects on the farmer and chose the Democratic party.

Last month, Carey ran for Congress from New York's 36th District. He was defeated by the incumbent, John Taber of Auburn, a Republican.

But his efforts undoubtedly was a factor in his appointment as commissioner by Gov.-elect Averell Harriman. There was, in farm circles, some opposition to Carey. But Harriman had said, "I wanted a dirt farmer in my cabinet."

and resolving the French-German dispute over the Saar.

Anxious to rally as much support as possible, Mendes-France was believed certain to make any postponement vote a confidence issue, staking his government's life on its outcome.

Under Assembly rules, this would automatically put off the balloting for 24 hours.

The government was believed to have sufficient support to defeat a postponement motion and also to win the final ballot on ratification. But political observers were unanimous in predicting that the treaties will finally be approved by only a small majority. There were indications that many deputies would abstain.

New Jersey Man Held in Slaying

Clifton, N. J., Dec. 23 (AP)—A young factory worker today was held without bail on a first degree murder charge in the bludgeon and stabbing slaying of Mrs. Almira Force.

Authorities said 18-year-old John Heberling admitted killing Mrs. Force, a next door neighbor he had known all his life.

The youth stood quietly before Magistrate John Celantano at his brief arraignment while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Heberling, sobbed in the courtroom. He was ordered held for action of the Passaic county grand jury.

IN A STATEMENT, Heberling said he committed the crime after giving Mrs. Force a goodnight kiss, Passaic County Prosecutor Donald G. Collester said last night.

Heberling was quoted as saying he was afraid she might tell her husband about the kiss.

The stocky, blond youth—taken into custody yesterday at the Paterson Electric Company where he worked—underwent a two-hour lie detector test and then signed the statement. He was charged with the slaying.

COLLESTER SAID Heberling old of hitting Mrs. Force about the head with a pot and then stabbing her several times in the living room of her home the night of Dec. 16.

Four deaths were reported from Scotland's mountainous areas, two deaths were reported in England and one in north Germany.

Hurricane strength winds hit Frankfurt, Germany, shattering hundreds of window panes, lifting roofs off dozens of houses and blowing down trees and high tension wires. The U. S. army warned parents to keep their children off the streets.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Plans for Christmas Eve Program Listed

Woodstock, Dec. 23 — The township is at work this week to make the Woodstock Community Christmas Eve program on the village green a memorable one.

The giant Christmas tree was set in place by members of the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club and the electrical connections made by Central Hudson. As usual the air of mystery pervades the village as to how and where Santa Claus will make his scheduled visit.

Ceremonies will begin at 4:50 with Christmas music from the chimes in the steeple of the Dutch Reformed Church and about the same time the Dickens Minstrels will assemble around the tree on the green. The members of Girl Scout Troop 74 will distribute programs, song sheets and candles.

Opening the service the Rev. John O'Reilly of St. Joan of Arc Roman Catholic Church will give the invocation to be followed by the welcome address by Walter Van Wagenen who will serve as master of ceremonies. A solo, Ave Maria by Abe Molyneaux will follow, before the Christmas Story is told by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd. Roland Heermance will sing The Old Rugged Cross, followed by the singing of carols by the massed choirs of the churches of Woodstock, which will be grouped before the Reformed Church. The entire choir will be directed by Roland Heermance. More carols will be sung by the assemblage and the choirs. After the benediction by the Rev. Olney E. Cook the rousing greeting, Santa Claus Is Coming to Town, will be taken up by all present and Santa will make his long awaited arrival. He will distribute gifts and candy to children.

Roger Baer of Kingston, will play the organ in front of the Reformed Church accompanying the massed choirs.

Parents of children who are ill at the time of the Christmas Eve program, are again reminded that Santa will pay a personal visit on Christmas morning, if a call is made to one of Santa's helpers at Woodstock 2939 any time before the celebration starts.

The following committees have been announced as judges of the window and home decorations in the township for the holidays: Woodstock — Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen, Mrs. Clayton Harder, Mrs. Edgar Bauman; Lake Hill and Willow—Clifford Carnright; Bearsville — Ivan Mallow; Wittenberg—Nelson Shultis; Zena—Montcena DeWitt.

Chairman John Papp of the Lanesville committee told The Freeman the communication from Burton Hughes, deputy superintendent of the department in Albany said:

"I have discussed this matter (the Notch road) with District Engineer Newton Ronan on several occasions since our meeting July 12, and he assured me that his office will develop the plans for this section of Route 214 during the winter so that we will be in a position to advertise a contract when the new appropriations become available April 1."

The letter was in answer to one by Papp asking:

"Is there any progress being made on the Notch Road? Have the plans been drawn up and has the right of way been bought?"

No Cause Verdict In Ferraro Case

A verdict of no cause of action was returned Wednesday afternoon in the negligence action brought by James C. Ferraro of Glasco against Harold B. Moore and another to recover for injuries which he suffered when he fell from a truck while employed on the thruway. Ferraro claimed he was thrown from the truck when it started while he was engaged in unloading material.

Ferraro, employed by Lane Construction Company, had been assigned to a truck which was leased by that company. The question submitted to the jury under the charge of the court was whether the negligence, if any, was the responsibility of the truck operator or whether Ferraro was in the employ of Lane Construction Company and was under compensation insurance at the time. If the responsibility is not that of the truck owner, Ferraro comes under compensation. Frank Campochiaro appeared for plaintiff and Cashin and Ewig for defendants.

Jurors have been excused for the term with the thanks of the court.

at Cornell and was graduated in 1918.

He is the father of three boys and three girls. He joined the Farm Bureau, the Holstein-Friesian Assn. and the Grange. He served as a director of the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Assn., one of the large dairy organizations of the New York milkshed.

He took keen interest in politics and its effects on the farmer and chose the Democratic party.

Last month, Carey ran for Congress from New York's 36th District. He was defeated by the incumbent, John Taber of Auburn, a Republican.

But his efforts undoubtedly was a factor in his appointment as commissioner by Gov.-elect Averell Harriman. There was, in farm circles, some opposition to Carey. But Harriman had said, "I wanted a dirt farmer in my cabinet."

and resolving the French-German dispute over the Saar.

Anxious to rally as much support as possible, Mendes-France was believed certain to make any postponement vote a confidence issue, staking his government's life on its outcome.

Under Assembly rules, this would automatically put off the balloting for 24 hours.

The government was believed to have sufficient support to defeat a postponement motion and also to win the final ballot on ratification. But political observers were unanimous in predicting that the treaties will finally be approved by only a small majority. There were indications that many deputies would abstain.

New Jersey Man Held in Slaying

Clifton, N. J., Dec. 23 (AP)—A young factory worker today was held without bail on a first degree murder charge in the bludgeon and stabbing slaying of Mrs. Almira Force.

Authorities said 18-year-old John Heberling admitted killing Mrs. Force, a next door neighbor he had known all his life.

The youth stood quietly before Magistrate John Celantano at his brief arraignment while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Heberling, sobbed in the courtroom. He was ordered held for action of the Passaic county grand jury.

IN A STATEMENT, Heberling said he committed the crime after giving Mrs. Force a goodnight kiss, Passaic County Prosecutor Donald G. Collester said last night.

Heberling was quoted as saying he was afraid she might tell her husband about the kiss.

The stocky, blond youth—taken into custody yesterday at the Paterson Electric Company where he worked—underwent a two-hour lie detector test and then signed the statement. He was charged with the slaying.

COLLESTER SAID Heberling old of hitting Mrs. Force about the head with a pot and then stabbing her several times in the living room of her home the night of Dec. 16.

launch lifeboats in the mountainous seas.

Four deaths were reported from Scotland's mountainous areas, two deaths were reported in England and one in north Germany.

Hurricane strength winds hit Frankfurt, Germany, shattering hundreds of window panes, lifting roofs off dozens of houses and blowing down trees and high tension wires. The U. S. army warned parents to keep their children off the streets.

ONE HUNDRED FEET of tile roofing were ripped off an American elementary school in Frankfurt but no one was injured. The roof of a big apartment building in the U. S. high commission housing development was also blown off.

The sea plunged over dikes at Oostende, Belgium, and swept into the streets of the city, flooding cellars.

Despite the weather, however, Britons thronged railway stations and bus terminals in the annual Christmas rush out of London.

Plans for Christmas Eve Program Listed

Woodstock, Dec. 23 — The township is at work this week to make the Woodstock Community Christmas Eve program on the village green a memorable one.

The giant Christmas tree was set in place by members of the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club and the electrical connections made by Central Hudson. As usual the air of mystery pervades the village as to how and where Santa Claus will make his scheduled visit.

Ceremonies will begin at 4:50 with Christmas music from the chimes in the steeple of the Dutch Reformed Church and about the same time the Dickens Minstrels will assemble around the tree on the green. The members of Girl Scout Troop 74 will distribute programs, song sheets and candles.

Opening the service the Rev. John O'Reilly of St. Joan of Arc Roman Catholic Church will give the invocation to be followed by the welcome address by Walter Van Wagenen who will serve as master of ceremonies. A solo, Ave Maria by Abe Molyneaux will follow, before the Christmas Story is told by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd. Roland Heermance will sing The Old Rugged Cross, followed by the singing of carols by the massed choirs of the churches of Woodstock, which will be grouped before the Reformed Church. The entire choir will be directed by Roland Heermance. More carols will be sung by the assemblage and the choirs. After the benediction by the Rev. Olney E. Cook the rousing greeting, Santa Claus Is Coming to Town, will be taken up by all present and Santa will make his long awaited arrival. He will distribute gifts and candy to children.

Roger Baer of Kingston, will play the organ in front of the Reformed Church accompanying the massed choirs.

Parents of children who are ill at the time of the Christmas Eve program, are again reminded that Santa will pay a personal visit on Christmas morning, if a call is made to one of Santa's helpers at Woodstock 2939 any time before the celebration starts.

The following committees have been announced as judges of the window and home decorations in the township for the holidays: Woodstock — Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen, Mrs. Clayton Harder, Mrs. Edgar Bauman; Lake Hill and Willow—Clifford Carnright; Bearsville — Ivan Mallow; Wittenberg—Nelson Shultis; Zena—Montcena DeWitt.

A reply to the Stony Clove Parents Committee, Lanesville, relative to the Notch Road, from the State Department of Public Works, reveals that plans are to be developed during the winter.

Chairman John Papp of the Lanesville committee told The Freeman the communication from Burton Hughes, deputy superintendent of the department in Albany said:

"I have discussed this matter (the Notch road) with District Engineer Newton Ronan on several occasions since our meeting July 12, and he assured me that his office will develop the plans for this section of Route 214 during the winter so that we will be in a position to advertise a contract when the new appropriations become available April 1."

The letter was in answer to one by Papp asking:

"Is there any progress being made on the Notch Road? Have the plans been drawn up and has the right of way been bought?"

No Cause Verdict In Ferraro Case

A verdict of no cause of action was returned Wednesday afternoon in the negligence action brought by James C. Ferraro of Glasco against Harold B. Moore and another to recover for injuries which he suffered when he fell from a truck while employed on the thruway. Ferraro claimed he was thrown from the truck when it started while he was engaged in unloading material.

Ferraro, employed by Lane Construction Company, had been assigned to a truck which was leased by that company. The question submitted to the jury under the charge of the court was whether the negligence, if any, was the responsibility of the truck operator or whether Ferraro was in the employ of Lane Construction Company and was under compensation insurance at the time. If the responsibility is not that of the truck owner, Ferraro comes under compensation. Frank Campochiaro appeared for plaintiff and Cashin and Ewig for defendants.

Jurors have been excused for the term with the thanks of the court.

Some didn't have many clothes on. I guess they were sleeping. And they were so cold from that icy water. It was terrible."

Sgt. Paul Middleton, 21, of Granger, Wash., was the first to swim to shore and summon help.

"I started flagging cars and the first four passed me up." Middleton said, "the fifth one stopped and rode me into a town to get help. Then I went back to the scene. I had records of all the soldiers but I wasn't going back to get them because the plane was sinking. I only felt sorry for those that couldn't make it because I know some of them couldn't swim."

The public information officer at Camp Kilmer said the plane was bound for Ft. Carson, Colo., Ft. Ord, in California, and Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Several hours after dawn a diver finally hooked a cable to the plane's cockpit and a crane lifted it to the surface. There was no one in the cockpit.

The plane was on the first leg of its trip. An operation officer said the flight was a Civil Air Movement, a service employed by the army to move troops.

He is the father of three boys and three girls. He joined the Farm Bureau, the Holstein-Friesian Assn. and the Grange. He served as a director of the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Assn., one of the large dairy organizations of the New York milkshed.

He took keen interest in politics and its effects on the farmer and chose the Democratic party.

Last month, Carey ran for Congress from New York's 36th District. He was defeated by the incumbent, John Taber of Auburn, a Republican.

But his efforts undoubtedly was a factor in his appointment as commissioner by Gov.-elect Averell Harriman. There was, in farm circles, some opposition to Carey. But Harriman had said, "I wanted a dirt farmer in my cabinet."

Anxious to rally as much support as possible, Mendes-France was believed certain to make any postponement vote a confidence issue, staking his government's life on its outcome.

Under Assembly rules, this would automatically put off the balloting for 24 hours.

The government was believed to have sufficient support to defeat a postponement motion and also to win the final ballot on ratification. But political observers were unanimous in predicting that the treaties will finally be approved by only a small majority. There were indications that many deputies would abstain.

New Jersey Man Held in Slaying

Clifton, N. J., Dec. 23 (AP)—A young factory worker today was held without bail on a first degree murder charge in the bludgeon and stabbing slaying of Mrs. Almira Force.

Authorities said 18-year-old John Heberling admitted killing Mrs. Force, a next door neighbor he had known all his life.

The youth stood quietly before Magistrate John Celantano at his brief arraignment while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Heberling, sobbed in the courtroom. He was ordered held for action of the Passaic county grand jury.

IN A STATEMENT, Heberling said he committed the crime after giving Mrs. Force a goodnight kiss, Passaic County Prosecutor Donald G. Collester said last night.

Heberling was quoted as saying he was afraid she might tell her husband about the kiss.

The stocky, blond youth—taken into custody yesterday at the Paterson Electric Company where he worked—underwent a two-hour lie detector test and then signed the statement. He was charged with the slaying.

COLLESTER SAID Heberling old of hitting Mrs. Force about the head with a pot and then stabbing her several times in the living room of her home the night of Dec. 16.

Four deaths were reported from Scotland's mountainous areas, two deaths were reported in England and one in north Germany.

Hurricane strength winds hit Frankfurt, Germany, shattering hundreds of window panes, lifting roofs off dozens of houses and blowing down trees and high tension wires. The U. S. army warned parents to keep their children off the streets.

ONE HUNDRED FEET of tile roofing were ripped off an American elementary school in Frankfurt but no one was injured. The roof of a big apartment building in the U. S. high commission housing development was also blown off.

The sea plunged over dikes at Oostende, Belgium, and swept into the streets of the city, flooding cellars.

Heavy snowfalls, continuing after 30 hours in the northern Italian Alps, impeded traffic. The snow closed some mountain passes in Te Dolomites.

Alexandria, Va., Dec. 23 (AP)—Joseph S. U. S. Industry Reports Business Profits Brighten

New York, Dec. 23 (AP)—Better business in the closing months of this year is brightening the profit reports of American industry—as well as inspiring the bulls in Wall Street.

Early returns on earnings show about one half of the industrial firms doing as well as or better than in prosperous 1953, when sales were higher—but so were taxes.

Utility companies so far this year have outpaced 1953 earnings by around 10 per cent.

Railroads, early in the year, were trailing their 1953 income figures by almost 50 per cent. But increased freight haulage in recent weeks has pulled earnings upgrade. And now it is estimated that for all 1954 total rail earnings will come to 580 million dollars, a much more cheerful prospect than earlier supposed, even if it will still be one third under 1953, their boom year.

EARLY INDICATIONS are that the last three months of this year will be 1954's best net income period, especially cheering as it is being compared with the fourth quarter of 1953 when earnings were dropping 20 per cent behind the preceding period.

The first 64 industrials and utilities to report for 12-month periods ending before the calendar year expires show 33 of the utilities and 12 of the industrials with higher net profit after taxes than a year ago. Combined the 64 have net income of $372,992,388, a 3.2 per cent gain over the $361,336,479 they earned the year before.

The 38 utilities, however, overweigh the 26 industrials, who are too few to be more than just an indication of profit trends in general.

The better showing of the utilities can be traced to their continuing growth in output and customers, and to the increased use by householders of electric powered gadgets.

UTILITY EARNING rates tend to vary much less than industrials, since the power companies are governmentally regulated. Increased sale of power to more customers often is translated into a corresponding hike in total profits. Best profit gains among the utility companies this year have been in regions where population growth is the most pronounced.

Among the industrial firms showing the biggest increase this year over last are makers of aircraft, special steel products, and some appliances. Others doing better this year include makers of chemicals, shoes and paper.

Numbered among industrials who have had a specially hard time this year compared with last are meat packers, food processors, textile mills. Others on the down side include some in the retail and mining fields.

TO STOCK TRADERS ONE of the most notable things about 1954 has been the remarkable stability of corporate earnings while industrial output was down.

In many cases this was due to lower taxes this year, which kept after-tax net up even when gross earnings were sagging. Another factor has been the stability of prices, which didn't fall with industrial output as so often in the past. Still a third factor has been the paring of operating costs and the increase of output per man hour.

This earnings stability — plus the rise this year in the total of cash dividend payments—has helped stimulate the bull market. There is widespread belief that the earnings outlook for the early part of next year is good—even though there's small likelihood of further tax cuts to aid net income totals.

"It's a Real Timesaver"

says Edith Ramsay of The American Home

Edith Ramsay, Home Equipment Editor of The American Home

"There's a really quick way to find out where to buy any of the products you've seen advertised or featured editorially in the magazines you read," says Edith Ramsay. "It's your Classified Telephone Directory. All you have to do is open the Yellow Pages to the proper heading—maybe it's 'Dishwashing Machines.' Then look under the Trade Mark listing of the brand you want and you'll find the name, address and phone number of a nearby dealer. It's that quick and easy.

"The Yellow Pages save loads of time when you want other things for the house, too. Refrigerators and food freezers—for purchase or repair—furniture dealers, carpet and rug cleaners—everything from A to Z is listed for your convenience. And the nicest thing about this handy shopping guide is that you already have it in your own home. So try it the next time you want to know who sells it, who services it, or who can do anything you want done. You'll find the Yellow Pages of the Classified phone book are your number-one timesaver."

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Yule Musical Is Slated Next Week As Benefit Show

Woodstock, Dec. 23 — Judy Lund, author of the story of the Christmas musical play, Full of Wonder, with music, and directed by Alexander Semmler, to be presented Dec. 29 at the Woodstock School, at 8:15 p. m., is busy at her studio building and designing the sets for the play. Constructing, with the proverbial 'shoe string' limitations, has had its problems but she reports that everything is working out nicely for the production to be given for the benefit of the Woodstock Recreation Center.

Miss Lund has had the expert help also of Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, one time director of the Lennox Hill Players, and artist Mrs. Milton Wagenfohr for advice and suggestions. Mrs. Wagenfohr has undertaken the difficult job of lettering which is required in the sets and doing a beautiful job of it.

Joya Webster is working with Miss Lund while her sister Marileen Webster is helping Alexander Semmler. Betsy Wagenfohr is assisting with the staging and handling of the lights. Both Miss Lund and Semmler report that it would be difficult to find a more talented and willing group of workers than those now engaged with the show.

Announcement has been made that Houston Richards is consulting with Semmler and Miss Lund on the dramatic interpretation and presentation of the play.

Semmler has the direction of the entire production.

Members of the Woodstock Choral Group are participating in the production, some of them to be heard in the Christmas play while others will appear in the second portion of the program when three new Christmas songs by Semmler will be presented. Mrs. Frances Stein, secretary of the chorus of which Mrs. Bernice Schlemowitz is director, has announced that the following will be heard:

Altos—Barbara Moncure, Sylvia Dordick, Maxine Taylor, Rosemarie Villshur; sopranos—Alice Dunbar, Helen Ann Robbins, Dorothy Wilson, Sylvia Cross, Ilse Stern, Elise Twine, Charlotte Jacobsen, Miss Van Etten; tenors—Roy Barth, Abby Stein, Louis Kricker, Gordon Taylor, Edgar Villshur; basses—Bill Wingate, Wallace Klitgaard, Ronald Glass, Eugene La Casse, David Donaldson, Herbert Lent, Daniel Revan and Louis Tolka.

The following singers who are studying with Stern in Kingston also will lend their voices to the play: Mary Lapo, Donna Riseley, Nancy Eckhardt, Currie Freer and Homer Foster.

Students of Miss Mary Harris at the Woodstock School who will also be included in the chorus are: Louis Berryan, Frida Sandner, Sheila Russell, Diana Boggs, Debby Leshen and Barry Wilber.

Yule Musical Is Slated Next Week As Benefit Show

Woodstock, Dec. 23 — Judy Lund, author of the story of the Christmas musical play, Full of Wonder, with music, and directed by Alexander Semmler, to be presented Dec. 29 at the Woodstock School, at 8:15 p. m., is busy at her studio building and designing the sets for the play. Constructing, with the proverbial 'shoe string' limitations, has had its problems but she reports that everything is working out nicely for the production to be given for the benefit of the Woodstock Recreation Center.

Miss Lund has had the expert help also of Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, one time director of the Lennox Hill Players, and artist Mrs. Milton Wagenfohr for advice and suggestions. Mrs. Wagenfohr has undertaken the difficult job of lettering which is required in the sets and doing a beautiful job of it.

Joya Webster is working with Miss Lund while her sister Marileen Webster is helping Alexander Semmler. Betsy Wagenfohr is assisting with the staging and handling of the lights. Announcement has been made that Houston Richards is consulting with Semmler and Miss Lund on the dramatic interpretation and presentation of the play.

Police said the two men then ransacked the apartment and made off with three rings, a mink stole and some cash, at an estimated total value of over $2,000.

U. S. Industry Reports Business Profits Brighten

New York, Dec. 23 (AP)—Better business in the closing months of this year is brightening the profit reports of American industry—as well as inspiring the bulls in Wall Street.

Early returns on earnings show about one half of the industrial firms doing as well as or better than in prosperous 1953, when sales were higher—but so were taxes.

Utility companies so far this year have outpaced 1953 earnings by around 10 per cent.

Railroads, early in the year, were trailing their 1953 income figures by almost 50 per cent. But increased freight haulage in recent weeks has pulled earnings upgrade. And now it is estimated that for all 1954 total rail earnings will come to 580 million dollars, a much more cheerful prospect than earlier supposed, even if it will still be one third under 1953, their boom year.

EARLY INDICATIONS are that the last three months of this year will be 1954's best net income period, especially cheering as it is being compared with the fourth quarter of 1953 when earnings were dropping 20 per cent behind the preceding period.

The first 64 industrials and utilities to report for 12-month periods ending before the calendar year expires show 33 of the utilities and 12 of the industrials with higher net profit after taxes than a year ago. Combined the 64 have net income of $372,992,388, a 3.2 per cent gain over the $361,336,479 they earned the year before.

The 38 utilities, however, overweigh the 26 industrials, who are too few to be more than just an indication of profit trends in general.

The better showing of the utilities can be traced to their continuing growth in output and customers, and to the increased use by householders of electric powered gadgets.

UTILITY EARNING rates tend to vary much less than industrials, since the power companies are governmentally regulated. Increased sale of power to more customers often is translated into a corresponding hike in total profits. Best profit gains among the utility companies this year have been in regions where population growth is the most pronounced.

Among the industrial firms showing the biggest increase this year over last are makers of aircraft, special steel products, and some appliances. Others doing better this year include makers of chemicals, shoes and paper.

Numbered among industrials who have had a specially hard time this year compared with last are meat packers, food processors, textile mills. Others on the down side include some in the retail and mining fields.

TO STOCK TRADERS ONE of the most notable things about 1954 has been the remarkable stability of corporate earnings while industrial output was down.

In many cases this was due to lower taxes this year, which kept after-tax net up even when gross earnings were sagging. Another factor has been the stability of prices, which didn't fall with industrial output as so often in the past. Still a third factor has been the paring of operating costs and the increase of output per man hour.

This earnings stability—plus the rise this year in the total of cash dividend payments—has helped stimulate the bull market. There is widespread belief that the earnings outlook for the early part of next year is good—even though there's small likelihood of further tax cuts to aid net income totals.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Josef Gadflyski, over in Russia, was agin the pro-Americanovitches and all free enterprizeskia. His motto was "God and religion — the opiate of the people." Not that he was against opiates. He used them on the subversives.

Mr. Hutton

Gadflyski was able to devote all this time to exposing the traitors. The official Daily Workavich wrote daily editorials in his support. All committees of the legislature were told to lay off Josef —which they did.

A secret cell of pro-Americanovitches once got out a dirty sheet with a big headline "Josef must go-off." That happened only once. OGPU took charge of them. But there was always the chance that the underground would try again. That this did not happen was the job of Commissar Gadflyski. He kept a sharp eye on the anti-anti-Americanovitches.

At Moscow a big dinner was held in Josef's honor. Loyal Communists poured in from as far off as Dneprodzherzinsk and Ordzhonikidze. Vodka and "Pravda" flowed freely. The immense assembly was thrown into wild gusts of frenzy when all members of the Poilt-Bureau marched in, headed by Malenkov, himself, who offered the chief toast of the evening.

"Comrades, we, who invented the electric light, the radio, the law of gravity, the North Pole and the horse rake, honor ourselves by presenting Commissar Josef Gadflyski, for his valiant services. with the Order of the Supreme Bigovitch. A patriot must not be without honor in his own country!"

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

When you buy and use your Christmas Seals this year, it would be well to remember that 1954 marks the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Tuberculosis Association of America. This educational agency, financed almost entirely through the sale of Christmas Seals, has contrbuted immeasurably toward elimination of the scourge of tuberculosis. Americans have every reason to be grateful to it.

Unfortunately, however, the fight against tuberculosis is not yet won. The death-rate from it has been reduced dramatically during the past 50 years. But the number of new cases of active tuberculosis uncovered remains almost the same today as it was 50 years ago. Through the chest X-ray program developed by the Association, new cases are discovered early enough so that they can be treated successfully and can be isolated before the disease is spread.

The Tuberculosis Association merits a salute for its work thus far. But its efforts need continued support if the victory over tuberculosis is to be achieved.

The difference between persistence and insistence can easily be the margin between friendship won or lost.

SAFE WINTER DRIVING

The National Safety Council recommends the following rules for safe winter driving!

Accept your responsibility to do all in your power to drive without accident. Don't blame the weatherman for an accident. Be prepared and meet the situation.

Get the "feel" of the road. Try brakes occasionally while driving slowly and away from traffic. Adjust your speed to road and weather conditions. Remember you can't stop on an icy dime.

Keep the windshield clear of snow and ice. Be sure headlights, windshield wiper and defrosters are in top condition. You have to see the danger to avoid it.

Use tire chains and good tires. Don't rely on worn-smooth tires.

Pump your brakes to slow down or stop. Jamming them on can lock the wheels and thrown you into a dangerous skid.

Follow at a safe distance. Keep well back of the vehicles ahead and give yourself room to stop.

FIFTY YEAR PROGRAM

President Eisenhower demonstrated wisdom and vision recently when he said that the necessity for bearing the tax load required for adequate defense of the nation may continue for the next fifty years.

It is the hope of the President and of all thoughtful Americans that the need will end long before that time. But it is essential to the national safety that we follow a policy of preparedness, that we consider not only what step will be wise for next year but what will be practical for a long-range point of view.

Military strength and constant readiness to defend ourselves seem the surest way to prevent being attacked. Aggressors sometimes miscalculate the strength of the people they attack. But they seldom intentionally launch an aggression unless they are reasonably sure of success.

Defense costs money. It would be pleasant if the money we now spend on our army, navy, air force, on planes and weapons could be spent for other things that are needed. But if we should allow ourselves to grow weak and fall prey to an aggressor the money we saved would do us no good.

Most Americans want to pay as little of their incomes in taxes as possible. But no thinking American wants a second-class defense effort, however attractive the price of such an inadequate program might seem at first glance.

A fellow we know says that if Santa Claus wants to go around taking all those bows he can just return a month after Christmas and sign the checks to pay for the stuff he gave away.

Some people, we fear, learn from experience that they have learned nothing from experience.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC

Away from Washington and New York, the nature of our Federal Republic stands out more clearly because one is in what may be defined as the States. In a city such as New York is, the State of New York is a secondary governmental organ. London and Rome are neighbors and Israel is an immediate problem. In California, the State is the center of significance and New York and Washington are remote places inhabited by predatory people. In Texas and other States, I encountered the same attitude.

The Tenth Amendment to the Constitution is generally forgotter. in these days of emphasis on the First and Fifth Amendments, but the theory which made the Tenth so important in the early years of the Republic persists in the continuing localisms. Americans, generally, are more concerned with problems of roads, water supply, garbage removal, smog and the upkeep of prisons and State hospitals than in the Paris Treaty or the supply of military aid to France, except as war may devastate beautiful cities or kill beloved sons.

The Tenth Amendment to the Constitution, for those who do not recall it, reads:

"The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

During the early days of the New Deal, there was some idle talk of abolishing the States altogether and revising the geographic and political organization of the country into more rational regions or provinces. Such concepts have been lost in the gossip of those days. The enormous Federal grants to States for roads, education, welfare, agriculture, etc., it was feared, would, in time, lessen the authority of State governments. This has not come to pass. If anything, localism has increased and Senators and Governors are regarded favorably who squeeze most out of the Federal sponge without any regard to the national interest.

Here in California, I find a pride in Vice President Nixon and Senator William Knowland not for what they do or say but because they are Californians who have gone East and made good. There is still a memory of Hiram Johnson because he did likewise, although there are some who attribute to his stubbornness the election of Woodrow Wilson which was not, to them, an unmitigated blessing.

Senator Knowland is being painted by the Left Wingers as a war-monger, but there are others who are proud of him for having stood up for his country's dignity when others were silent or frightened into peace at any price. The fact that Knowland's protest against complacency had to be considered and forced a conference of great minds in the White House has not passed without some pride in the accomplishments of a local boy who made good in distant places.

My colleague, Westbrook Pegler, often complains about news coverage and has become somewhat of a scourge against those of our profession who editorialize in the news columns. For his side of the case this must be said that the news coverage grows increasingly local as one moves farther away from New York and Washington. This is not limited to the newspapers. Radio newscasts tell more of what happens hereabouts than about what happens beyond the blue horizon. The localisms are reflected in the interest of the people.

The testimony concerning a large number of fairly prominent physicians and dentists, some of them important specialists, who are accused of banding together for Communist activities, fills columns of type in Los Angeles. In New York, we have become accustomed to this deviation in our body politic and tend to ask, "What! Another one of those?"

I could not help wondering, while I stood at the far-famed corner of Hollywood and Vine, where all the news is made to fill the gossip columns about glamorous Hollywood. I stood on that corner and nothing there equals the interest and excitement of 100 corners I can mention in New York. It is just a business street with an excessive amount of automobile traffic. There were no wolves, no starlets, no prowling automobiles, no fist fights. It was a quiet corner such as one might find in Great Barrington, Massachusetts, in the Spring. The movie colony really makes little news, but the press agents do well in evoking national interest in a local situation.

Gout is one of the oldest diseases. It attacks mostly males and the attacks appear suddenly, as a rule, usually affecting the large toe in the first attack. There is quite often a family history of gout and it has been called a hereditary disease. The pain, as anyone who has had an attack is well aware, is often excruciating but will respond quite readily to adequate doses of the drug colchicine. It is interesting that the use of colchicine for the special relief of gout is thought to have been known as early as 1500 B.C. Gout usually occurs for the first time after 35 years of age.

During the first acute stage of an attack of gout the patient should be at complete bed rest with the affected part elevated and protected from the bedclothes. Colchicine, 1/120 gram or .5 mg. is given by mouth every hour until the pain is relieved unless other symptoms such as nausea, vomiting and diarrhoea appear. Usually 8 to 10 doses during the first 24 hours are sufficient to relieve the attack. A diet of milk, fruit juices, eggs and cereals, with a high amount of liquid is advisable.

However, the patient with gout should receive treatment between his attacks because such treatment has been found to both lessen the number of attacks and to make less severe the attacks when they do occur. Some suggestions for this between-attack treatment in gout include simplicity and moderation in eating, Benemid, one gram per day, avoidance of alcohol and sudden chilling of the body, a moderate amount of exercise, avoidance of overwork and mental and physical fatigue, yearly vacations if possible.

Some special diet instructions are: (1) Avoid liver, sweetbreads, brains, kidneys, sardines, anchovies, meat broths and gravies. (2) Serve cheese and eggs as substitutes for meat and use one or two pints of milk in order to make up the protein requirements. (3) Cut down on vegetables such as beans, peas, lentils and spinach. (4) Fruits of all kinds—canned, fresh or dried—may be eaten as well as cereals of all kinds.

We should remember that gout is a chronic disease which is not cured just because the painful attack has died down; treatment should be continued throughout life in order to prevent or lessen the recurrence of the symptoms and in order to help avoid chronic gouty arthritis and other complications. The outlook is poorest in those whose symptoms appear early in life and best in those whose symptoms come on late in life.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Despite a lot of talk of "clean campaigns," politics is right back where it usually is — on the roughhouse road. And the 1956 presidential campaign has already opened—a year early—without avowed candidates for either major party.

These facts were made evident on the first day that Paul M. Butler of Indiana, new Democratic National Committee chairman, stuck his feet under the desk he'll take over officially next Jan. 1.

He called a press conference to let everybody know he was around. He began it by saying to one reporter that things would be more interesting if "Lily Christine" were there. He seemed to miss her, but would get along without her. This was significant.

Lily Christine—for the benefit of those who don't get around—is "The Cat Girl," a striptease artiste. She provided relaxation for some of the delegates at a recent Democratic meeting.

This little touch of free publicity should be worth quite a lot to Lily Christine.

CHAIRMAN BUTLER said later on that the Democrats had lost their star attraction for the $100-a-plate dinners that had finally put them $21,000 in the black. The reference here was to Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic standard bearer in 1952 and still head of the party, according to Mr. Butler.

Governor Stevenson has now expressed a desire to retire from the political spotlight for a time and practice law to raise a little money for his own use, instead of raising it for the Democratic cause.

Butler indicated that he had other star attractions, though he didn't name them. Maybe Lily Christine.

The chairman said he wasn't going to be so much interested in these $100-a-head affairs. What he was after was more $1, $5 and $10 contributions from more little people. This revives an idea that Beardsley Ruml had in 1952. Brought forward late in the campaign, it didn't work too well.

BUTLER'S FIRST official statement indicated he would have a "gloves off" approach in dealing with President Eisenhower.

His statement was not clothed in polite language. It gave President Eisenhower the "old Harry" for alleged failures to unite the Republican party and the country. It indicated that the Democratic chairman would continue to expose the alleged failures of the President—without making any personal attacks upon him.

Well, that served to raise the curtain on the 1956 campaign, along with Sen. Joe McCarthy's repudiation of his prior support for President Eisenhower. Neither event indicates that the New Year will be filled with either sweetness or light. It will be politics as usual, or worse.

LAST SEPTEMBER Republican National Committee Chairman Leonard Hall and Democratic National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell signed a code in which they pledged a decent, honest and fair campaign.

The next day Chairman Mitchell broke out in a joint television debate with Chairman Hall, in which the Democratic chieftain accused Vice President Richard M. Nixon of "an outright lie" in saying that the Republican administration had "kicked the Communists out of government by the thousands."

Chairman Hall immediately rushed to the defense of Mr. Nixon, demanded that Mitchell apologize or else publicly repudiate his fair play pledge.

Nixon never retracted his statement, and Mitchell never apologized.

That was the end of the noble intention to wage a decent campaign. And that's about as long as you can expect politics to stay cleaned up, ever.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 23 — What happens when the Defense Department clamps down an "iron curtain" and refuses to tell the public that an Air Force colonel has compromised himself with a Soviet spy?

Do the American people accept this as a proper attitude by an executive department, or does it become the duty of a Congressional investigating committee to find out who is covering up and why?

THESE QUESTIONS, strangely enough, are like those which were asked and never answered last summer concerning the promotion given Major Peress, the Army dentist accused of being a Communist. At the time the prevalent thought of so many spokesmen of the "Left wing" was that it was none of the public's business and that, if the Defense Department chose to suppress the facts about who promoted Peress, then it was impertinent for Congress to inquire about it.

Today the news dispatches from Berlin tell of the confession by a German woman that she gave secrets to the Soviets and that she was an intimate of an Air Force colonel and a civilian official of the American government. Efforts of the newspaper men there to find out the facts about the scandal have been met with some form of censorship. That's natural. Bureaucrats always will cover up wrongdoing if they can get away with it.

But in this instance it is stated boldly that the trial was held and conviction obtained with a procedure that deliberately avoided mention of the names of the Americans involved.

WHAT IS MOST important is not the names of these misguided individuals, but how the security system of the United States Air Force and of the American government's civilian authorities was so readily penetrated at an important outpost of American armed forces in Europe.

Anybody who knows the simplest facts about espionage knows that women are used to tempt officers to give away secrets. Any one would know that, once the woman in question was employed by the American government in Berlin and something irregular was found about her curious interest in searching the office files, it would be of the utmost importance to check into such a situation forthwith.

But it turns out that, when this episode occurred, somebody covered up and prevented the dismissal of the spy. This is an inexcusable laxity.

IN WASHINGTON, in another instance, something worse has happened. Joseph Petersen has pleaded guilty of having in his possession highly secret documents belonging to the National Security Agency, where he was employed. Their unauthorized transmission to another government occurred. Something went wrong with the security system in the most "hush-hush" agency in the government. The public hasn't been told who was to blame for this breakdown.

It is the business of the Congress to check up on the efficiency of the executive agencies, with particular reference to security. Lately a move has been getting considerable support from the "Left-wing" element to cut out Congressional investigations of any confidential matters going on in the executive departments. It is argued that the right of Congressional investigation is a limited one. The courts, however, have never placed any limitation on the right of Congressional committees to ask questions, though there have been decisions upholding the right of individuals to refuse to testify if by so doing they may incriminate themselves.

THE RUMPUS last summer about "classified information" being improperly given to members of Congress has served only to befog the real issue, which is that, if Congressional committees are to be prevented from investigating what is happening in the executive departments and agencies, the easiest way to accomplish concealment is to "classify" or mark the information "secret." Then the coverup is complete.

The attempt to hide the facts about the scandal in Berlin and rumors that the officers involved are not even to be court-martialed will surely arouse the interest of the committees of Congress concerned with governmental operations.

MUCH HAS BEEN heard of how the FBI can do all that's necessary to assure security. Yet most people don't know that the FBI has no jurisdiction whatsoever over any American personnel abroad and has no right to investigate anything that happens inside the military services either in this country or overseas.

There are several agencies charged with security and none has the background or experience that the FBI has. With such a slipshod setup, it is natural that Congress should be vigilant. The importance of a checking operation by investigating committees of Congress has proved necessary again and again. That's why the Communists, through "The Daily Worker," have for many years persistently fought to hamstring, if not abolish, Congressional investigations and will continue to do so in the future.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

About four o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday, March 25, 1911, a flash came over the wire in the Chicago Bureau in the Hunter building, a cloak-and-suit center at Madison and Market which was infested with cockroaches the size of fox terriers, although that observation is just atmospheric, not pertinent. I was in my freshman year in the profession of journalism, the bureau manager was Ed Conkle, a Methodist minister's son, with portly tendencies, a heart of gold, an uncompromising bigotry against all alcoholic beverages except pebbleford whiskey and an affection of grouchiness. The UP ran a night wire only one night a week, Saturday night. The interval between three and six, central time, usually was devoted to sport stuff moving from east to west, which is still the prevaling direction of most news.

The flash on a press association wire is actually an alarm to all concerned to get ready to handle a big, hot story.

This flash said there was a fire in a factory in New York. Probably there would be many dead.

A bulletin came along in a few seconds and then a bulletin-lead, which is a slightly more comprehensive bulletin. Thereafter, our account became a running story. It was a beautiful job. It went on and on, a terrible heart-rendering story of the death of 145 poor needleworkers employed in the Triangle Shirtwaist Factory on Washington place, near Washington Square. There had been some pilfering of materials so someone had locked a metal door leading to the stairs. Now fire had broken out, fed by cleaning fluid, and the people had their choice of burning or jumping ten stories.

William Gunn Shepherd, our star reporter, who probably got as much as $60 a week, happened to be just there at the moment. He stepped into a garage, phoned the UP office in the World building and caught Roy Howard, the president of the outfit who was messing with some sport copy.

He said, "Roy, I am at Washington Square and there is a hell of a fire in a loft building and a lot of people are on the window sills and I think some of them are going to jump. Oh my God! There goes one. Boom. Did you hear that? There goes another. God almighty, Roy—Three! Four! Five! Six!"

Howard said: "Bill, are you sober?"

"Of course I am sober. Nine! Ten! This is horrible! There is a fellow with a girl in his arms. They just kissed each other. I am afraid they are going to jump. There they go!"

For nearly an hour Bill stood at this phone dictating a running eye-witness account of a disaster which later caused the adoption of many laws to protect employes in factories. We, in Chicago, in a littered, gritty little office, were fascinated with horror. There was nothing for us to do but keep shoving the copy to the three Morse operators, Roscoe Johnson, Claude Irons and Silvertop Wilson. I don't recall where those wires went except that one ran to Denver where our leased wire facilities came to a dead end. Barney Furay, the bureau manager, then condensed the report and filed it "overhead," that is by Western Union, to San Francisco, where it was blown up again.

Horse-drawn fire trucks were not as nimble as the motorized rigs of today and the reporters who caught the assignment were down in Park Row, which was newspaper row. There were no taxis and the Broadway trolleys and the subway were the best transportation. So, by accident, Bill Sheppard had a clean margin of time and the great advantage of personal observation (you could almost say participation) in the dreadful scene.

About an hour after Bill's call first came through, Roy told him to go out, interview some firemen, pick up as much as he could about the background and come on in. Meanwhile, John Edwin Nevin, a great rewrite man, had come in from supper and Roy sent him up to backstop the play. Shepherd came in and Roy sent him into his little private office to write the dress-up lead-all New York fire. Bill's lead-all New York fire began thus:

"By William G. Shepherd, New York, March 25 — Thud! Dead! Thud! Dead! Thud! Dead!"

This beat ran through the story for thousands of words. The description and emotional expression were a work of awful beauty. As conkle walked around our little room in the Hunter building distributing the flimsy, his purplish face smeared with smudge from the carbon paper, I noticed that his eyes were red. His eyes were red and tears were drooling down through the carbon smudge. When you write a story which can do that to a man as firm and well-controlled as Ed Conkle, you are a great newspaper writer that day, anyway. Bill was great many and many another day, but it is a compliment rather than disparagement to say that he never wrote another as great as his story on the triangle fire.

After Bill had hung up to come in, Roy took stock and, in his high treble, exclaimed: "My God! Here I have dictated thousands of words direct to the wire and we haven't got a word on paper to show us what we have sent."

At this, Art Struwe spoke up. He was a marvelous copyreader and he could take dictation on a typewriter as fast as most shorthand operators could take it in pot-hooks and hangers, as shorthand was called at the time. He was the only other editorial man in the office in that slack hour.

"We have got it all," Struwe said, and he shoved across the desk a verbatim account which he had started with the flash.

I was discussing Bill's "Thud! Dead!" lead-all New York fire with Roy a few days ago. He said it was the greatest lead he ever read and that is my impression still.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

When you buy and use your Christmas Seals this year, it would be well to remember that 1954 marks the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Tuberculosis Association of America. This educational agency, financed almost entirely through the sale of Christmas Seals, has contrbuted immeasurably toward elimination of the scourge of tuberculosis. Americans have every reason to be grateful to it.

Unfortunately, however, the fight against tuberculosis is not yet won. The death-rate from it has been reduced dramatically during the past 50 years. But the number of new cases of active tuberculosis uncovered remains almost the same today as it was 50 years ago. Through the chest X-ray program developed by the Association, new cases are discovered early enough so that they can be treated successfully and can be isolated before the disease is spread.

The Tuberculosis Association merits a salute for its work thus far. But its efforts need continued support if the victory over tuberculosis is to be achieved.

The difference between persistence and insistence can easily be the margin between friendship won or lost.

SAFE WINTER DRIVING

The National Safety Council recommends the following rules for safe winter driving!

Accept your responsibility to do all in your power to drive without accident. Don't blame the weatherman for an accident. Be prepared and meet the situation.

Get the "feel" of the road. Try brakes occasionally while driving slowly and away from traffic. Adjust your speed to road and weather conditions. Remember you can't stop on an icy dime.

Keep the windshield clear of snow and ice. Be sure headlights, windshield wiper and defrosters are in top condition. You have to see the danger to avoid it.

Use tire chains and good tires. Don't rely on worn-smooth tires.

Pump your brakes to slow down or stop. Jamming them on can lock the wheels and thrown you into a dangerous skid.

Follow at a safe distance. Keep well back of the vehicles ahead and give yourself room to stop.

FIFTY YEAR PROGRAM

President Eisenhower demonstrated wisdom and vision recently when he said that the necessity for bearing the tax load required for adequate defense of the nation may continue for the next fifty years.

It is the hope of the President and of all thoughtful Americans that the need will end long before that time. But it is essential to the national safety that we follow a policy of preparedness, that we consider not only what step will be wise for next year but what will be practical for a long-range point of view.

Military strength and constant readiness to defend ourselves seem the surest way to prevent being attacked. Aggressors sometimes miscalculate the strength of the people they attack. But they seldom intentionally launch an aggression unless they are reasonably sure of success.

Defense costs money. It would be pleasant if the money we now spend on our army, navy, air force, on planes and weapons could be spent for other things that are needed. But if we should allow ourselves to grow weak and fall prey to an aggressor the money we saved would do us no good.

Most Americans want to pay as little of their incomes in taxes as possible. But no thinking American wants a second-class defense effort, however attractive the price of such an inadequate program might seem at first glance.

A fellow we know says that if Santa Claus wants to go around taking all those bows he can just return a month after Christmas and sign the checks to pay for the stuff he gave away.

Some people, we fear, learn from experience that they have learned nothing from experience.

'These Days'

THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC

Away from Washington and New York, the nature of our Federal Republic stands out more clearly because one is in what may be defined as the States. In a city such as New York is, the State of New York is a secondary governmental organ. London and Rome are neighbors and Israel is an immediate problem. In California, the State is the center of significance and New York and Washington are remote places inhabited by predatory people. In Texas and other States, I encountered the same attitude.

The Tenth Amendment to the Constitution is generally forgotter. in these days of emphasis on the First and Fifth Amendments, but the theory which made the Tenth so important in the early years of the Republic persists in the continuing localisms. Americans, generally, are more concerned with problems of roads, water supply, garbage removal, smog and the upkeep of prisons and State hospitals than in the Paris Treaty or the supply of military aid to France, except as war may devastate beautiful cities or kill beloved sons.

The Tenth Amendment to the Constitution, for those who do not recall it, reads:

"The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

During the early days of the New Deal, there was some idle talk of abolishing the States altogether and revising the geographic and political organization of the country into more rational regions or provinces. Such concepts have been lost in the gossip of those days. The enormous Federal grants to States for roads, education, welfare, agriculture, etc., it was feared, would, in time, lessen the authority of State governments. This has not come to pass. If anything, localism has increased and Senators and Governors are regarded favorably who squeeze most out of the Federal sponge without any regard to the national interest.

Here in California, I find a pride in Vice President Nixon and Senator William Knowland not for what they do or say but because they are Californians who have gone East and made good. There is still a memory of Hiram Johnson because he did likewise, although there are some who attribute to his stubbornness the election of Woodrow Wilson which was not, to them, an unmitigated blessing.

Senator Knowland is being painted by the Left Wingers as a war-monger, but there are others who are proud of him for having stood up for his country's dignity when others were silent or frightened into peace at any price. The fact that Knowland's protest against complacency had to be considered and forced a conference of great minds in the White House has not passed without some pride in the accomplishments of a local boy who made good in distant places.

My colleague, Westbrook Pegler, often complains about news coverage and has become somewhat of a scourge against those of our profession who editorialize in the news columns. For his side of the case this must be said that the news coverage grows increasingly local as one moves farther away from New York and Washington. This is not limited to the newspapers. Radio newscasts tell more of what happens hereabouts than about what happens beyond the blue horizon. The localisms are reflected in the interest of the people.

The testimony concerning a large number of fairly prominent physicians and dentists, some of them important specialists, who are accused of banding together for Communist activities, fills columns of type in Los Angeles. In New York, we have become accustomed to this deviation in our body politic and tend to ask, "What! Another one of those?"

I could not help wondering, while I stood at the far-famed corner of Hollywood and Vine, where all the news is made to fill the gossip columns about glamorous Hollywood. I stood on that corner and nothing there equals the interest and excitement of 100 corners I can mention in New York. It is just a business street with an excessive amount of automobile traffic. There were no wolves, no starlets, no prowling automobiles, no fist fights. It was a quiet corner such as one might find in Great Barrington, Massachusetts, in the Spring. The movie colony really makes little news, but the press agents do well in evoking national interest in a local situation.

Defense Department Uses Iron Curtain Tactics Regarding Air Force Colonel

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 23 — What happens when the Defense Department clamps down an "iron curtain" and refuses to tell the public that an Air Force colonel has compromised himself with a Soviet spy?

Do the American people accept this as a proper attitude by an executive department, or does it become the duty of a Congressional investigating committee to find out who is covering up and why?

THESE QUESTIONS, strangely enough, are like those which were asked and never answered last summer concerning the promotion given Major Peress, the Army dentist accused of being a Communist. At the time the prevalent thought of so many spokesmen of the "Left wing" was that it was none of the public's business and that, if the Defense Department chose to suppress the facts about who promoted Peress, then it was impertinent for Congress to inquire about it.

Today the news dispatches from Berlin tell of the confession by a German woman that she gave secrets to the Soviets and that she was an intimate of an Air Force colonel and a civilian official of the American government. Efforts of the newspaper men there to find out the facts about the scandal have been met with some form of censorship. That's natural. Bureaucrats always will cover up wrongdoing if they can get away with it.

But in this instance it is stated boldly that the trial was held and conviction obtained with a procedure that deliberately avoided mention of the names of the Americans involved.

WHAT IS MOST important is not the names of these misguided individuals, but how the security system of the United States Air Force and of the American government's civilian authorities was so readily penetrated at an important outpost of American armed forces in Europe.

Anybody who knows the simplest facts about espionage knows that women are used to tempt officers to give away secrets. Any one would know that, once the woman in question was employed by the American government in Berlin and something irregular was found about her curious interest in searching the office files, it would be of the utmost importance to check into such a situation forthwith.

But it turns out that, when this episode occurred, somebody covered up and prevented the dismissal of the spy. This is an inexcusable laxity.

IN WASHINGTON, in another instance, something worse has happened. Joseph Petersen has pleaded guilty of having in his possession highly secret documents belonging to the National Security Agency, where he was employed. Their unauthorized transmission to another government occurred. Something went wrong with the security system in the most "hush-hush" agency in the government. The public hasn't been told who was to blame for this breakdown.

It is the business of the Congress to check up on the efficiency of the executive agencies, with particular reference to security. Lately a move has been getting considerable support from the "Left-wing" element to cut out Congressional investigations of any confidential matters going on in the executive departments. It is argued that the right of Congressional investigation is a limited one. The courts, however, have never placed any limitation on the right of Congressional committees to ask questions, though there have been decisions upholding the right of individuals to refuse to testify if by so doing they may incriminate themselves.

THE RUMPUS last summer about "classified information" being improperly given to members of Congress has served only to befog the real issue, which is that, if Congressional committees are to be prevented from investigating what is happening in the executive departments and agencies, the easiest way to accomplish concealment is to "classify" or mark the information "secret." Then the coverup is complete.

The attempt to hide the facts about the scandal in Berlin and rumors that the officers involved are not even to be court-martialed will surely arouse the interest of the committees of Congress concerned with governmental operations.

MUCH HAS BEEN heard of how the FBI can do all that's necessary to assure security. Yet most people don't know that the FBI has no jurisdiction whatsoever over any American personnel abroad and has no right to investigate anything that happens inside the military services either in this country or overseas.

There are several agencies charged with security and none has the background or experience that the FBI has. With such a slipshod setup, it is natural that Congress should be vigilant. The importance of a checking operation by investigating committees of Congress has proved necessary again and again. That's why the Communists, through "The Daily Worker," have for many years persistently fought to hamstring, if not abolish, Congressional investigations and will continue to do so in the future.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

About four o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday, March 25, 1911, a flash came over the wire in the Chicago Bureau in the Hunter building, a cloak-and-suit center at Madison and Market which was infested with cockroaches the size of fox terriers, although that observation is just atmospheric, not pertinent. I was in my freshman year in the profession of journalism, the bureau manager was Ed Conkle, a Methodist minister's son, with portly tendencies, a heart of gold, an uncompromising bigotry against all alcoholic beverages except pebbleford whiskey and an affection of grouchiness. The UP ran a night wire only one night a week, Saturday night. The interval between three and six, central time, usually was devoted to sport stuff moving from east to west, which is still the prevaling direction of most news.

The flash on a press association wire is actually an alarm to all concerned to get ready to handle a big, hot story.

This flash said there was a fire in a factory in New York. Probably there would be many dead.

A bulletin came along in a few seconds and then a bulletin-lead, which is a slightly more comprehensive bulletin. Thereafter, our account became a running story. It was a beautiful job. It went on and on, a terrible heart-rendering story of the death of 145 poor needleworkers employed in the Triangle Shirtwaist Factory on Washington place, near Washington Square. There had been some pilfering of materials so someone had locked a metal door leading to the stairs. Now fire had broken out, fed by cleaning fluid, and the people had their choice of burning or jumping ten stories.

William Gunn Shepherd, our star reporter, who probably got as much as $60 a week, happened to be just there at the moment. He stepped into a garage, phoned the UP office in the World building and caught Roy Howard, the president of the outfit who was messing with some sport copy.

He said, "Roy, I am at Washington Square and there is a hell of a fire in a loft building and a lot of people are on the window sills and I think some of them are going to jump. Oh my God! There goes one. Boom. Did you hear that? There goes another. God almighty, Roy—Three! Four! Five! Six!"

Howard said: "Bill, are you sober?"

"Of course I am sober. Nine! Ten! This is horrible! There is a fellow with a girl in his arms. They just kissed each other. I am afraid they are going to jump. There they go!"

For nearly an hour Bill stood at this phone dictating a running eye-witness account of a disaster which later caused the adoption of many laws to protect employes in factories. We, in Chicago, in a littered, gritty little office, were fascinated with horror. There was nothing for us to do but keep shoving the copy to the three Morse operators, Roscoe Johnson, Claude Irons and Silvertop Wilson. I don't recall where those wires went except that one ran to Denver where our leased wire facilities came to a dead end. Barney Furay, the bureau manager, then condensed the report and filed it "overhead," that is by Western Union, to San Francisco, where it was blown up again.

Horse-drawn fire trucks were not as nimble as the motorized rigs of today and the reporters who caught the assignment were down in Park Row, which was newspaper row. There were no taxis and the Broadway trolleys and the subway were the best transportation. So, by accident, Bill Sheppard had a clean margin of time and the great advantage of personal observation (you could almost say participation) in the dreadful scene.

About an hour after Bill's call first came through, Roy told him to go out, interview some firemen, pick up as much as he could about the background and come on in. Meanwhile, John Edwin Nevin, a great rewrite man, had come in from supper and Roy sent him up to backstop the play. Shepherd came in and Roy sent him into his little private office to write the dress-up lead-all New York fire. Bill's lead-all New York fire began thus:

"By William G. Shepherd, New York, March 25 — Thud! Dead! Thud! Dead! Thud! Dead!"

This beat ran through the story for thousands of words. The description and emotional expression were a work of awful beauty. As conkle walked around our little room in the Hunter building distributing the flimsy, his purplish face smeared with smudge from the carbon paper, I noticed that his eyes were red. His eyes were red and tears were drooling down through the carbon smudge. When you write a story which can do that to a man as firm and well-controlled as Ed Conkle, you are a great newspaper writer that day, anyway. Bill was great many and many another day, but it is a compliment rather than disparagement to say that he never wrote another as great as his story on the triangle fire.

After Bill had hung up to come in, Roy took stock and, in his high treble, exclaimed: "My God! Here I have dictated thousands of words direct to the wire and we haven't got a word on paper to show us what we have sent."

At this, Art Struwe spoke up. He was a marvelous copyreader and he could take dictation on a typewriter as fast as most shorthand operators could take it in pot-hooks and hangers, as shorthand was called at the time. He was the only other editorial man in the office in that slack hour.

"We have got it all," Struwe said, and he shoved across the desk a verbatim account which he had started with the flash.

I was discussing Bill's "Thud! Dead!" lead-all New York fire with Roy a few days ago. He said it was the greatest lead he ever read and that is my impression still.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

When you buy and use your Christmas Seals this year, it would be well to remember that 1954 marks the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Tuberculosis Association of America. This educational agency, financed almost entirely through the sale of Christmas Seals, has contrbuted immeasurably toward elimination of the scourge of tuberculosis. Americans have every reason to be grateful to it.

Unfortunately, however, the fight against tuberculosis is not yet won. The death-rate from it has been reduced dramatically during the past 50 years. But the number of new cases of active tuberculosis uncovered remains almost the same today as it was 50 years ago. Through the chest X-ray program developed by the Association, new cases are discovered early enough so that they can be treated successfully and can be isolated before the disease is spread.

The Tuberculosis Association merits a salute for its work thus far. But its efforts need continued support if the victory over tuberculosis is to be achieved.

The difference between persistence and insistence can easily be the margin between friendship won or lost.

SAFE WINTER DRIVING

The National Safety Council recommends the following rules for safe winter driving!

Accept your responsibility to do all in your power to drive without accident. Don't blame the weatherman for an accident. Be prepared and meet the situation.

Get the "feel" of the road. Try brakes occasionally while driving slowly and away from traffic. Adjust your speed to road and weather conditions. Remember you can't stop on an icy dime.

Keep the windshield clear of snow and ice. Be sure headlights, windshield wiper and defrosters are in top condition. You have to see the danger to avoid it.

Use tire chains and good tires. Don't rely on worn-smooth tires.

Pump your brakes to slow down or stop. Jamming them on can lock the wheels and thrown you into a dangerous skid.

Follow at a safe distance. Keep well back of the vehicles ahead and give yourself room to stop.

FIFTY YEAR PROGRAM

President Eisenhower demonstrated wisdom and vision recently when he said that the necessity for bearing the tax load required for adequate defense of the nation may continue for the next fifty years.

It is the hope of the President and of all thoughtful Americans that the need will end long before that time. But it is essential to the national safety that we follow a policy of preparedness, that we consider not only what step will be wise for next year but what will be practical for a long-range point of view.

Military strength and constant readiness to defend ourselves seem the surest way to prevent being attacked. Aggressors sometimes miscalculate the strength of the people they attack. But they seldom intentionally launch an aggression unless they are reasonably sure of success.

Defense costs money. It would be pleasant if the money we now spend on our army, navy, air force, on planes and weapons could be spent for other things that are needed. But if we should allow ourselves to grow weak and fall prey to an aggressor the money we saved would do us no good.

Most Americans want to pay as little of their incomes in taxes as possible. But no thinking American wants a second-class defense effort, however attractive the price of such an inadequate program might seem at first glance.

A fellow we know says that if Santa Claus wants to go around taking all those bows he can just return a month after Christmas and sign the checks to pay for the stuff he gave away.

Some people, we fear, learn from experience that they have learned nothing from experience.

'These Days'

THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC

Away from Washington and New York, the nature of our Federal Republic stands out more clearly because one is in what may be defined as the States. In a city such as New York is, the State of New York is a secondary governmental organ. London and Rome are neighbors and Israel is an immediate problem. In California, the State is the center of significance and New York and Washington are remote places inhabited by predatory people. In Texas and other States, I encountered the same attitude.

The Tenth Amendment to the Constitution is generally forgotter. in these days of emphasis on the First and Fifth Amendments, but the theory which made the Tenth so important in the early years of the Republic persists in the continuing localisms. Americans, generally, are more concerned with problems of roads, water supply, garbage removal, smog and the upkeep of prisons and State hospitals than in the Paris Treaty or the supply of military aid to France, except as war may devastate beautiful cities or kill beloved sons.

The Tenth Amendment to the Constitution, for those who do not recall it, reads:

"The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

During the early days of the New Deal, there was some idle talk of abolishing the States altogether and revising the geographic and political organization of the country into more rational regions or provinces. Such concepts have been lost in the gossip of those days. The enormous Federal grants to States for roads, education, welfare, agriculture, etc., it was feared, would, in time, lessen the authority of State governments. This has not come to pass. If anything, localism has increased and Senators and Governors are regarded favorably who squeeze most out of the Federal sponge without any regard to the national interest.

Here in California, I find a pride in Vice President Nixon and Senator William Knowland not for what they do or say but because they are Californians who have gone East and made good. There is still a memory of Hiram Johnson because he did likewise, although there are some who attribute to his stubbornness the election of Woodrow Wilson which was not, to them, an unmitigated blessing.

Senator Knowland is being painted by the Left Wingers as a war-monger, but there are others who are proud of him for having stood up for his country's dignity when others were silent or frightened into peace at any price. The fact that Knowland's protest against complacency had to be considered and forced a conference of great minds in the White House has not passed without some pride in the accomplishments of a local boy who made good in distant places.

My colleague, Westbrook Pegler, often complains about news coverage and has become somewhat of a scourge against those of our profession who editorialize in the news columns. For his side of the case this must be said that the news coverage grows increasingly local as one moves farther away from New York and Washington. This is not limited to the newspapers. Radio newscasts tell more of what happens hereabouts than about what happens beyond the blue horizon. The localisms are reflected in the interest of the people.

The testimony concerning a large number of fairly prominent physicians and dentists, some of them important specialists, who are accused of banding together for Communist activities, fills columns of type in Los Angeles. In New York, we have become accustomed to this deviation in our body politic and tend to ask, "What! Another one of those?"

I could not help wondering, while I stood at the far-famed corner of Hollywood and Vine, where all the news is made to fill the gossip columns about glamorous Hollywood. I stood on that corner and nothing there equals the interest and excitement of 100 corners I can mention in New York. It is just a business street with an excessive amount of automobile traffic. There were no wolves, no starlets, no prowling automobiles, no fist fights. It was a quiet corner such as one might find in Great Barrington, Massachusetts, in the Spring. The movie colony really makes little news, but the press agents do well in evoking national interest in a local situation.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

TREATMENT OF GOUT

Gout is one of the oldest diseases. It attacks mostly males and the attacks appear suddenly, as a rule, usually affecting the large toe in the first attack. There is quite often a family history of gout and it has been called a hereditary disease. The pain, as anyone who has had an attack is well aware, is often excruciating but will respond quite readily to adequate doses of the drug colchicine. It is interesting that the use of colchicine for the special relief of gout is thought to have been known as early as 1500 B.C. Gout usually occurs for the first time after 35 years of age.

During the first acute stage of an attack of gout the patient should be at complete bed rest with the affected part elevated and protected from the bedclothes. Colchicine, 1/120 gram or .5 mg. is given by mouth every hour until the pain is relieved unless other symptoms such as nausea, vomiting and diarrhoea appear. Usually 8 to 10 doses during the first 24 hours are sufficient to relieve the attack. A diet of milk, fruit juices, eggs and cereals, with a high amount of liquid is advisable.

However, the patient with gout should receive treatment between his attacks because such treatment has been found to both lessen the number of attacks and to make less severe the attacks when they do occur. Some suggestions for this between-attack treatment in gout include simplicity and moderation in eating, Benemid, one gram per day, avoidance of alcohol and sudden chilling of the body, a moderate amount of exercise, avoidance of overwork and mental and physical fatigue, yearly vacations if possible.

Some special diet instructions are: (1) Avoid liver, sweetbreads, brains, kidneys, sardines, anchovies, meat broths and gravies. (2) Serve cheese and eggs as substitutes for meat and use one or two pints of milk in order to make up the protein requirements. (3) Cut down on vegetables such as beans, peas, lentils and spinach. (4) Fruits of all kinds—canned, fresh or dried—may be eaten as well as cereals of all kinds.

We should remember that gout is a chronic disease which is not cured just because the painful attack has died down; treatment should be continued throughout life in order to prevent or lessen the recurrence of the symptoms and in order to help avoid chronic gouty arthritis and other complications. The outlook is poorest in those whose symptoms appear early in life and best in those whose symptoms come on late in life.

Santa's New Role

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Despite a lot of talk of "clean campaigns," politics is right back where it usually is — on the roughhouse road. And the 1956 presidential campaign has already opened—a year early—without avowed candidates for either major party.

These facts were made evident on the first day that Paul M. Butler of Indiana, new Democratic National Committee chairman, stuck his feet under the desk he'll take over officially next Jan. 1.

He called a press conference to let everybody know he was around. He began it by saying to one reporter that things would be more interesting if "Lily Christine" were there. He seemed to miss her, but would get along without her. This was significant.

Lily Christine—for the benefit of those who don't get around—is "The Cat Girl," a strip-tease artiste. She provided relaxation for some of the delegates at a recent Democratic meeting.

This little touch of free publicity should be worth quite a lot to Lily Christine.

CHAIRMAN BUTLER said later on that the Democrats had lost their star attraction for the $100-a-plate dinners that had finally put them $21,000 in the black. The reference here was to Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic standard bearer in 1952 and still head of the party, according to Mr. Butler.

Governor Stevenson has now expressed a desire to retire from the political spotlight for a time and practice law to raise a little money for his own use, instead of raising it for the Democratic cause.

Butler indicated that he had other star attractions, though he didn't name them. Maybe Lily Christine.

The chairman said he wasn't going to be so much interested in these $100-a-head affairs. What he was after was more $1, $5 and $10 contributions from more little people. This revives an idea that Beardsley Ruml had in 1952. Brought forward late in the campaign, it didn't work too well.

BUTLER'S FIRST official statement indicated he would have a "gloves off" approach in dealing with President Eisenhower.

His statement was not clothed in polite language. It gave President Eisenhower the "old Harry" for alleged failures to unite the Republican party and the country. It indicated that the Democratic chairman would continue to expose the alleged failures of the President—without making any personal attacks upon him.

Well, that served to raise the curtain on the 1956 campaign, along with Sen. Joe McCarthy's repudiation of his prior support for President Eisenhower. Neither event indicates that the New Year will be filled with either sweetness or light. It will be politics as usual, or worse.

LAST SEPTEMBER Republican National Committee Chairman Leonard Hall and Democratic National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell signed a code in which they pledged a decent, honest and fair campaign.

The next day Chairman Mitchell broke out in a joint television debate with Chairman Hall, in which the Democratic chieftain accused Vice President Richard M. Nixon of "an outright lie" in saying that the Republican administration had "kicked the Communists out of government by the thousands."

Chairman Hall immediately rushed to the defense of Mr. Nixon, demanded that Mitchell apologize or else publicly repudiate his fair play pledge.

Nixon never retracted his statement, and Mitchell never apologized.

That was the end of the noble intention to wage a decent campaign. And that's about as long as you can expect politics to stay cleaned up, ever.

He said, "Roy, I am at Washington Square and there is a hell of a fire in a loft building and a lot of people are on the window sills and I think some of them are going to jump. Oh my God! There goes one. Boom. Did you hear that? There goes another. God almighty, Roy—Three! Four! Five! Six!"

Howard said: "Bill, are you sober?"

"Of course I am sober. Nine! Ten! This is horrible! There is a fellow with a girl in his arms. They just kissed each other. I am afraid they are going to jump. There they go!"

For nearly an hour Bill stood at this phone dictating a running eye-witness account of a disaster which later caused the adoption of many laws to protect employes in factories. We, in Chicago, in a littered, gritty little office, were fascinated with horror. There was nothing for us to do but keep shoving the copy to the three Morse operators, Roscoe Johnson, Claude Irons and Silvertop Wilson. I don't recall where those wires went except that one ran to Denver where our leased wire facilities came to a dead end. Barney Furay, the bureau manager, then condensed the report and filed it "overhead," that is by Western Union, to San Francisco, where it was blown up again.

Horse-drawn fire trucks were not as nimble as the motorized rigs of today and the reporters who caught the assignment were down in Park Row, which was newspaper row. There were no taxis and the Broadway trolleys and the subway were the best transportation. So, by accident, Bill Sheppard had a clean margin of time and the great advantage of personal observation (you could almost say participation) in the dreadful scene.

About an hour after Bill's call first came through, Roy told him to go out, interview some firemen, pick up as much as he could about the background and come on in. Meanwhile, John Edwin Nevin, a great rewrite man, had come in from supper and Roy sent him up to backstop the play. Shepherd came in and Roy sent him into his little private office to write the dress-up lead-all New York fire. Bill's lead-all New York fire began thus:

"By William G. Shepherd, New York, March 25 — Thud! Dead! Thud! Dead! Thud! Dead!"

This beat ran through the story for thousands of words. The description and emotional expression were a work of awful beauty. As conkle walked around our little room in the Hunter building distributing the flimsy, his purplish face smeared with smudge from the carbon paper, I noticed that his eyes were red. His eyes were red and tears were drooling down through the carbon smudge. When you write a story which can do that to a man as firm and well-controlled as Ed Conkle, you are a great newspaper writer that day, anyway. Bill was great many and many another day, but it is a compliment rather than disparagement to say that he never wrote another as great as his story on the triangle fire.

After Bill had hung up to come in, Roy took stock and, in his high treble, exclaimed: "My God! Here I have dictated thousands of words direct to the wire and we haven't got a word on paper to show us what we have sent."

At this, Art Struwe spoke up. He was a marvelous copyreader and he could take dictation on a typewriter as fast as most shorthand operators could take it in pot-hooks and hangers, as shorthand was called at the time. He was the only other editorial man in the office in that slack hour.

"We have got it all," Struwe said, and he shoved across the desk a verbatim account which he had started with the flash.

I was discussing Bill's "Thud! Dead!" lead-all New York fire with Roy a few days ago. He said it was the greatest lead he ever read and that is my impression still.

Plattekill

Plattekill, Dec. 23 — The Christmas party for members of the Plattekill unit of the Ulster County Home Bureau was held Tuesday night. Regular activities of the unit will be resumed after the holiday season with a project meeting at the Plattekill School Jan. 4 in charge of Mrs. Milton Van Duser.

The son born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn R. Lozier, of Newburgh, at St. Luke's Hospital in that city, has been named Larry John. Mr. Lozier is a former resident of this place.

A pleasing program of entertainment was presented at the Plattekill Grange Hall at the regular meeting Saturday night when customs of other lands, traditional celebrations, etc., were related and demonstrated by Grange members who were familiar with their subjects. The hall was attractively decorated with Christmas greens under the direction of Mrs. George Sisti. Members of the choir of the Rossville Methodist Church, associate parish of Plattekill, rendered Christmas carols. Mrs. Ira Merwin was chairman of the program, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Wager, Mrs. Walter Kleeman and Mrs. Sisti. Serving on the refreshment committee were Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cook and daughter Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Peck, Mr. and Mrs. John Labriola, Conrad Silberling, Ann, Martin and Albert Langlitz, Jeanne Steffe and LeRoy Fowler.

Mrs. Mary Harris is staying with her daughter, Mrs. John Davis, in Wallkill.

Ira Merwin was a visitor in Kingston last week.

Edward Harris is repairing the interior of his house.

Members of the Plattekill Grange were invited to attend a service of candles and carols at the Methodist Church Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Fowler of Clintondale were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Vernard B. Wager.

Mrs. Kenneth A. Paltridge, a patient at Ulster County TB Hospital, is expected to spend the Christmas holidays at her home here.

Excellent response was made to the appeal for blankets, shoes, and warm clothing, made by the Catholic Bishop's Collection for Overseas Relief, in this area. Contributions were received at the Chapel of Our Lady of Fatima, Route 32.

An appeal for funds is being circulated by the Plattekill Lions Club in the annual blind seal campaign. Past contributions have made it possible to carry out worthwhile services to the blind and sight-handicapped people in the town of Plattekill. Glasses have been provided for needy school children, and assistance has been rendered in the education of sight-handicapped children in the schools. Club members stand ready to assist in any and all such cases brought to their attention. Contributors are reminded that every dollar received is spent in Plattekill for the benefit of local people. There is no division of the fund with the Lions organization. The many other activities carried on by club members are financed by other means. Frank J. Ruggerio is chairman of the campaign and contributions may be sent to the Plattekill Lions Club, Platekill.

Wilson Edmunds Jr., Joe Ruggerio, Charles Costello and Joe Corso are local students of the Wallkill Central High School and members of the basketball team, contending for this year's crown in the Ulster County Village High School Basketball League.

Franklyn M. Branley, teacher of science at the Jersey City State Teachers College in Jersey City, N. J., who spent the early part of his childhood in Plattekill, collaborated with Prof. Beelor of the Potsdam State Teachers College in the authorship of the seventh in a series of books on elementary science. Mr. Branley also is author of a fictional novel Lodestar. He is a graduate of the New Paltz State Teachers College, class of 1936. He also holds degrees from New York University and Columbia University, and has taught at State Teachers College at Troy, Ala., and Columbia University. For several years the three Branley boys, Kenneth, Melville and Franklyn, made their home with Mr. and Mrs. Vernard B. Wager.

Squeeze Plays Are Worth Learning

Just in case you're stuck for a last-minute gift for a bridge player, I'm devoting this week's articles to some of the best bridge books of the last year or so. Practically all bridge players can read, and most of them enjoy reading about their favorite game.

Serious students of the game may be interested in Clyde E. Love's "Squeeze Play in Bridge." Practically the whole book deals with this advanced play, so it's not at all meant for the beginner.

Some of the side comments in the book are just as interesting as the material that deals with the sequence, and it is one of these other angles that is covered in the material quoted today:

"When a player is known to have the false-carding habit, the enemy will pay no attention except in the quite frequent cases where a waffle-headed false card exposes the very thing it is supposed to conceal.

"Suppose for a moment that declarer has won the first trick with the king. With five spades to the king declarer would have bid the suit: thus West has at least four remaining. If they include the ace, the suit is very likely to run. The decision is not even close; out comes the spade (when East takes the ace of clubs), and declarer claims the rest.

"But when the ace of spades is played to the first trick, East takes stock. The spade return hands declarer a cold certainty of game and in all probablity a small slam. Where, oh, where can the little king be? West's lead denies it; East's play of the deuce of spades at the first trick denies it. Thus, everyone at the table, including the dummy, is fully informed.

"For a diamond switch to succeed, West must hold A-Q-x; in fact, if declarer holds up, West must hold A-Q-x-x. Not so good. But as the only hope East lays down the jack of diamonds and sets the contract two—a little swing of five tricks because declarer, as he fatly thinks, "conceals" his strength. Put a handful of feathers on him and you couldn't tell him from an ostrich."

Ex-Pilot's Bloodhounds Set New Tracking Mark

NORMAN WILSON AND HOUNDS—"Once the bug hits you . . ."

By ELLIS LUCIA

Los Gatos, Calif.—(NEA)—Three lop-eared bloodhounds are basking lazily in the sun here, apparently unaware that their astounding tracking talents have established a new national record for following an old trail.

The dogs, whose fame is growing rapidly throughout the West, belong to Norman Wilson, a 29-year-old former navy pilot and until recently a deputy sheriff. They have participated in nearly half a hundred successful searches saving many lives and clearing up mysteries surrounding the disappearance of several persons.

NOT LONG AGO, a family of three, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Zeiszler, and Mrs. Zeiszler's son, Harvey Hoff, 13, became lost while deer hunting in the western Oregon forests. The family had been in the woods several days before being missed. Over 150 men searched the countryside, starting where the Zeiszler car was found. After a week they still could find no trace.

Wilson offered to bring his dogs. The trail was quite cold by then and incessant rains had fallen in the area. However, the dogs and master were flown north.

The hounds picked up the scent almost immediately and within three hours located the body of the boy. Bodies of the man and woman were found the following day. Inexperienced in woodcraft, the three had died of panic and exposure.

WHEN THE DOGS found the scent, the Hoff-Zeiszler trail was 341 hours old. Wilson is claiming a new national record with the American Bloodhound Club, topping the former record of 105 hours.

Since there aren't many trained bloodhounds anymore, demands are heavy for Wilson's dogs, especially during tourist camping and the hunting seasons. His dogs are his hobby. He is willing to go anywhere, asking only expenses to and from his Los Gatos home.

Wilson's interest in bloodhounds goes back to 1946 when he was still in the navy. His buddy crash-landed in the Florida Everglades and in a dazed condition wandered into the swamp. A bloodhound found him alive.

Right then Wilson swore he had to have a dog. Two years later he bought Queen Guinevere of Laureloak, better known as Bernice. She now works with two of her pups, Doc Holliday and Big Nose Kate.

"Once the bloodhound bug hits you, you've had it," Wilson says. An experienced person can estimate, from the color of the streak, the amount of other metal alloyed with the gold.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

The men who run the nation's food stores figure you ought to enjoy Christmas dinner even more this year than last—prices of both turkeys and smoked hams are eight to 10 cents cheaper a pound than a year ago.

These two meats, needless to say, are the big features this week, but food men say they're selling a lot of frying chickens, too. In this case also, prices are down around a dime from a year ago.

If you plan to break with tradition, your best buys in meats will be found in pork and lamb (beef prices are still high). A good number of stores are featuring pork loins and legs of lamb.

VEAL ROASTS also are being advertised as specials by scattered markets. This meat, not popular in some parts of the country, has long been regarded as a good buy.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture calls your attention to eggs this week. It says large supplies, high quality and low prices make eggs a real bargain. Supplies are so abundant, in fact, that the poultry industry and the department have designated January as "egg month."

In the produce markets, specialists pick eastern potatoes, onions, old crop cabbage, western lettuce and nearby carrots, parsnips, turnips and topped beets as your best buys of the week. "Good buys" include sweet potatoes (dry type), greens such as kale and collards and bunched beets from Texas.

COLDER WEATHER has cut into supplies of cucumbers, eggplants, beans, escarole, endive, and big Boston and Romaine lettuce.

As for Christmas items, the produce men say yams are nearly twice as high as the dry sweet potatoes, but "moderately priced," nevertheless. Cranberries will cost a bit more than at Thanksgiving.

Tangerines, a Christmas fruit, are considered a good buy, along with avocadoes, limes, oranges and grapefruit. The only grape arriving at wholesale markets in good volume is the Emperor, and that is rated a worthwhile purchase.

A few crates of strawberries showed up in eastern markets this week. They were flown from Florida. The price, of course, is high.

Plattekill

Plattekill, Dec. 23 — The Christmas party for members of the Plattekill unit of the Ulster County Home Bureau was held Tuesday night. Regular activities of the unit will be resumed after the holiday season with a project meeting at the Plattekill School Jan. 4 in charge of Mrs. Milton Van Duser.

The son born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn R. Lozier, of Newburgh, at St. Luke's Hospital in that city, has been named Larry John. Mr. Lozier is a former resident of this place.

A pleasing program of entertainment was presented at the Plattekill Grange Hall at the regular meeting Saturday night when customs of other lands, traditional celebrations, etc., were related and demonstrated by Grange members who were familiar with their subjects. The hall was attractively decorated with Christmas greens under the direction of Mrs. George Sisti. Members of the choir of the Rossville Methodist Church, associate parish of Plattekill, rendered Christmas carols. Mrs. Ira Merwin was chairman of the program, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Wager, Mrs. Walter Kleeman and Mrs. Sisti. Serving on the refreshment committee were Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cook and daughter Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Peck, Mr. and Mrs. John Labriola, Conrad Silberling, Ann, Martin and Albert Langlitz, Jeanne Steffe and LeRoy Fowler.

Mrs. Mary Harris is staying with her daughter, Mrs. John Davis, in Wallkill.

Ira Merwin was a visitor in Kingston last week.

Edward Harris is repairing the interior of his house.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Fowler of Clintondale were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Vernard B. Wager.

Mrs. Kenneth A. Paltridge, a patient at Ulster County TB Hospital, is expected to spend the Christmas holidays at her home here.

Excellent response was made to the appeal for blankets, shoes, and warm clothing, made by the Catholic Bishop's Collection for Overseas Relief, in this area. Contributions were received at the Chapel of Our Lady of Fatima, Route 32.

An appeal for funds is being circulated by the Plattekill Lions Club in the annual blind seal campaign. Past contributions have made it possible to carry out worthwhile services to the blind and sight-handicapped people in the town of Plattekill. Glasses have been provided for needy school children, and assistance has been rendered in the education of sight-handicapped children in the schools. Club members stand ready to assist in any and all such cases brought to their attention. Contributors are reminded that every dollar received is spent in Plattekill for the benefit of local people. There is no division of the fund with the Lions organization. The many other activities carried on by club members are financed by other means. Frank J. Ruggerio is chairman of the campaign and contributions may be sent to the Plattekill Lions Club, Platekill.

Wilson Edmunds Jr., Joe Ruggerio, Charles Costello and Joe Corso are local students of the Wallkill Central High School and members of the basketball team, contending for this year's crown in the Ulster County Village High School Basketball League.

Franklyn M. Branley, teacher of science at the Jersey City State Teachers College in Jersey City, N. J., who spent the early part of his childhood in Plattekill, collaborated with Prof. Beelor of the Potsdam State Teachers College in the authorship of the seventh in a series of books on elementary science. Mr. Branley also is author of a fictional novel Lodestar. He is a graduate of the New Paltz State Teachers College, class of 1936. He also holds degrees from New York University and Columbia University, and has taught at State Teachers College at Troy, Ala., and Columbia University. For several years the three Branley boys, Kenneth, Melville and Franklyn, made their home with Mr. and Mrs. Vernard B. Wager.

Squeeze Plays Are Worth Learning

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Just in case you're stuck for a last-minute gift for a bridge player, I'm devoting this week's articles to some of the best bridge books of the last year or so. Practically all bridge players can read, and most of them enjoy reading about their favorite game.

Serious students of the game may be interested in Clyde E. Love's "Squeeze Play in Bridge." Practically the whole book deals with this advanced play, so it's not at all meant for the beginner.

Some of the side comments in the book are just as interesting as the material that deals with the sequence, and it is one of these other angles that is covered in the material quoted today:

"When a player is known to have the false-carding habit, the enemy will pay no attention except in the quite frequent cases where a waffle-headed false card exposes the very thing it is supposed to conceal.

"Suppose for a moment that declarer has won the first trick with the king. With five spades to the king declarer would have bid the suit: thus West has at least four remaining. If they include the ace, the suit is very likely to run. The decision is not even close; out comes the spade (when East takes the ace of clubs), and declarer claims the rest.

"But when the ace of spades is played to the first trick, East takes stock. The spade return hands declarer a cold certainty of game and in all probablity a small slam. Where, oh, where can the little king be? West's lead denies it; East's play of the deuce of spades at the first trick denies it. Thus, everyone at the table, including the dummy, is fully informed.

"For a diamond switch to succeed, West must hold A-Q-x; in fact, if declarer holds up, West must hold A-Q-x-x. Not so good. But as the only hope East lays down the jack of diamonds and sets the contract two—a little swing of five tricks because declarer, as he fatly thinks, "conceals" his strength. Put a handful of feathers on him and you couldn't tell him from an ostrich."

An interesting little item to find in a book on squeeze plays.

Ex-Pilot's Bloodhounds Set New Tracking Mark

NORMAN WILSON AND HOUNDS—"Once the bug hits you . . ."

By ELLIS LUCIA
NEA Special Correspondent

Los Gatos, Calif.—(NEA)—Three lop-eared bloodhounds are basking lazily in the sun here, apparently unaware that their astounding tracking talents have established a new national record for following an old trail.

The dogs, whose fame is growing rapidly throughout the West, belong to Norman Wilson, a 29-year-old former navy pilot and until recently a deputy sheriff. They have participated in nearly half a hundred successful searches saving many lives and clearing up mysteries surrounding the disappearance of several persons.

NOT LONG AGO, a family of three, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Zeiszler, and Mrs. Zeiszler's son, Harvey Hoff, 13, became lost while deer hunting in the western Oregon forests. The family had been in the woods several days before being missed. Over 150 men searched the countryside, starting where the Zeiszler car was found. After a week they still could find no trace.

Wilson offered to bring his dogs. The trail was quite cold by then and incessant rains had fallen in the area. However, the dogs and master were flown north.

The hounds picked up the scent almost immediately and within three hours located the body of the boy. Bodies of the man and woman were found the following day. Inexperienced in woodcraft, the three had died of panic and exposure.

WHEN THE DOGS found the scent, the Hoff-Zeiszler trail was 341 hours old. Wilson is claiming a new national record with the American Bloodhound Club, topping the former record of 105 hours.

Since there aren't many trained bloodhounds anymore, demands are heavy for Wilson's dogs, especially during tourist camping and the hunting seasons. His dogs are his hobby. He is willing to go anywhere, asking only expenses to and from his Los Gatos home.

Wilson's interest in bloodhounds goes back to 1946 when he was still in the navy. His buddy crash-landed in the Florida Everglades and in a dazed condition wandered into the swamp. A bloodhound found him alive.

Right then Wilson swore he had to have a dog. Two years later he bought Queen Guinevere of Laureloak, better known as Bernice. She now works with two of her pups, Doc Holliday and Big Nose Kate.

"Once the bloodhound bug hits you, you've had it," Wilson says. An experienced person can estimate, from the color of the streak, the amount of other metal alloyed with the gold.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

The men who run the nation's food stores figure you ought to enjoy Christmas dinner even more this year than last—prices of both turkeys and smoked hams are eight to 10 cents cheaper a pound than a year ago.

These two meats, needless to say, are the big features this week, but food men say they're selling a lot of frying chickens, too. In this case also, prices are down around a dime from a year ago.

If you plan to break with tradition, your best buys in meats will be found in pork and lamb (beef prices are still high). A good number of stores are featuring pork loins and legs of lamb.

VEAL ROASTS also are being advertised as specials by scattered markets. This meat, not popular in some parts of the country, has long been regarded as a good buy.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture calls your attention to eggs this week. It says large supplies, high quality and low prices make eggs a real bargain. Supplies are so abundant, in fact, that the poultry industry and the department have designated January as "egg month."

In the produce markets, specialists pick eastern potatoes, onions, old crop cabbage, western lettuce and nearby carrots, parsnips, turnips and topped beets as your best buys of the week. "Good buys" include sweet potatoes (dry type), greens such as kale and collards and bunched beets from Texas.

COLDER WEATHER has cut into supplies of cucumbers, eggplants, beans, escarole, endive, and big Boston and Romaine lettuce.

As for Christmas items, the produce men say yams are nearly twice as high as the dry sweet potatoes, but "moderately priced," nevertheless. Cranberries will cost a bit more than at Thanksgiving.

Tangerines, a Christmas fruit, are considered a good buy, along with avocadoes, limes, oranges and grapefruit. The only grape arriving at wholesale markets in good volume is the Emperor, and that is rated a worthwhile purchase.

A few crates of strawberries showed up in eastern markets this week. They were flown from Florida. The price, of course, is high.

Christmas

It's Christmas again — that joyous day when Christians, the world over, pay homage to Christ, the Prince of Peace. This Christmastide let us all worship and rededicate ourselves to the service of God and country. Let us pray to Him to keep us steadfast in our faith. Let us give thinks for being Americans—for the bounty and privileges that are ours. Let us bring cheer and hope to the sick and sorrowful. In our devotions, let us remember to pray for those whose daily lives are darkened by persecution, hunger and fear, that they again may enjoy the Light of freedom. Let us ask God to help our leaders, and those of other lands, to attain unity and brotherhood among nations so that all peoples may come to live together in peace.

It is our fervent hope that there may be peace on earth and forever afterwards good will among all nations.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

$2 Plus Increase Noted in Tax Rates

Saugerties, Dec. 23—According to an announcement by Town Supervisor Peter M. Williams the Town of Saugerties tax rate will be increased by $2.636 and the village rate for town purposes will be higher by $2.73.

The tax rate for last year was $17.565 for general purposes and $19.603 for highway taxes. The village tax rate for town purposes was $17.565 for general use and the town highway taxes paid by village residents was rated at $10.035.

Williams said that the increased county budget approved by the Board of Supervisors last week represents the increase in the rate. Each township in the county is apportioned a share of the county budget.

The town budget which was approved in November actually showed a decrease of more than $8,000. The budget approved after a public hearing totaled $65,300 which included the costs for highway and public health.

At the time of the budget approval Williams said that normally a decrease in the budget of over $8,000 would indicate a cut in the town tax rate of at least $2 per thousand on assessed valuation.

This would seem to indicate that economies in the town administration have saved the taxpayers about half the amount apportioned by the county to cover the increased costs of operation for 1955.

Half-Way Mark Hit In Petition Signees

Saugerties, Dec. 23 — The Centralization Study Committee has announced that more than half of the required number of village signatures have been secured on the informative petition which is being circulated by members of the committee and volunteers.

The petition requests that a vote be taken on the centralization proposal. If the vote of the residents is favorable then steps will be taken to adopt the centralization program for the schools of Saugerties.

The committee reported that meetings have been held in Cedar Grove, Blue Mountain, Daisy, Asbury, Katsbaan, Quarryville, and Glenerie.

However, meetings have not been held in districts which have schools that are closed. These districts include High Woods, Fish Creek, Churchland, Pine Grove and Veteran.

After the holidays meetings for the purpose of presenting the Centralization Program to the public will be scheduled upon invitation for West Camp, Malden, Flatbush, Mt. Marion, Ruby, West Saugerties, Glasco, Saxton, and Manorville.

The rural districts where schools are closed and elementary children are enrolled in village schools have been signing the petition with great enthusiasm. High Woods has signed 97 per cent and Pine Grove has signed 95 per cent.

To date no check has been made of the other rural districts, however all house-to-house canvassers report satisfactory results. A complete check of all petitions will be made some time in February.

Church Activities

Saugerties, Dec. 23 — The Bible Schools of the First Baptist Church of Saugerties will present their Christmas program Monday, Dec. 27, at 7:30 p. m. There will be songs, recitations and exercises by the group.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Saugerties Methodist Church will have a Christmas Birthday party Tuesday, Dec. 28. There will be 12 tables, one for each month of the year. The luncheon will begin at 12 noon.

The primary department of the Sunday school of the Methodist Church will have a Christmas party Thursday, Dec. 30, at 1 p. m. The Junior and Intermediate party is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. All the children of the church are invited.

Rebekahs Will Hold Yule Party Dec. 29

Saugerties, Dec. 23 — The West Saugerties Rebekah Lodge is sponsoring a Christmas party and entertainment for the children of the community Wednesday, Dec. 29, at 7:30 in Odd Fellows Hall.

Plans were formulated at the regular meeting of the group. A donation of $5 was sent to the Odd Fellows Home and Orphanage at Ithaca. The money will be used toward a Christmas party.

Mrs. William Johnson, a charter member of the group will celebrate her 62nd wedding anniversary Jan. 2.

The members of the lodge will conduct a short business meeting Thursday, Jan. 6, at which time secret pals will be revealed.

The district deputy president of Ulste District, Mrs. Evelyn L. Hob..g, will make an official visit to the lodge on Jan. 20.

The committee to serve for the January meeting includes Mrs. George G. Jehle, Mrs. William Brown and Mrs. Allen Higgins.

Lions Entertain 11 Youngsters at Party

Saugerties, Dec. 23—Eleven Saugerties boys were feted at the traditional Christmas celebration held by the Saugerties Lions Club Monday night at the Flamingo Restaurant.

Ninety members and guests attended the program which was conducted by Steve Stycos, chairman and his assistant Tail Twister Austin Simmons.

The eleven boys were served a turkey dinner through the courtesy of the management of the Flamingo Restaurant. Following the dinner Christmas songs and carols were sung and Santa Claus arrived to distribute gifts.

Each boy was the recipient of a jacket, gloves, hat, woolen shirt, sweater, trousers, four pairs of socks, two sets of underwear, a tie, shoes and boots, a basket of fruit and a special purse for their mothers.

Frankie Zano supplied the music with the help of Joe Montano and William Plimley led the singing. The invocation was offered by the Rev. Charles Burke, pastor of St. Mary's Church. President Myron Banks presided at the banquet and party.

Dump Problem Topic For Local Trustees

Saugerties, Dec. 23—During the Village Board of Trustees regular meeting Monday night in the Municipal Building Mayor George P. Holmes made known that he was unable to reach an agreement with the Town Board in regard to assistance in maintaining the village dump on Ulster avenue.

It has been the contention of the village board that the dump used for village purposes is being allegedly used by town residents without charge and that some financial aid should, come from the township to help maintain the facility.

Mayor Holmes told the trustees that he had received assurances that the Town Board was willing to help "in certain instances," but could not authorize expending money for that purpose.

At a recent meeting between representatives of both governing bodies it was unofficially reported that the Town Board's reason for not giving financial aid to the upkeep of the dump was due to the fact that the township maintains other facilities in the village, such as Cantine Memorial Field, which is used mainly by village residents.

$2 Plus Increase Noted in Tax Rates

Saugerties, Dec. 23—According to an announcement by Town Supervisor Peter M. Williams the Town of Saugerties tax rate will be increased by $2.636 and the village rate for town purposes will be higher by $2.73.

The tax rate for last year was $17.565 for general purposes and $19.603 for highway taxes. The village tax rate for town purposes was $17.565 for general use and the town highway taxes paid by village residents was rated at $10.035.

Williams said that the increased county budget approved by the Board of Supervisors last week represents the increase in the rate. Each township in the county is apportioned a share of the county budget.

The town budget which was approved in November actually showed a decrease of more than $8,000. The budget approved after a public hearing totaled $65,300 which included the costs for highway and public health.

At the time of the budget approval Williams said that normally a decrease in the budget of over $8,000 would indicate a cut in the town tax rate of at least $2 per thousand on assessed valuation.

This would seem to indicate that economies in the town administration have saved the taxpayers about half the amount apportioned by the county to cover the increased costs of operation for 1955.

Half-Way Mark Hit In Petition Signees

Saugerties, Dec. 23 — The Centralization Study Committee has announced that more than half of the required number of village signatures have been secured on the informative petition which is being circulated by members of the committee and volunteers.

The committee reported that meetings have been held in Cedar Grove, Blue Mountain, Daisy, Asbury, Katsbaan, Quarryville, and Glenerie.

However, meetings have not been held in districts which have schools that are closed. These districts include High Woods, Fish Creek, Churchland, Pine Grove and Veteran.

After the holidays meetings for the purpose of presenting the Centralization Program to the public will be scheduled upon invitation for West Camp, Malden, Flatbush, Mt. Marion, Ruby, West Saugerties, Glasco, Saxton, and Manorville.

The rural districts where schools are closed and elementary children are enrolled in village schools have been signing the petition with great enthusiasm. High Woods has signed 97 per cent and Pine Grove has signed 95 per cent.

To date no check has been made of the other rural districts, however all house-to-house canvassers report satisfactory results. A complete check of all petitions will be made some time in February.

LIVING PORTRAIT OF THE NATIVITY SCENE—Members of the Old Dutch Church are again taking part in the annual portrayal of the Nativity. The manger scene which is set in a corner of the churchyard facing Wall street, attracts many spectators among uptown shoppers these cold evenings. In addition to the shepherds and principals, in native dress, there are sheep and a well-behaved donkey to complete the realism of this timely scene. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool is pastor of the Old Dutch Church. Mrs. Oudemool supervises the arrangements of the scene, with church members taking the parts in various "shifts," each evening until Christmas. Audrey Burke Weds Pfc. Richard Schultz In Old Dutch Church

Miss Audrey Allen Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Allen Burke of 190 Washington avenue, became the bride of Pfc. Richard Wallace Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Schultz of 2023 Fairlawn Parkway, Schenectady, in a double ring ceremony held Saturday, at 3 p. m. at Old Dutch Church. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Dean Dykstra of Fair Street Reformed Church.

Traditional organ selections were played for the ceremony. Floral decorations were evergreen and poinsettias with candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk antique taffeta, with scalloped neckline outlined with seed pearls, long fitted sleeves and a chapel train. She carried a nosegay of white roses, sweet peas and carnations.

Miss Millicent Clayton, cousin of the bridegroom, of Rome, was maid of honor. Mrs. Bernard Bouton, of Halcott Center, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Their gowns were of iridescent taffeta in ballerina length, fashioned with an Empire waistline and princess style skirt. Miss Clayton's was in gold and Mrs. Bouton's in green. They carried nosegays of heather, geraniums, roses and sweet peas.

The attendants were Miss Inez Mallery, of Sharon Springs, Miss Barbara Stempel of Geneva, and Mrs. Milan Krchniak of Phelps. Their gowns in lavender were identical in styling to that worn by the honor attendants. They carried identical bouquets.

Bernard Bouton, brother-in-law of the bride, of Halcott Center, served as best man. The ushers were Paul Donohue of Brooklyn, James Embree of this city, Walter Davis of Troy, and Philip Bulken of Monticello.

A reception was held in Bethany Hall for 75 guests immediately following the ceremony.

For the wedding trip to the Pocono mountains, the bride chose a three piece suit of sea green with bronze accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School is an alumna of Albany State College for Teachers where she was a member of Phi Delta social sorority. She is now on the commerce faculty in the high school at Dover Plains.

LIVING PORTRAIT OF THE NATIVITY SCENE—Members of the Old Dutch Church are again taking part in the annual portrayal of the Nativity. The manger scene which is set in a corner of the churchyard facing Wall street, attracts many spectators among uptown shoppers these cold evenings. In addition to the shepherds and principals, in native dress, there are sheep and a well-behaved donkey to complete the realism of this timely scene. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool is pastor of the Old Dutch Church. Mrs. Oudemool supervises the arrangements of the scene, with church members taking the parts in various "shifts," each evening until Christmas. (Freeman photo)

Audrey Burke Weds Pfc. Richard Schultz In Old Dutch Church

Miss Audrey Allen Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Allen Burke of 190 Washington avenue, became the bride of Pfc. Richard Wallace Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Schultz of 2023 Fairlawn Parkway, Schenectady, in a double ring ceremony held Saturday, at 3 p. m. at Old Dutch Church. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Dean Dykstra of Fair Street Reformed Church.

Traditional organ selections were played for the ceremony. Floral decorations were evergreen and poinsettias with candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk antique taffeta, with scalloped neckline outlined with seed pearls, long fitted sleeves and a chapel train. She carried a nosegay of white roses, sweet peas and carnations.

Miss Millicent Clayton, cousin of the bridegroom, of Rome, was maid of honor. Mrs. Bernard Bouton, of Halcott Center, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Their gowns were of iridescent taffeta in ballerina length, fashioned with an Empire waistline and princess style skirt. Miss Clayton's was in gold and Mrs. Bouton's in green. They carried nosegays of heather, geraniums, roses and sweet peas.

The attendants were Miss Inez Mallery, of Sharon Springs, Miss Barbara Stempel of Geneva, and Mrs. Milan Krchniak of Phelps. Their gowns in lavender were identical in styling to that worn by the honor attendants. They carried identical bouquets.

Bernard Bouton, brother-in-law of the bride, of Halcott Center, served as best man. The ushers were Paul Donohue of Brooklyn, James Embree of this city, Walter Davis of Troy, and Philip Bulken of Monticello.

A reception was held in Bethany Hall for 75 guests immediately following the ceremony.

For the wedding trip to the Pocono mountains, the bride chose a three piece suit of sea green with bronze accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School is an alumna of Albany State College for Teachers where she was a member of Phi Delta social sorority. She is now on the commerce faculty in the high school at Dover Plains.

The bridegroom, who graduated from Kingston High School and attended St. Lawrence University, is serving with 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, N. C.

Des Moines (AP) — Superior scholarship will receive greater recognition and encouragement in Des Moines senior and junior high schools in a plan advanced by the school board. Such practices as occasional notes to parents and pupils, quiet praise, scholarship rolls and certificates, and public recognition of scholarly achievements, will be tried.

Kingston Council Entertains Children At Christmas Party

Kingston Council No. 275 of the Knights of Columbus was host to 400 children at a Christmas party, Sunday afternoon at the council home.

An hour of entertainment was given by the Cashin School of Dancing, with performances in tap, acrobatic and clog dancing, as well as in baton twirling and singing.

Santa Claus distributed gifts and candy to all children present later in the afternoon. Following his visit, the guests were served refreshments.

'Pulled to Heaven'

A SENSITIVE MOTHER

A letter tells me: "I keep house for my bachelor son and, of course, I am hostess when he entertains his friends at dinner. Don't you think I should be invited sometimes with him at least to the houses of those who are married? Am I right in feeling slighted over this?

If his friends entertain a great deal and if you are congenial not only to them but to their other friends, then I think that on occasion they would include you. On the other hand, as is probable, if you belong to a circle quite apart from that of your son's, the reason you are not included is obvious and you have no reason to feel personally slighted because you are not invited.

Housewarming Questions

Dear Mrs. Post: We have moved at last into our house and would like to give a housewarming. Would you please tell me (1) How far in advance should the invitations be mailed? (2) Does the hostess take the guests' wraps? (3) Must the whole house be shown? (4) What would be the least amount of refreshments to serve?

Answer: (1) A week to ten days is the usual time. (2) At a party of any size, there should be someone in the hall, either a member of the hostess' family or a volunteering friend, to tell the guests where to take off their wraps or assist them if necessary. The hostess, meanwhile, is busy receiving people in the living room. (3) Yes. (4) Tea or punch with cookies and small simple sandwiches. Or possibly doughnuts with cider which would be simplest to provide and also would be very satisfying and therefore sufficient.

Accepting by Telephone

Dear Mrs. Post: When one receives an invitation to a wedding and reception with the words "Please reply" on it, is it ever permissible to telephone your acceptance, or must it always be acknowledged by hand?

Answer: To an intimate friend it could be telephoned.

Good Taste Today

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

A SENSITIVE MOTHER

A letter tells me: "I keep house for my bachelor son and, of course, I am hostess when he entertains his friends at dinner. Don't you think I should be invited sometimes with him at least to the houses of those who are married? Am I right in feeling slighted over this?

If his friends entertain a great deal and if you are congenial not only to them but to their other friends, then I think that on occasion they would include you. On the other hand, as is probable, if you belong to a circle quite apart from that of your son's, the reason you are not included is obvious and you have no reason to feel personally slighted because you are not invited.

Housewarming Questions

Dear Mrs. Post: We have moved at last into our house and would like to give a housewarming. Would you please tell me (1) How far in advance should the invitations be mailed? (2) Does the hostess take the guests' wraps? (3) Must the whole house be shown? (4) What would be the least amount of refreshments to serve?

Answer: (1) A week to ten days is the usual time. (2) At a party of any size, there should be someone in the hall, either a member of the hostess' family or a volunteering friend, to tell the guests where to take off their wraps or assist them if necessary. The hostess, meanwhile, is busy receiving people in the living room. (3) Yes. (4) Tea or punch with cookies and small simple sandwiches. Or possibly doughnuts with cider which would be simplest to provide and also would be very satisfying and therefore sufficient.

Accepting by Telephone

Dear Mrs. Post: When one receives an invitation to a wedding and reception with the words "Please reply" on it, is it ever permissible to telephone your acceptance, or must it always be acknowledged by hand?

Answer: To an intimate friend it could be telephoned.

Eve Candlelight Service Planned At Presbyterian

The second annual Christmas Eve candlelight service at the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street and Tremper avenue, will begin at 10:45 p. m. Friday with organ prelude entitled, Christmas in Sicily by Yon, played by Miss Edna Merrihew, organist and choir director, on the recently rebuilt and electrified Barnes and Buhl organ.

In addition to four Christmas hymns in which the congregation will join, the following choral program has been arranged for the service by Miss Merrihew:

Solo, The Virgin's Slumber Song by Reger, to be sung by Miss Emily Flowers, alto; anthem by the senior choir, What A Wonder, arranged by Clarence Dickinson; duet, Lullaby, Little Jesus, by Gounod, sung by Miss Flowers and Mrs. Donald Short, soprano; solo, Nazareth by Gounod, sung by Edward Granberg, baritone; solo, The Birthday of a King by Neidlinger, sung by Mrs. Short; and the organ postlude, Christmas Carol by Bach.

Following a brief sermon on The Miracle of Miracles and a prayer by the pastor, the Rev. William J. McVey, the ceremony of candlelighting is introduced by the pastor with appropriate quotations from Scripture on the subject of Light. The ushers then come forward and stand in front of the platform. Simultaneously the church lights gradually go out, leaving only one light, the light from the large candle on communion table, representing Christ, the Light of The World. From that light the pastor lights his candle, and the ushers in turn light their candles from the pastor's candle. Proceeding down the aisles the ushers light the candle of the person seated in each pew next to the aisle, who in turn will light the candles of other worshippers in the pew. When every worshipper's candle is lighted the choir and congregation join in singing the carol, Silent Night, Holy Night. This is followed by a prayer of consecration and the Lord's Prayer; and after a minute's pause all candles are extinguished. Then the congregation rises to sing the hymn, Joy to the World, The Lord Is Come; at the conclusion of which the benediction is pronounced and the service closes with organ postlude of Bach's Christmas Carol.

The service, which is sponsored by the session of church, is open to the public to which a cordial invitation is extended.

Redeemer Church Plans Eve Service On Friday Night

The annual Christmas Eve service of music and candlelighting will be held at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers streets, Friday at 11 p. m. The doors of the church will be open at 10 p. m. so that early arrivals may worship in quiet in the candle-lighted sanctuary before the poinsettia-banked altar.

The service will be conducted by the pastor of the church, the Rev. David C. Gaise, who will read the Christmas lessons and present a Nativity meditation on the subject, Christmas Is of the Heart. Members of the congregation will join in the singing of the well-loved carols and participate in the traditional spreading of the light, a richly symbolic ritual whereby the flame of a single large candle burning on the altar before the cross is passed from individual to individual among the worshippers until hundreds of candle-flames held aloft in their hands illumine the vaulted nave of the sanctuary.

CHORAL MUSIC for the occasion has been prepared by the Redeemer senior choir augmented by many former members who are in the armed forces or away at college and have returned for the holidays. Under the direction of Leonard Stine, the group will present the following anthems: The Gloria from the Twelfth Mass of Mozart; Carol of the Little King by Caldwell; the Hallelujah Chorus from the Messiah by Handel and Cantique de Noel by Adam. The solo in the latter anthem and the alto solo, How Beautiful Upon the Mountains, by Harker will be sung by Miss Gretchen Bence, a former member of the choir. Miss Bence was soloist with the Robert Shaw Chorale on their fall West Coast Concert tour and will soon return to Germany where she will pursue her studies toward an operatic career. She recently completed a year's study in the Stuttgart Hochschule for Music under a Fulbright scholarship.

As the congregation gathers for the service, Mrs. Maida Blankschen will play a concert of Christmas carols on the chime of cast bells in the church tower and Mrs. Lelia Decker will present The Holy Night by Buck and five versions of In Dulce Jubilo as organ preludes. The latter numbers are three historic arrangements by Zachau and Bach and two modern versions by Peeters, a Belgian, and Dupre' a French composer. Mrs. Decker will play as an organ offertory the chorale, The Holy Child Shall Be My Consolation.

A warm welcome is extended to all to this festive service and to be in the sanctuary as midnight marks the arrival of Christmas.

St. John's Church To Welcome Yule At Midnight Mass

The traditional midnight Mass of Christmas Eve will be celebrated at St. John's Episcopal Church, Albany avenue, beginning at 11:30 p. m. Friday.

The Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector, will give a brief greeting on Christmas, the Festival of the Holy Child. All the Liturgical music of the service will be by a choir of mixed voices under the direction of Richard Davis, organist and choirmaster of St. John's.

In addition to the familiar hymns and carols sung during the service, there will be a special introit, Fanfare for Christmas, Gloria in Excelsis Deo, by Shaw. The offertory anthem by Yon, Gesu Bambino, has an incidental solo which will be sung by Harry Kapreilian. Christmas Concerto by Corelli and Grand Jesu by Du Mage will be played respectively as prelude and postlude.

Davis will play a program of organ music beginning after 11 p. m. which will include Christmas Chorale by Pachelbel, The Coventry Carol by Peery, Choral Prelude on Greensleeves by Rowley and March of the Magi Kings by DuBois.

Bohans to Hold Yule Reunion

LT. CMDR. N. C. BOHAN

According to an announcement from the navy, Lt. Cmdr. Norman C. Bohan and the crew of the destroyer USS Abbot have returned from a world cruise to be with their families at Christmas.

The communication to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bohan of Ulster Park, said the Abbot docked at Newport, R. I., December 18, completing the cruise started last June.

A CHRISTMAS reunion at Newport is planned by Commander Bohan with his parents and sister, Miss Mary Bohan.

Commander Bohan, a graduate of Kingston High School, finished at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, in 1943, and received promotions in service that led to his present commission.

Starting from Newport last summer with Destroyer Division 242 the Abbot transited the Panama Canal stopping at San Diego, Calif., and Pearl Harbor on its way to the Far East.

While in the Orient, according to the navy announcement, the ships operated as part of a fast carrier task force. They took part in the search and rescue operations of the British Cathay Airliner shot down by Chinese Communists off Hainan Island in July.

THE TRIP HOME was made via Singapore, Suez and the Mediterranean sea.

Commander Bohan's father, executive secretary of the Ulster County Civil Service Commission, is an army veteran of World War 1, prominent in American Legion activities, having served as commander of Kingston Post 150, and as vice commander of the Department of New York.

Ladejinsky Tries

Department security decision running contrary to theirs, said they intend to keep Ladejinsky on the payroll unless new evidence is discovered showing him to be a security risk. The department, however, withheld formal comment.

Ladejinsky himself called some portions of the Agricultural Department's summary of charges against him untrue and said that most of the points had been raised last spring when he was cleared by the State Department Security Division under R. W. Scott McLeod.

In Tokyo, embassy officials displayed obvious surprise at the announcement.

Rep. Judd said in a statement Ladejinsky had been dismissed without having been confronted directly with the charges against him.

Humphrey said in an interview that the Agriculture Department had "conjured up a mighty flimsy framework of excuses for what I call unwarranted action." He implied the purpose was political.

The department informed Ladejinsky of its decision last Thursday and made its first public statement on these charges yesterday:

1. "Mr. Ladejinsky was employed as an economist investigator and assistant to the chief of the Bureau of Transportation of the Soviet railroad, later known as Amtorg Trading Corp., during 1931.

"According to testimony of former Communists, to have been employed in any capacity by Amtorg Trading Corp. required clearance from the Communist Party."

Ladejinsky said in an interview that the job was only that of an interpreter and added that if he required Communist Party clearance he knew nothing about it.

2. The department said Ladejinsky has sisters in the U.S.S.R. and visited that country in 1939. In addition, it said, "His membership in two Communist front organizations, as well as information contained in classified reports raise questions which preclude the Department of Agriculture from granting Mr. Ladejinsky the necessary security clearance required for the position of attache, which clearance would make available to him the most highly classified documents of the U. S. government."

LADEJINSKY SAID he has not heard from his three younger sisters, living near Moscow, for seven or eight years.

He said he went to Russia in 1939 to visit his family and, at the request of the Department of Agriculture, surveyed Soviet agricultural developments.

As agricultural attache in Japan, Ladejinsky said he has had access to classified information and participated in embassy policy meetings there.

Ladejinsky said "I certainly never belonged" to the Washington Committee for Democratic Action, named by Milan Smith, executive assistant to Benson, as one of the alleged Communist fronts mentioned in the charges. Smith declined to name the other, saying the information came from FBI files.

3. The department said it needed in the attache's post a man closer to American farming operations and suggested that Ladejinsky had spent much of his time as attache handling special jobs on local agricultural problems in Asia.

Ladejinsky said he has had no formal agricultural education, but was born into a family of landowners engaged in the grain trade, and took graduate work at Columbia University which included studies of Soviet agricultural methods.

KHS Art Students Arrange Personal Windows for Yule

Two window decorations drawing considerable attention of Christmas shoppers in the uptown section of the city are those at the Personal Finance Company, 319 Wall street.

The decorations, the work of Myrna Donaldson and James Flynn, members of Mrs. Althea O'dell's art class at Kingston High School, depict a snowman and Santa Claus.

Objects stressed are both creative and practical and the decorations afford the students the opportunity to put their abilities to work for the enjoyment of the community at this Yuletide season of the year.

According to Mrs. O'dell, the high school art courses are planned to give the students a variety of experience in many art forms including crafts, advertising, design history, contemporary painting, costume design and three-dimensional forms.

The local finance office is managed by George M. Carpenter.

The office of DR. LEON S. GRAY 361 Broadway will be closed until Monday, Dec. 27

Eve Candlelight Service Planned At Presbyterian

The second annual Christmas Eve candlelight service at the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street and Tremper avenue, will begin at 10:45 p. m. Friday with organ prelude entitled, Christmas in Sicily by Yon, played by Miss Edna Merrihew, organist and choir director, on the recently rebuilt and electrified Barnes and Buhl organ.

In addition to four Christmas hymns in which the congregation will join, the following choral program has been arranged for the service by Miss Merrihew:

Solo, The Virgin's Slumber Song by Reger, to be sung by Miss Emily Flowers, alto; anthem by the senior choir, What A Wonder, arranged by Clarence Dickinson; duet, Lullaby, Little Jesus, by Gounod, sung by Miss Flowers and Mrs. Donald Short, soprano; solo, Nazareth by Gounod, sung by Edward Granberg, baritone; solo, The Birthday of a King by Neidlinger, sung by Mrs. Short; and the organ postlude, Christmas Carol by Bach.

Following a brief sermon on The Miracle of Miracles and a prayer by the pastor, the Rev. William J. McVey, the ceremony of candlelighting is introduced by the pastor with appropriate quotations from Scripture on the subject of Light. The ushers then come forward and stand in front of the platform. Simultaneously the church lights gradually go out, leaving only one light, the light from the large candle on communion table, representing Christ, the Light of The World. From that light the pastor lights his candle, and the ushers in turn light their candles from the pastor's candle. Proceeding down the aisles the ushers light the candle of the person seated in each pew next to the aisle, who in turn will light the candles of other worshippers in the pew. When every worshipper's candle is lighted the choir and congregation join in singing the carol, Silent Night, Holy Night. This is followed by a prayer of consecration and the Lord's Prayer; and after a minute's pause all candles are extinguished. Then the congregation rises to sing the hymn, Joy to the World, The Lord Is Come; at the conclusion of which the benediction is pronounced and the service closes with organ postlude of Bach's Christmas Carol.

The service, which is sponsored by the session of church, is open to the public to which a cordial invitation is extended.

Redeemer Church Plans Eve Service On Friday Night

The annual Christmas Eve service of music and candlelighting will be held at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers streets, Friday at 11 p. m. The doors of the church will be open at 10 p. m. so that early arrivals may worship in quiet in the candle-lighted sanctuary before the poinsettia-banked altar.

The service will be conducted by the pastor of the church, the Rev. David C. Gaise, who will read the Christmas lessons and present a Nativity meditation on the subject, Christmas Is of the Heart. Members of the congregation will join in the singing of the well-loved carols and participate in the traditional spreading of the light, a richly symbolic ritual whereby the flame of a single large candle burning on the altar before the cross is passed from individual to individual among the worshippers until hundreds of candle-flames held aloft in their hands illumine the vaulted nave of the sanctuary.

CHORAL MUSIC for the occasion has been prepared by the Redeemer senior choir augmented by many former members who are in the armed forces or away at college and have returned for the holidays. Under the direction of Leonard Stine, the group will present the following anthems: The Gloria from the Twelfth Mass of Mozart; Carol of the Little King by Caldwell; the Hallelujah Chorus from the Messiah by Handel and Cantique de Noel by Adam. The solo in the latter anthem and the alto solo, How Beautiful Upon the Mountains, by Harker will be sung by Miss Gretchen Bence, a former member of the choir. Miss Bence was soloist with the Robert Shaw Chorale on their fall West Coast Concert tour and will soon return to Germany where she will pursue her studies toward an operatic career. She recently completed a year's study in the Stuttgart Hochschule for Music under a Fulbright scholarship.

As the congregation gathers for the service, Mrs. Maida Blankschen will play a concert of Christmas carols on the chime of cast bells in the church tower and Mrs. Lelia Decker will present The Holy Night by Buck and five versions of In Dulce Jubilo as organ preludes. The latter numbers are three historic arrangements by Zachau and Bach and two modern versions by Peeters, a Belgian, and Dupre, a French composer. Mrs. Decker will play as an organ offertory the chorale, The Holy Child Shall Be My Consolation.

A warm welcome is extended to all to this festive service and to be in the sanctuary as midnight marks the arrival of Christmas.

The offertory anthem by Yon, Gesu Bambino, has an incidental solo which will be sung by Harry Kapreilian. Christmas Concerto by Corelli and Grand Jesu by Du Mage will be played respectively as prelude and postlude.

Bohans to Hold Yule Reunion

LT. CMDR. N. C. BOHAN

According to an announcement from the navy, Lt. Cmdr. Norman C. Bohan and the crew of the destroyer USS Abbot have returned from a world cruise to be with their families at Christmas.

The communication to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bohan of Ulster Park, said the Abbot docked at Newport, R. I., December 18, completing the cruise started last June.

Commander Bohan, a graduate of Kingston High School, finished at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, in 1943, and received promotions in service that led to his present commission.

Starting from Newport last summer with Destroyer Division 242 the Abbot transited the Panama Canal stopping at San Diego, Calif., and Pearl Harbor on its way to the Far East.

While in the Orient, according to the navy announcement, the ships operated as part of a fast carrier task force. They took part in the search and rescue operations of the British Cathay Airliner shot down by Chinese Communists off Hainan Island in July.

THE TRIP HOME was made via Singapore, Suez and the Mediterranean sea.

Commander Bohan's father, executive secretary of the Ulster County Civil Service Commission, is an army veteran of World War 1, prominent in American Legion activities, having served as commander of Kingston Post 150, and as vice commander of the Department of New York.

Ladejinsky Tries

Department security decision running contrary to theirs, said they intend to keep Ladejinsky on the payroll unless new evidence is discovered showing him to be a security risk. The department, however, withheld formal comment.

Ladejinsky himself called some portions of the Agricultural Department's summary of charges against him untrue and said that most of the points had been raised last spring when he was cleared by the State Department Security Division under R. W. Scott McLeod.

In Tokyo, embassy officials displayed obvious surprise at the announcement.

Rep. Judd said in a statement Ladejinsky had been dismissed without having been confronted directly with the charges against him.

Humphrey said in an interview that the Agriculture Department had "conjured up a mighty flimsy framework of excuses for what I call unwarranted action." He implied the purpose was political.

The department informed Ladejinsky of its decision last Thursday and made its first public statement on these charges yesterday:

1. "Mr. Ladejinsky was employed as an economist investigator and assistant to the chief of the Bureau of Transportation of the Soviet railroad, later known as Amtorg Trading Corp., during 1931.

"According to testimony of former Communists, to have been employed in any capacity by Amtorg Trading Corp. required clearance from the Communist Party."

Ladejinsky said in an interview that the job was only that of an interpreter and added that if he required Communist Party clearance he knew nothing about it.

2. The department said Ladejinsky has sisters in the U.S.S.R. and visited that country in 1939. In addition, it said, "His membership in two Communist front organizations, as well as information contained in classified reports raise questions which preclude the Department of Agriculture from granting Mr. Ladejinsky the necessary security clearance required for the position of attache, which clearance would make available to him the most highly classified documents of the U. S. government."

LADEJINSKY SAID he has not heard from his three younger sisters, living near Moscow, for seven or eight years.

He said he went to Russia in 1939 to visit his family and, at the request of the Department of Agriculture, surveyed Soviet agricultural developments.

As agricultural attache in Japan, Ladejinsky said he has had access to classified information and participated in embassy policy meetings there.

Ladejinsky said "I certainly never belonged" to the Washington Committee for Democratic Action, named by Milan Smith, executive assistant to Benson, as one of the alleged Communist fronts mentioned in the charges. Smith declined to name the other, saying the information came from FBI files.

3. The department said it needed in the attache's post a man closer to American farming operations and suggested that Ladejinsky had spent much of his time as attache handling special jobs on local agricultural problems in Asia.

Ladejinsky said he has had no formal agricultural education, but was born into a family of landowners engaged in the grain trade, and took graduate work at Columbia University which included studies of Soviet agricultural methods.

Eve Candlelight Service Planned At Presbyterian

The second annual Christmas Eve candlelight service at the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street and Tremper avenue, will begin at 10:45 p. m. Friday with organ prelude entitled, Christmas in Sicily by Yon, played by Miss Edna Merrihew, organist and choir director, on the recently rebuilt and electrified Barnes and Buhl organ.

In addition to four Christmas hymns in which the congregation will join, the following choral program has been arranged for the service by Miss Merrihew:

Solo, The Virgin's Slumber Song by Reger, to be sung by Miss Emily Flowers, alto; anthem by the senior choir, What A Wonder, arranged by Clarence Dickinson; duet, Lullaby, Little Jesus, by Gounod, sung by Miss Flowers and Mrs. Donald Short, soprano; solo, Nazareth by Gounod, sung by Edward Granberg, baritone; solo, The Birthday of a King by Neidlinger, sung by Mrs. Short; and the organ postlude, Christmas Carol by Bach.

Following a brief sermon on The Miracle of Miracles and a prayer by the pastor, the Rev. William J. McVey, the ceremony of candlelighting is introduced by the pastor with appropriate quotations from Scripture on the subject of Light. The ushers then come forward and stand in front of the platform. Simultaneously the church lights gradually go out, leaving only one light, the light from the large candle on communion table, representing Christ, the Light of The World. From that light the pastor lights his candle, and the ushers in turn light their candles from the pastor's candle. Proceeding down the aisles the ushers light the candle of the person seated in each pew next to the aisle, who in turn will light the candles of other worshippers in the pew. When every worshipper's candle is lighted the choir and congregation join in singing the carol, Silent Night, Holy Night. This is followed by a prayer of consecration and the Lord's Prayer; and after a minute's pause all candles are extinguished. Then the congregation rises to sing the hymn, Joy to the World, The Lord Is Come; at the conclusion of which the benediction is pronounced and the service closes with organ postlude of Bach's Christmas Carol.

The service, which is sponsored by the session of church, is open to the public to which a cordial invitation is extended.

No. 13 in a series of RARE CREATURES:

is happy go lucky—as long as luck is with him.

The GLOG is an advertiser who refuses to be moored to the crass world of facts and figures.

He may spend a million on advertising. But if you ask him why, he talks about golf.

If you ask him what he expects to get out of his ads, he raves about some oomph-girl who has caught the public eye.

Fortunately the GLOG is a rare creature.

Because only the newspaper reaches just about everybody in every community. Because only the newspaper carries the sense of urgency—"If it's advertised today, I'd better go down and get it quick."

No wonder advertisers invested twice as much money in newspapers last year as in any other medium!

All business is local...and so are all newspapers!

THE EVASIVE GLOG

is happy go lucky—as long as luck is with him

The GLOG is an advertiser who refuses to be moored to the crass world of facts and figures.

He may spend a million on advertising. But if you ask him why, he talks about golf.

If you ask him what he expects to get out of his ads, he raves about some oomph-girl who has caught the public eye.

You can't pin him down—because he honestly doesn't expect much from advertising.

Fortunately the GLOG is a rare creature.

So they don't try to cover the nation with a flimsy catch-all schedule. They pick their best markets—then really cover them.

Naturally they use newspapers. Because newspapers are basic—the foundation of any intelligent ad schedule.

Because only the newspaper reaches just about everybody in every community. Because only the newspaper carries the sense of urgency—"If it's advertised today, I'd better go down and get it quick."

No wonder advertisers invested twice as much money in newspapers last year as in any other medium!

All business is local...and so are all newspapers!

AMERICAN MENU

Blue Cheese Sauce Sparks Popular Shrimp Cocktail

BLUE CHEESE cocktail sauce, made in the United States, is something new for shrimp.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Shrimp cocktail is about the most popular de luxe American first course. Blue cheese, now being made in the United States with considerable success, is also popular. So we did a little experimenting with these two favorites. The result is a blue cheese shrimp cocktail. We think you'll enjoy it at one of your holiday dinner parties.

Blue Cheese Shrimp Cocktail
(Makes 6 servings)

One sup catsup, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, dash Tabasco, ½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces), 6 small lettuce cups, 1½ pounds shrimp, cooked, shelled and deveined, 1/3 cup chopped celery.

Combine catsup, onion, lemon juice Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco and cheese. Mix well and chill. Place lettuce in cocktail glasses. Arrange shrimp and celery in lettuce. Serve with cheese cocktail sauce.

Blue Cheese Baked Apples
(Makes 6 servings)

Six medium-sized apples, 1 cup crumbled American blue cheese (bout 4¼ ounces), 2 tablespoons currant jelly, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup water.

Core apples and peel upper halves. Combine cheese and jelly; mix well. Fill center cavities of apples with cheese mixture. Place in shallow baking dish. Combine sugar and water; bring to a boil and boil two minutes. Pour syrup over apples. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour, or until apples are tender. Baste occasionally during baking with syrup. Serve warm.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Blue cheese shrimp cocktail, fried frozen fillet of sole with tartar sauce, mashed potatoes, buttered broccoli, hard rolls, butter or margarine, raw carrot sticks, peach halves in syrup, macaroons, coffee, tea, milk.

Monticello Halts Maroon Cagers in Conference Game, 76-67

Faulty Pass Work Hurts Local Five

The list of unbeaten DUSO League teams was dwindled to just one after Monticello upended Kingston by 76 to 67 Wednesday night at the Monties' court.

As a result of the only conference game played, Newburgh is the sole possessor of first place this morning with an unblemished record of two wins against no setbacks.

DUSO League action will resume after the holiday recess on Friday, Jan. 7, when Newburgh and Kingston collide in a big tilt at the Kate Walton Field House.

Monticello's terrific shooting from the foul line and Kingston's faulty pass work were the two big items helping the downfall of the Kiasmen. The Monties converted 28 out of 38 foul tries with All-DUSO Mendy Ringel leading the pack with eight.

RINGEL AND Ron Trachtenberg, giving Monticello a solid one-two scoring punch, perhaps one of the best combos in the league this year, again led the mountaineers last night with 46 of the 76 markers. Ringel hit for six fields and his eight foul shots for 20 points while Trachtenberg, shooting superbly from the outside, nestled 26 points on 10 fields and six foul line conversions.

Despite the heroics of these two high-scoring gents, however, Kingston may have salvaged the game and their third straight DUSO victory with a smoother passing attack. From all appearances, that was the big difference.

SKIP BRODHEAD, who fouled out during the middle of the fourth canto, emerged as the No. 1 Maroon scorer with 22 markers with his nine two-pointers and four charity stripe tosses.

Bob Maines clicked for 14, Ray Lawrence 11, Tom Fleming and Marty Kantrowitz 10 apiece.

Kingston took a slim 18 to 14 lead at the first quarter and again led the Monties by 33 to 32 at halftime but there the lead vanished.

Monticello ripped through Kingston with 26 points in the third session to take a 58 to 54 edge and again out-scored the Maroons by 18 to 13 in the final quarter to nail down the important victory.

THE KHS JAYVEES went into overtime in the preliminary before absorbing a tough 42 to 35 defeat at the hands of the Monticello squad. The regulation game ended at 34-all. Monticello, with Jim Sheppard leading with 13 points (four coming in the overtime canto) registered eight markers in the extra period for the win. Kingston's lone score came on Larry Johnson's foul shot.

Bob Smith was the top scorer for Kingston with 14 points while Sheppard clicked for 13 to lead the Monties.

Bruins' Schmidt Quits as Player

Boston, Dec. 23 (AP)—Milt Schmidt, whose fiery play during 16 seasons in the rough and swift action of the National Hockey League stamped him as one of the game's all time greats, has hung up his skates to become coach of the Boston Bruins.

The 36-year-old Bruins captain and center announced his retirement from active play yesterday. He succeeds Lynn Patrick, who will confine himself to the general manager job. Winger Ed Sandford takes over as captain.

Rangers, Wings Battle to Tie

(By The Associated Press)

It seems that just about every time the Detroit Red Wings have a chance to gnaw into Montreal's first place lead in the National Hockey League, the New York Rangers pop up to cut short the meal ticket.

The Red Wings, having a tough time in pursuit of their seventh straight first place finish, could have moved within three points of the idle Canadiens last night, but the Rangers hustled all over the Madison Square Garden ice to hold Detroit to a 2-2 tie. The Red Wings, as a result, gained only a point on Montreal and moved into sole possession of second place over idle Toronto by the same margin.

A WEEK AGO, Detroit was in position to get within two points of the Canadiens, but the Rangers held them off, 3-3.

Edgar Laprade, New York's 35-year-old veteran, was the gent who clipped the Red Wings last night, setting up the Rangers' first goal, scoring himself for a temporary 2-1 lead and in general playing havoc with the Wings throughout.

South Pins Hopes on Air Game

Miami, Fla., Dec. 23 (AP)—College football's greatest gainer, fullback Alan Ameche of Wisconsin, will spearhead the north ground attack in the north-south all-star game here Christmas night, but the Yankees' hopes may ride with their passers.

North Coach Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin says he expects Ameche to gain plenty of yardage but he adds: "I think our chances will depend mostly on how well our throwers click."

Florian Helsinki of Indiana, Duncan McDonald of Michigan and Tom Gastall of Boston University have been doing the passing for the Yankees in the week's workouts. With ends Bob Long and Bob Heydenfeldt of UCLA on the receiving end, all three looked great.

DIXIE HAS dominated the seven-game all-star series, winning five games and tying one. In the east, the games have been wide-open aerial battles, but south Coach Andy Gustafson says the rebel offense this year will be based on running.

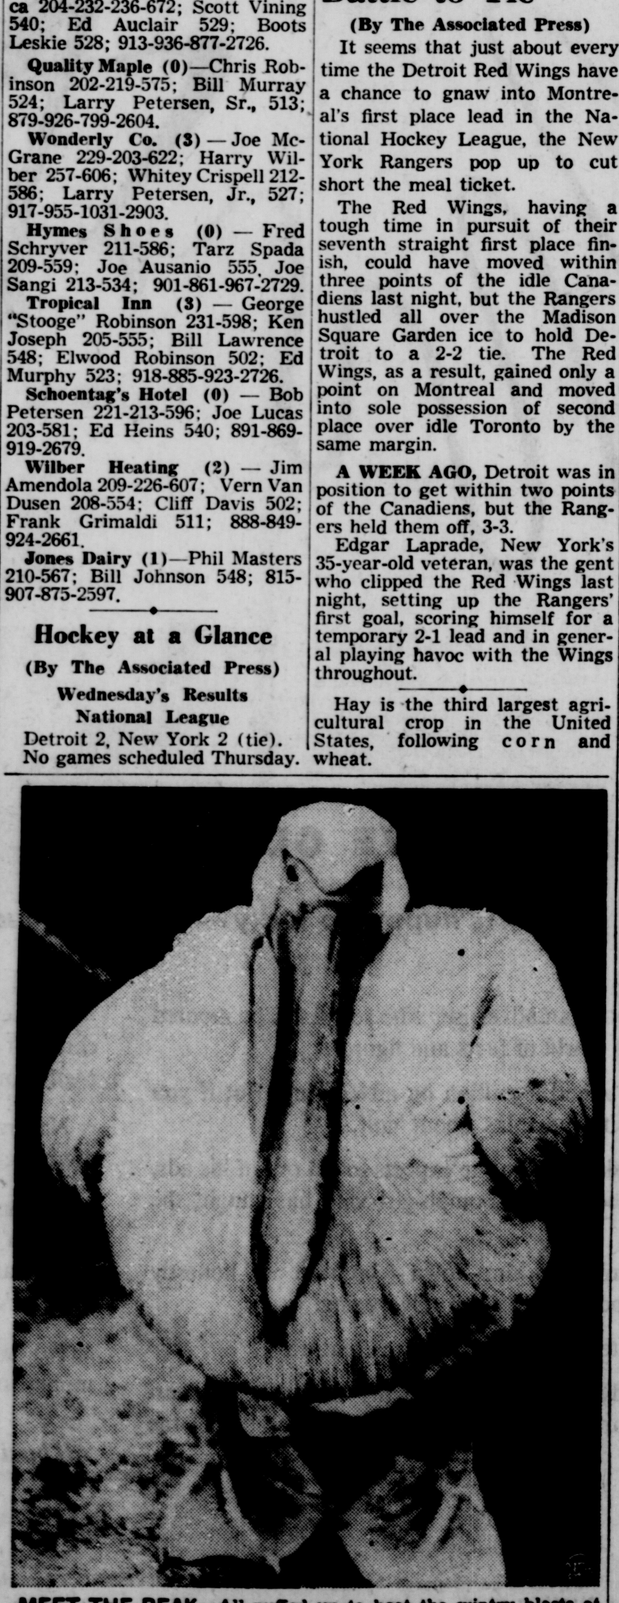

"We don't expect to hold Ameche," Gustafson said. "He'll score a couple. But we will outscore 'em—three touchdowns to two."

Kentucky Posts 30th Win in Row

By The Associated Press

The University of Kentucky was ready to celebrate Christmas in peace today, but several other top ranked teams, including Illinois and George Washington, can't say the same after another wave of major upsets on the college basketball courts.

Coach Adolph Rupp's Kentuckians bolstered their claim to the No. 1 ranking last night by easily defeating LaSalle 63-54 in the final of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament. It was their 30th straight victory, and 128 in a row on the home court at Lexington for the Ruppmen. LaSalle coach Ken Loeffler said the Wildcats were better than the unbeaten Kentucky club which won 25 games last season.

SAN FRANCISCO'S surprising Dons rocked tournament-weary George Washington 73-57 in the finals of the All-College Tourney at Oklahoma City, and highly touted Illinois of the Big Ten was blasted 72-66 by Loyola of New Orleans. In the consolation game at Lexington, Southern California upset Utah 54-52, after the Utes once led by 15 points.

The results were rough on the top ranked teams, for the AP poll this week had Utah No. 2, Illinois No. 3, LaSalle No. 4, and George Washington No. 8.

This was the second year in a row that Kentucky has beaten LaSalle in the Lexington tournament—last year it was by 73-60. Last night Kentucky went ahead at once to a 20-5 lead, and there was never much doubt about the outcome. Billy Evans got 20 points and Bob Burrow 18 for Kentucky. LaSalle's Tom Bola tabbed 20.

Bill Russell, outstanding player in the Oklahoma City tournament, again was the San Francisco star with 23 points. After a close first half, the Dons ran up a 55-30 lead and coasted the final 10 minutes. Joe Holup and Basil Sirello each scored 10 points for George Washington.

BRADLEY BEAT Southern Methodist 82-73, as Harvey Babetch of the Braves set a school home scoring record of 31 points.

Other Big Ten teams also found it tough sledding as Brigham Young upset Michigan 70-60, Butler downed Northwestern 83-62, DePaul edged Michigan State 76-75 and California took Ohio State 54-50 for the second straight night despite Robin Freeman's 34 points.

Trailing at halftime 36-35, Detroit came back fast to turn back Oregon 86-74. Guy Sparrow collected 30 points for the winners.

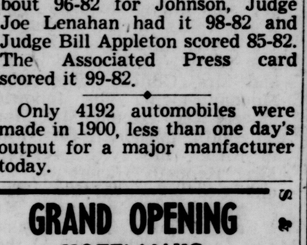

St. Louis, beaten Tuesday night by the University of Washington, came back to whip the Huskies 73-64, and Memphis State upset Nebraska 86-79.

Monticello Halts Maroon Cagers in Conference Game, 76-67

Faulty Pass Work Hurts Local Five

The list of unbeaten DUSO League teams was dwindled to just one after Monticello upended Kingston by 76 to 67 Wednesday night at the Monties' court.

As a result of the only conference game played, Newburgh is the sole possessor of first place this morning with an unblemished record of two wins against no setbacks.

DUSO League action will resume after the holiday recess on Friday, Jan. 7, when Newburgh and Kingston collide in a big tilt at the Kate Walton Field House.

Monticello's terrific shooting from the foul line and Kingston's faulty pass work were the two big items helping the downfall of the Kiasmen. The Monties converted 28 out of 38 foul tries with All-DUSO Mendy Ringel leading the pack with eight.

RINGEL AND Ron Trachtenberg, giving Monticello a solid one-two scoring punch, perhaps one of the best combos in the league this year, again led the mountaineers last night with 46 of the 76 markers. Ringel hit for six fields and his eight foul shots for 20 points while Trachtenberg, shooting superbly from the outside, nestled 26 points on 10 fields and six foul line conversions.

Despite the heroics of these two high-scoring gents, however, Kingston may have salvaged the game and their third straight DUSO victory with a smoother passing attack. From all appearances, that was the big difference.

SKIP BRODHEAD, who fouled out during the middle of the fourth canto, emerged as the No. 1 Maroon scorer with 22 markers with his nine two-pointers and four charity stripe tosses.

Bob Maines clicked for 14, Ray Lawrence 11, Tom Fleming and Marty Kantrowitz 10 apiece.

Kingston took a slim 18 to 14 lead at the first quarter and again led the Monties by 33 to 32 at halftime but there the lead vanished.

Monticello ripped through Kingston with 26 points in the third session to take a 58 to 54 edge and again out-scored the Maroons by 18 to 13 in the final quarter to nail down the important victory.

THE KHS JAYVEES went into overtime in the preliminary before absorbing a tough 42 to 35 defeat at the hands of the Monticello squad. The regulation game ended at 34-all. Monticello, with Jim Sheppard leading with 13 points (four coming in the overtime canto) registered eight markers in the extra period for the win. Kingston's lone score came on Larry Johnson's foul shot.

Bob Smith was the top scorer for Kingston with 14 points while Sheppard clicked for 13 to lead the Monties.

Bruins' Schmidt Quits as Player

Boston, Dec. 23 (AP)—Milt Schmidt, whose fiery play during 16 seasons in the rough and swift action of the National Hockey League stamped him as one of the game's all time greats, has hung up his skates to become coach of the Boston Bruins.

The 36-year-old Bruins captain and center announced his retirement from active play yesterday. He succeeds Lynn Patrick, who will confine himself to the general manager job. Winger Ed Sandford takes over as captain.

Rangers, Wings Battle to Tie

(By The Associated Press)

It seems that just about every time the Detroit Red Wings have a chance to gnaw into Montreal's first place lead in the National Hockey League, the New York Rangers pop up to cut short the meal ticket.

The Red Wings, having a tough time in pursuit of their seventh straight first place finish, could have moved within three points of the idle Canadiens last night, but the Rangers hustled all over the Madison Square Garden ice to hold Detroit to a 2-2 tie. The Red Wings, as a result, gained only a point on Montreal and moved into sole possession of second place over idle Toronto by the same margin.

A WEEK AGO, Detroit was in position to get within two points of the Canadiens, but the Rangers held them off, 3-3.

Edgar Laprade, New York's 35-year-old veteran, was the gent who clipped the Red Wings last night, setting up the Rangers' first goal, scoring himself for a temporary 2-1 lead and in general playing havoc with the Wings throughout.

South Pins Hopes on Air Game

Miami, Fla., Dec. 23 (AP)—College football's greatest gainer, fullback Alan Ameche of Wisconsin, will spearhead the north ground attack in the north-south all-star game here Christmas night, but the Yankees' hopes may ride with their passers.

North Coach Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin says he expects Ameche to gain plenty of yardage but he adds: "I think our chances will depend mostly on how well our throwers click."

Florian Helsinki of Indiana, Duncan McDonald of Michigan and Tom Gastall of Boston University have been doing the passing for the Yankees in the week's workouts. With ends Bob Long and Bob Heydenfeldt of UCLA on the receiving end, all three looked great.

DIXIE HAS dominated the seven-game all-star series, winning five games and tying one. In the east, the games have been wide-open aerial battles, but south Coach Andy Gustafson says the rebel offense this year will be based on running.

"We don't expect to hold Ameche," Gustafson said. "He'll score a couple. But we will outscore 'em—three touchdowns to two."

Kentucky Posts 30th Win in Row

By The Associated Press

The University of Kentucky was ready to celebrate Christmas in peace today, but several other top ranked teams, including Illinois and George Washington, can't say the same after another wave of major upsets on the college basketball courts.

Coach Adolph Rupp's Kentuckians bolstered their claim to the No. 1 ranking last night by easily defeating LaSalle 63-54 in the final of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament. It was their 30th straight victory, and 128 in a row on the home court at Lexington for the Ruppmen. LaSalle coach Ken Loeffler said the Wildcats were better than the unbeaten Kentucky club which won 25 games last season.

SAN FRANCISCO'S surprising Dons rocked tournament-weary George Washington 73-57 in the finals of the All-College Tourney af Oklahoma City, and highly touted Illinois of the Big Ten was blasted 72-66 by Loyola of New Orleans. In the consolation game at Lexington, Southern California upset Utah 54-52, after the Utes once led by 15 points.

The results were rough on the top ranked teams for the AP poll this week had Utah No. 2, Illinois No. 3, LaSalle No. 4, and George Washington No. 8.

This was the second year in a row that Kentucky has beaten LaSalle in the Lexington tournament—last year it was by 73-60. Last night Kentucky went ahead at once to a 20-5 lead and there was never much doubt about the outcome. Billy Evans got 20 points and Bob Burrow 18 for Kentucky. LaSalle's Tom Bola tabbed 20.

Bill Russell, outstanding player in the Oklahoma City tournament, again was the San Francisco star with 23 points. After a close first half, the Dons ran up a 55-30 lead and coasted the final 10 minutes. Joe Holup and Basil Sirello each scored 10 points for George Washington.

Illinois suffered its first defeat after winning six games, but its tussle with Loyola was close until the final minutes. Eddie Galvin scored 22 points for Loyola, while Paul Judson had one less for the Illini.

BRADLEY BEAT Southern Methodist 82-73, as Harvey Babetch of the Braves set a school home scoring record of 31 points.

Other Big Ten teams also found it tough sledding as Brigham Young upset Michigan 70-60, Butler downed Northwestern 83-62, DePaul edged Michigan State 76-75 and California took Ohio State 54-50 for the second straight night despite Robin Freeman's 34 points.

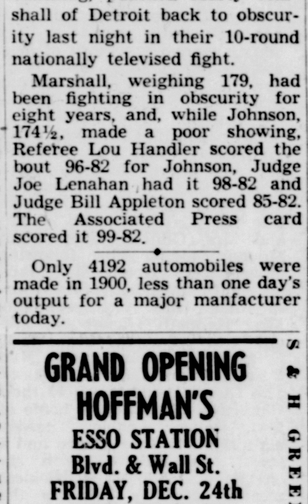

Trailing at halftime 36-35, Detroit came back fast to turn back Oregon 86-74. Guy Sparrow collected 30 points for the winners.

St. Louis, beaten Tuesday night by the University of Washington, came back to whip the Huskies 73-64, and Memphis State upset Nebraska 86-79.

Bruins' Schmidt Quits as Player

Boston, Dec. 23 (AP)—Milt Schmidt, whose fiery play during 16 seasons in the rough and swift action of the National Hockey League stamped him as one of the game's all time greats, has hung up his skates to become coach of the Boston Bruins.

The 36-year-old Bruins captain and center announced his retirement from active play yesterday. He succeeds Lynn Patrick, who will confine himself to the general manager job. Winger Ed Sandford takes over as captain.

Rangers, Wings Battle to Tie

(By The Associated Press)

It seems that just about every time the Detroit Red Wings have a chance to gnaw into Montreal's first place lead in the National Hockey League, the New York Rangers pop up to cut short the meal ticket.

The Red Wings, having a tough time in pursuit of their seventh straight first place finish, could have moved within three points of the idle Canadiens last night, but the Rangers hustled all over the Madison Square Garden ice to hold Detroit to a 2-2 tie. The Red Wings, as a result, gained only a point on Montreal and moved into sole possession of second place over idle Toronto by the same margin.

A WEEK AGO, Detroit was in position to get within two points of the Canadiens, but the Rangers held them off, 3-3.

Edgar Laprade, New York's 35-year-old veteran, was the gent who clipped the Red Wings last night, setting up the Rangers' first goal, scoring himself for a temporary 2-1 lead and in general playing havoc with the Wings throughout.

South Pins Hopes on Air Game

Miami, Fla., Dec. 23 (AP)—College football's greatest gainer, fullback Alan Ameche of Wisconsin, will spearhead the north ground attack in the north-south all-star game here Christmas night, but the Yankees' hopes may ride with their passers.

North Coach Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin says he expects Ameche to gain plenty of yardage but he adds: "I think our chances will depend mostly on how well our throwers click."

Florian Helsinki of Indiana, Duncan McDonald of Michigan and Tom Gastall of Boston University have been doing the passing for the Yankees in the week's workouts. With ends Bob Long and Bob Heydenfeldt of UCLA on the receiving end, all three looked great.

DIXIE HAS dominated the seven-game all-star series, winning five games and tying one. In the east, the games have been wide-open aerial battles, but south Coach Andy Gustafson says the rebel offense this year will be based on running.

"We don't expect to hold Ameche," Gustafson said. "He'll score a couple. But we will outscore 'em—three touchdowns to two."

Kentucky Posts 30th Win in Row

By The Associated Press

The University of Kentucky was ready to celebrate Christmas in peace today, but several other top ranked teams, including Illinois and George Washington, can't say the same after another wave of major upsets on the college basketball courts.

Coach Adolph Rupp's Kentuckians bolstered their claim to the No. 1 ranking last night by easily defeating LaSalle 63-54 in the final of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament. It was their 30th straight victory, and 128 in a row on the home court at Lexington for the Ruppmen. LaSalle coach Ken Loeffler said the Wildcats were better than the unbeaten Kentucky club which won 25 games last season.

SAN FRANCISCO'S surprising Dons rocked tournament-weary George Washington 73-57 in the finals of the All-College Tourney at Oklahoma City, and highly touted Illinois of the Big Ten was blasted 72-66 by Loyola of New Orleans. In the consolation game at Lexington, Southern California upset Utah 54-52, after the Utes once led by 15 points.

The results were rough on the top ranked teams, for the AP poll this week had Utah No. 2, Illinois No. 3, LaSalle No. 4, and George Washington No. 8.

This was the second year in a row that Kentucky has beaten LaSalle in the Lexington tournament—last year it was by 73-60. Last night Kentucky went ahead at once to a 20-5 lead, and there was never much doubt about the outcome. Billy Evans got 20 points and Bob Burrow 18 for Kentucky. LaSalle's Tom Bola tabbed 20.

Bill Russell, outstanding player in the Oklahoma City tournament, again was the San Francisco star with 23 points. After a close first half, the Dons ran up a 55-30 lead and coasted the final 10 minutes. Joe Holup and Basil Sirello each scored 10 points for George Washington.

Illinois suffered its first defeat after winning six games, but its tussle with Loyola was close until the final minutes. Eddie Galvin scored 22 points for Loyola, while Paul Judson had one less for the Illini.

BRADLEY BEAT Southern Methodist 82-73, as Harvey Babetch of the Braves set a school home scoring record of 31 points.

Other Big Ten teams also found it tough sledding as Brigham Young upset Michigan 70-60, Butler downed Northwestern 83-62, DePaul edged Michigan State 76-75 and California took Ohio State 54-50 for the second straight night despite Robin Freeman's 34 points.

Trailing at halftime 36-35, Detroit came back fast to turn back Oregon 86-74. Guy Sparrow collected 30 points for the winners.

St. Louis, beaten Tuesday night by the University of Washington, came back to whip the Huskies 73-64, and Memphis State upset Nebraska 86-79.

Johnson Turns Back Marshall

Detroit, Dec. 23 (AP)—Philadelphia's Harold Johnson, in a lackluster display of jabbing and clinching, punched Marty Marshall of Detroit back to obscurity last night in their 10-round nationally televised fight.

Marshall, weighing 179, had been fighting in obscurity for eight years, and, while Johnson, 174½, made a poor showing, Referee Lou Handler scored the bout 96-82 for Johnson, Judge Joe Lenahan had it 98-82 and Judge Bill Appleton scored 85-82. The Associated Press card scored it 99-82.

Eight-Team Nocando League First to Enter City Tourney

Veteran Circuit In 100 Per Cent

The city's oldest active bowling setup, the veteran Nocando League, has entered the 1955 city tournament of the Kingston Bowling Association on a 100 per cent basis.

Long a staunch supporter of the annual tenpin classics sponsored by the KBA, the Nocando League is the first loop within the association's jurisdiction to take any positive action for the tourney scheduled February 7-13, 1955.

Formal announcement of the loop's action came Wednesday when Stanley Colvin, Nocando League treasurer, presented a $160 check to Irwin J. Thomas, the KBA secretary, who also is acting as tournament secretary.

OTHER NOCANDO officers are Gus Steigerwald, president; John Fatum, first vice-president, who also is third vice-president of the Official KBA family; and Ralph D. Harper, secretary.

The eight teams entering the tournament include the Frederick Excavators, Fatum's Shell Service, Scholl's Butchers, Twilight Golf Range, Dittmar's Sundials, Shultis Radio, Smith's Store and the Bowery Dugout.

Both Ed Norton, KBA president and Tom Orr, tournament manager, regarded the news of the Nocando League's action with the view that the 1955 city tournament should be popular with all of the leagues and teams.

Norton said, "I am very pleased to be a member of the Nocando League and am happy that the league as a whole is entering the tournament 100 per cent."

Orr, meanwhile, also was gratified at the league's announcement when he said, "I look at this decision as the beginning of a good entry list for our annual competition next February."

THE 18th ANNUAL championships are scheduled for the Central Rec Alleys and the Chalet alleys in Rosendale. The team events will be rolled at the Kingston lanes from Feb. 7-13 while the minor events in Rosendale will be held Feb. 11-13.

The tournament will be operated in one division with 85 per cent handicap off scratch figures of 200 pins per man in each event with a maximum of 50 pins per game per individual.

ALL LEAGUE secretaries are reminded to submit official lists of averages, including first and second names of all bowlers, number of games rolled and averages, to Secretary Thomas no later than Jan. 8, 1955. The averages are to be final as of Jan. 1, 1955.

The deadline for entering the 1955 tournament is Saturday midnight, Jan. 15, 1955.

Rookies Retain Shuffle Lead

Rookies Tavern, with a record of 38 wins and 12 losses, has a six-game lead in the Ulster County Tavern Shuffleboard League as the teams suspend operations for the holiday period.

In this week's matches, Lincoln Park Inn blew a chance to gain on the leaders by splitting even with Reid's Hotel at Rosendale.

Lincoln Park took the first five games and appeared to be making a sweep when Reid's rallied to grab the next five. Tandems with two-game wins included George Harmon-Bud Leininger and Hokie Hotaling-Bob Hart for Lincoln Park; and Jackie Scheib-Gil Kelder and Larry Quinn-Bob Demarest for Reid's.

HILLTOP REST maintained fourth place by splitting with Village Rest of Port Ewen. R. Conormon-J. O'Neil won twice for the Hilltoppers. S. Lane-B. Kennedy and V. Peck-J. Jordan turned in double wins for Village Rest.

In the other match, Jake's Grill played a 5-5 tie at Ruby Inn. Bill Fitzpatrick-Don Stauble and Frank Scanlon-A. Rathgaber won twice for Jakes. A shortage of players cost Jakes four games.

All scorekeepers are urged to include full names on their score sheets and to get the final results to the secretary as soon as possible. The league resumes action on Jan. 11.

Sees Big Chance

Sydney, Australia, Dec. 23 (AP)—If America fails to win the Davis Cup this year it may be five years before she can make another serious challenge, Jack Kramer warned today. "This is our chance," declared the professional promoter who once was Uncle Sam's ranking tennis ace. "It's a chance we cannot afford to miss." Big Jack explained that if the U. S. is beaten again in the challenge round next week by Australia, Tony Trabert is likely to lose interest and Vic Seixas retired from cup competition.

Highland led for the better part of its game with Arlington Wednesday before taking it on the chin in the last quarter of play, 61 to 53.

Ejection from the game on fouls for Clark Kurtz and Sam Mahon hurt Highland's chances in the last period. Before they retired for the night the two accounted for 21 of Highland's 53 markers.

Highland led by 18-16 and 34-29 at the half. The Ulster county quintet held on to a slim 45-43 lead going into the final period but there it ended. Arlington rallied for 18 points in the final canto to take the decision.

Welcome Signs Ordered

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—Motorists entering the state henceforth will be greeted by signs reading, "Welcome to New York—the Empire State." Bertram D. Tallamy, superintendent of public works, said yesterday that the state was erecting 90 of the signs along its borders.

Eight-Team Nocando League First to Enter City Tourney

Veteran Circuit In 100 Per Cent

The city's oldest active bowling setup, the veteran Nocando League, has entered the 1955 city tournament of the Kingston Bowling Association on a 100 per cent basis.

Long a staunch supporter of the annual tenpin classics sponsored by the KBA, the Nocando League is the first loop within the association's jurisdiction to take any positive action for the tourney scheduled February 7-13, 1955.

Formal announcement of the loop's action came Wednesday when Stanley Colvin, Nocando League treasurer, presented a $160 check to Irwin J. Thomas, the KBA secretary, who also is acting as tournament secretary.

OTHER NOCANDO officers are Gus Steigerwald, president; John Fatum, first vice-president, who also is third vice-president of the Official KBA family; and Ralph D. Harper, secretary.

The eight teams entering the tournament include the Frederick Excavators, Fatum's Shell Service, Scholl's Butchers, Twilight Golf Range, Dittmar's Sundials, Shultis Radio, Smith's Store and the Bowery Dugout.

Both Ed Norton, KBA president and Tom Orr, tournament manager, regarded the news of the Nocando League's action with the view that the 1955 city tournament should be popular with all of the leagues and teams.

Norton said, "I am very pleased to be a member of the Nocando League and am happy that the league as a whole is entering the tournament 100 per cent."

Orr, meanwhile, also was gratified at the league's announcement when he said, "I look at this decision as the beginning of a good entry list for our annual competition next February."

THE 18th ANNUAL championships are scheduled for the Central Rec Alleys and the Chalet alleys in Rosendale. The team events will be rolled at the Kingston lanes from Feb. 7-13 while the minor events in Rosendale will be held Feb. 11-13.

The tournament will be operated in one division with 85 per cent handicap off scratch figures of 200 pins per man in each event with a maximum of 50 pins per game per individual.

ALL LEAGUE secretaries are reminded to submit official lists of averages, including first and second names of all bowlers, number of games rolled and averages, to Secretary Thomas no later than Jan. 8, 1955. The averages are to be final as of Jan. 1, 1955.

The deadline for entering the 1955 tournament is Saturday midnight, Jan. 15, 1955.

Rookies Tavern, with a record of 38 wins and 12 losses, has a six-game lead in the Ulster County Tavern Shuffleboard League as the teams suspend operations for the holiday period.

In this week's matches, Lincoln Park Inn blew a chance to gain on the leaders by splitting even with Reid's Hotel at Rosendale.

Lincoln Park took the first five games and appeared to be making a sweep when Reid's rallied to grab the next five. Tandems with two-game wins included George Harmon-Bud Leininger and Hokie Hotaling-Bob Hart for Lincoln Park; and Jackie Scheib-Gil Kelder and Larry Quinn-Bob Demarest for Reid's.

HILLTOP REST maintained fourth place by splitting with Village Rest of Port Ewen. R. Conormon-J. O'Neil won twice for the Hilltoppers. S. Lane-B. Kennedy and V. Peck-J. Jordan turned in double wins for Village Rest.

In the other match, Jake's Grill played a 5-5 tie at Ruby Inn. Bill Fitzpatrick-Don Stauble and Frank Scanlon-A. Rathgaber won twice for Jakes. A shortage of players cost Jakes four games.

All scorekeepers are urged to include full names on their score sheets and to get the final results to the secretary as soon as possible. The league resumes action on Jan. 11.

Sees Big Chance

Sydney, Australia, Dec. 23 (AP)—If America fails to win the Davis Cup this year it may be five years before she can make another serious challenge, Jack Kramer warned today. "This is our chance," declared the professional promoter who once was Uncle Sam's ranking tennis ace. "It's a chance we cannot afford to miss." Big Jack explained that if the U. S. is beaten again in the challenge round next week by Australia, Tony Trabert is likely to lose interest and Vic Seixas retired from cup competition.

Welcome Signs Ordered

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—Motorists entering the state henceforth will be greeted by signs reading, "Welcome to New York—the Empire State." Bertram D. Tallamy, superintendent of public works, said yesterday that the state was erecting 90 of the signs along its borders.

DOG TIRED—There were 39 massive St. Bernard dogs at this show in Elyria, Ohio, but there was still room for anyone to take a nap. Stretching out for a snooze during the show is Scotty McAlpin, nine months old, who takes up a lot less space than his pal, Sampson, who's eight months old.

PINT-SIZE ARRIVAL—"Pudgie," a year-old pigmy hippopotamus from Liberia, takes a peek around as he arrives in New York City. When full grown, Pudgie will weigh only one-tenth as much as a full-grown hippo. Taking care of the animal is Betty D'Amore, an airline stewardess.

Long a staunch supporter of the annual tenpin classics sponsored by the KBA, the Nocando League is the first loop within the association's jurisdiction to take any positive action for the tourney scheduled February 7-13, 1955.

Formal announcement of the loop's action came Wednesday when Stanley Colvin, Nocando League treasurer, presented a $160 check to Irwin J. Thomas, the KBA secretary, who also is acting as tournament secretary.

OTHER NOCANDO officers are Gus Steigerwald, president; John Fatum, first vice-president, who also is third vice-president of the Official KBA family; and Ralph D. Harper, secretary.

The eight teams entering the tournament include the Frederick Excavators, Fatum's Shell Service, Scholl's Butchers, Twilight Golf Range, Dittmar's Sundials, Shultis Radio, Smith's Store and the Bowery Dugout.

Both Ed Norton, KBA president and Tom Orr, tournament manager, regarded the news of the Nocando League's action with the view that the 1955 city tournament should be popular with all of the leagues and teams.

Norton said, "I am very pleased to be a member of the Nocando League and am happy that the league as a whole is entering the tournament 100 per cent."

Orr, meanwhile, also was gratified at the league's announcement when he said, "I look at this decision as the beginning of a good entry list for our annual competition next February."

Deer Friends

Denver (AP) — Alfred L. Dumont, who retired after 31 years with the Game and Fish Department in game-rich Colorado never has killed a deer and doesn't intend to kill any. He says the animals got to be friends during the early years of his service with the department when he took long lonely trips into the mountains as part of his duties.

DOG TIRED—There were 39 massive St. Bernard dogs at this show in Elyria, Ohio, but there was still room for anyone to take a nap. Stretching out for a snooze during the show is Scotty McAlpin, nine months old, who takes up a lot less space than his pal, Sampson, who's eight months old.

Arlington TurnsBack Highland

Highland led for the better part of its game with Arlington Wednesday before taking it on the chin in the last quarter of play, 61 to 53.

Ejection from the game on fouls for Clark Kurtz and Sam Mahon hurt Highland's chances in the last period. Before they retired for the night the two accounted for 21 of Highland's 53 markers.

Highland led by 18-16 and 34-29 at the half. The Ulster county quintet held on to a slim 45-43 lead going into the final period but there it ended. Arlington rallied for 18 points in the final canto to take the decision.

Tom Russello, Kurtz and Mahon were the big guns for Highland with 15, 11 and 10 while Steve Sandburg hit 18 for Arlington.

The boxscore:

Welcome Signs Ordered

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—Motorists entering the state henceforth will be greeted by signs reading, "Welcome to New York—the Empire State." Bertram D. Tallamy, superintendent of public works, said yesterday that the state was erecting 90 of the signs along its borders.

PINT-SIZE ARRIVAL—"Pudgie," a year-old pigmy hippopotamus from Liberia, takes a peek around as he arrives in New York City. When full grown, Pudgie will weigh only one-tenth as much as a full-grown hippo. Taking care of the animal is Betty D'Amore, an airline stewardess.

CAN'T BEAR TO BE BOTHERED—While most of us huddle in warm clothing, Ivy, the polar bear at the London, England, zoo, finds the cold temperature just right for a snooze. Protected by her heavy warm coat, she looks comfortable as she curls up on the frozen earth.

BRING ME SOME FOOD—That's what this man could be saying after he looks at a "meal" set before him in Hamburg, Germany. The object is a chocolate-covered tablet, made up mostly of plant extracts which supposedly swell up in the stomach, giving the diner the feeling that he's had a full meal. One such "meal" has only 49 calories, causing the body to make use of its surplus fat, which results in a loss of weight.

BRING ME SOME FOOD—That's what this man could be saying after he looks at a "meal" set before him in Hamburg, Germany. The object is a chocolate-covered tablet, made up mostly of plant extracts which supposedly swell up in the stomach, giving the diner the feeling that he's had a full meal. One such "meal" has only 49 calories, causing the body to make use of its surplus fat, which results in a loss of weight.

BRING ME SOME FOOD—That's what this man could be saying after he looks at a "meal" set before him in Hamburg, Germany. The object is a chocolate-covered tablet, made up mostly of plant extracts which supposedly swell up in the stomach, giving the diner the feeling that he's had a full meal. One such "meal" has only 49 calories, causing the body to make use of its surplus fat, which results in a loss of weight.

Bare Ground Holiday Forecast

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—Most of upstate New York should have a white Christmas, but the ground may still be bare in the Hudson valley and the southeastern section of the state.

The weather bureau here has predicted light snowfalls and scattered flurries between now and Saturday in western, central and northern New York—areas that already have snow on the ground.

Forecasters say there is a possibility that enough snow may fall in the Hudson valley to provide a thin cover for Christmas Day. But the weather bureau in New York city said there would be no white mantle for the metropolis.

Temperatures are expected to remain well below freezing in the northern sections and close to the freezing point in the southern zone.

Paid Girls to Steal

Detroit, Dec. 23 (AP)—A female Fagin who paid her 13-year-old daughter and another 12-year-old girl $1 a week to steal merchandise from department stores yesterday was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of children. Recorder's Judge John A. Ricca put Mrs. Gloria Nowodworski, 31, of Detroit, on probation for one year.

Trees on Black Market

Manila, Dec. 23 (AP)—Christmas trees are being blackmarketed in the Philippines this year. The government has restricted cutting of trees to protect the forests. But some persons have been invading reservations and hacking down trees indiscriminately.

CHOSEN — Max Petitpierre was chosen president of Switzerland for 1955 by the Swiss Federal Assembly. He succeeds Rudolph Rubattel.

Planning Group

the Taconic State Parkway in the Hudson valley. Both are toll-free now.

According to the report, the entire group of authorities—excluding the thruway—currently produce an annual revenue of $34,953,000. It was estimated that income in the immediate future would be enough to finance a $359,991,000 construction program, based on 40-year bonds at 3 per cent interest.

Current bonded debts among the group total $275,508,000. When those are liquidated, credit would become available to increase the borrowing power to $635,499,000.

The report noted that many changes in present state law, federal law or policy and interstate and international agreements would be necessary. It also considers public opposition to continuing tolls on some facilities and imposing them on others.

The Hudson River Regional Authorities, as suggested in the report, would be set up this way:

It would take over the Bear Mountain Bridge, Mid-Hudson Bridge at Poughkeepsie, Rip Van Winkle Bridge at Catskill and the Kingston-Rhinecliff Ferry, all operated by the New York State Bridge Authority. It also would operate the Taconic State Parkway which runs from Hawthorne Circle in Westchester county to Route 32 in Columbia county.

A Hudson River Authority, according to the report, would have annual revenues of $2,120,000, sufficient to support a debt of $38,545,000. Total debts now outstanding are $5,400,000.

The Long Island Authority would: Operate all facilities of Jones Beach State Parkway Authority and the Nassau County Bridge Authority. It also would collect the present 10-cent toll on the Southern State Parkway, and the proposed 10-cent levy on the Northern State Parkway.

The report estimated that an authority for this region would have annual revenues totaling $5,392,500, or enough to carry a debt of $98,045,000. Outstanding are bonds totaling $50,627,000 and advances from the state and Nassau county totaling $14,815,000.

The proposed authority for the New York city region would duplicate substantially the present Triborough Bridge Authority. The report did not suggest that it be replaced.

The Triborough Authority, with current obligations for $235,508,000, has annual revenues of $29,672,000, enough to carry a debt of $539,490,000.

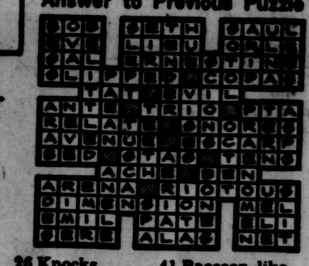

The report was compiled under the direction of Dr. William J. Ronan, dean of New York University's Graduate School of Public Administration and Social Service, and Arthur H. Schwartz, a former justice of the State Supreme Court.

Caretaker Kills Wife at Irvington

The body of Mrs. Veronica Cordeiro, 37, decapitated by the force of the shotgun blast, was found in front of the gaily decorated tree in the caretaker's cottage after an unidentified person notified police.

Her husband, Anthony Cordeiro, 43, was bending over the body and three sons, ranging from 8 to 13 years, were crying "mommy," police said. A bed upstairs was piled with Christmas gifts.

The husband was booked on a second degree murder charge.

Police quoted him as saying the argument ensued after he accused her of not buying enough food for the children.

Both Cordeiro and his wife were employed at the estate of Garson Reiner, wealthy brassiere manufacturer. She worked as a domestic and Cordeiro as a caretaker, police said.

Both Cordeiro and his wife, apparently had been hired recently, police said. Cordeiro's driver's license listed his address as Old Country Rd., East Quogue.

Bare Ground Holiday Forecast

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—Most of upstate New York should have a white Christmas, but the ground may still be bare in the Hudson valley and the southeastern section of the state.

The weather bureau here has predicted light snowfalls and scattered flurries between now and Saturday in western, central and northern New York—areas that already have snow on the ground.

Forecasters say there is a possibility that enough snow may fall in the Hudson valley to provide a thin cover for Christmas Day. But the weather bureau in New York city said there would be no white mantle for the metropolis.

Temperatures are expected to remain well below freezing in the northern sections and close to the freezing point in the southern zone.

Paid Girls to Steal

Detroit, Dec. 23 (AP)—A female Fagin who paid her 13-year-old daughter and another 12-year-old girl $1 a week to steal merchandise from department stores yesterday was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of children. Recorder's Judge John A. Ricca put Mrs. Gloria Nowodworski, 31, of Detroit, on probation for one year.

Trees on Black Market

Manila, Dec. 23 (AP)—Christmas trees are being blackmarketed in the Philippines this year. The government has restricted cutting of trees to protect the forests. But some persons have been invading reservations and hacking down trees indiscriminately.

CHOSEN — Max Petitpierre was chosen president of Switzerland for 1955 by the Swiss Federal Assembly. He succeeds Rudolph Rubattel.

Planning Group

the Taconic State Parkway in the Hudson valley. Both are toll-free now.

According to the report, the entire group of authorities—excluding the thruway—currently produce an annual revenue of $34,953,000. It was estimated that income in the immediate future would be enough to finance a $359,991,000 construction program, based on 40-year bonds at 3 per cent interest.

Current bonded debts among the group total $275,508,000. When those are liquidated, credit would become available to increase the borrowing power to $635,499,000.

The report noted that many changes in present state law, federal law or policy and interstate and international agreements would be necessary. It also considers public opposition to continuing tolls on some facilities and imposing them on others.

The Hudson River Regional Authorities, as suggested in the report, would be set up this way:

It would take over the Bear Mountain Bridge, Mid-Hudson Bridge at Poughkeepsie, Rip Van Winkle Bridge at Catskill and the Kingston-Rhinecliff Ferry, all operated by the New York State Bridge Authority. It also would operate the Taconic State Parkway which runs from Hawthorne Circle in Westchester county to Route 32 in Columbia county.

The plan called for imposing a 10-cent toll at the southern end of the parkway and another 10-cent toll at the northern terminus.

A Hudson River Authority, according to the report, would have annual revenues of $2,120,000, sufficient to support a debt of $38,545,000. Total debts now outstanding are $5,400,000.

The Long Island Authority would: Operate all facilities of Jones Beach State Parkway Authority and the Nassau County Bridge Authority. It also would collect the present 10-cent toll on the Southern State Parkway, and the proposed 10-cent levy on the Northern State Parkway.

The report estimated that an authority for this region would have annual revenues totaling $5,392,500, or enough to carry a debt of $98,045,000. Outstanding are bonds totaling $50,627,000 and advances from the state and Nassau county totaling $14,815,000.

The proposed authority for the New York city region would duplicate substantially the present Triborough Bridge Authority. The report did not suggest that it be replaced.

The Triborough Authority, with current obligations for $235,508,000, has annual revenues of $29,672,000, enough to carry a debt of $539,490,000.

The report was compiled under the direction of Dr. William J. Ronan, dean of New York University's Graduate School of Public Administration and Social Service, and Arthur H. Schwartz, a former justice of the State Supreme Court.

Caretaker Kills Wife at Irvington

Irvington, Dec. 23 (AP) — A caretaker of a large estate last night shot to death his wife as she sat in front of a lighted Christmas tree, police said.

The body of Mrs. Veronica Cordeiro, 37, decapitated by the force of the shotgun blast, was found in front of the gaily decorated tree in the caretaker's cottage after an unidentified person notified police.

Her husband, Anthony Cordeiro, 43, was bending over the body and three sons, ranging from 8 to 13 years, were crying "mommy," police said. A bed upstairs was piled with Christmas gifts.

The husband was booked on a second degree murder charge.

Police quoted him as saying the argument ensued after he accused her of not buying enough food for the children.

Both Cordeiro and his wife were employed at the estate of Garson Reiner, wealthy brassiere manufacturer. She worked as a domestic and Cordeiro as a caretaker, police said.

Both Cordeiro and his wife, apparently had been hired recently, police said. Cordeiro's driver's license listed his address as Old Country Rd., East Quogue.

HEAD MAN—Charles B. Shuman, of Sullivan, Ill., is the new head of the American Farm Bureau Federation. He was chosen to succeed Allan B. Kline, who resigned because of poor health.

Bare Ground Holiday Forecast

Albany, Dec. 23 (AP)—Most of upstate New York should have a white Christmas, but the ground may still be bare in the Hudson valley and the southeastern section of the state.

The weather bureau here has predicted light snowfalls and scattered flurries between now and Saturday in western, central and northern New York—areas that already have snow on the ground.

Forecasters say there is a possibility that enough snow may fall in the Hudson valley to provide a thin cover for Christmas Day. But the weather bureau in New York city said there would be no white mantle for the metropolis.

Temperatures are expected to remain well below freezing in the northern sections and close to the freezing point in the southern zone.

Paid Girls to Steal

Detroit, Dec. 23 (AP)—A female Fagin who paid her 13-year-old daughter and another 12-year-old girl $1 a week to steal merchandise from department stores yesterday was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of children. Recorder's Judge John A. Ricca put Mrs. Gloria Nowodworski, 31, of Detroit, on probation for one year.

Trees on Black Market

Manila, Dec. 23 (AP)—Christmas trees are being blackmarketed in the Philippines this year. The government has restricted cutting of trees to protect the forests. But some persons have been invading reservations and hacking down trees indiscriminately.

CHOSEN — Max Petitpierre was chosen president of Switzerland for 1955 by the Swiss Federal Assembly. He succeeds Rudolph Rubattel.

Planning Group

the Taconic State Parkway in the Hudson valley. Both are toll-free now.

According to the report, the entire group of authorities—excluding the thruway—currently produce an annual revenue of $34,953,000. It was estimated that income in the immediate future would be enough to finance a $359,991,000 construction program, based on 40-year bonds at 3 per cent interest.

Current bonded debts among the group total $275,508,000. When those are liquidated, credit would become available to increase the borrowing power to $635,499,000.

The report noted that many changes in present state law, federal law or policy and interstate and international agreements would be necessary. It also considers public opposition to continuing tolls on some facilities and imposing them on others.

The Hudson River Regional Authorities, as suggested in the report, would be set up this way:

It would take over the Bear Mountain Bridge, Mid-Hudson Bridge at Poughkeepsie, Rip Van Winkle Bridge at Catskill and the Kingston-Rhinecliff Ferry, all operated by the New York State Bridge Authority. It also would operate the Taconic State Parkway which runs from Hawthorne Circle in Westchester county to Route 32 in Columbia county.

The plan called for imposing a 10-cent toll at the southern end of the parkway and another 10-cent toll at the northern terminus.

A Hudson River Authority, according to the report, would have annual revenues of $2,120,000, sufficient to support a debt of $38,545,000. Total debts now outstanding are $5,400,000.

The Long Island Authority would: Operate all facilities of Jones Beach State Parkway Authority and the Nassau County Bridge Authority. It also would collect the present 10-cent toll on the Southern State Parkway, and the proposed 10-cent levy on the Northern State Parkway.

The report estimated that an authority for this region would have annual revenues totaling $5,392,500, or enough to carry a debt of $98,045,000. Outstanding are bonds totaling $50,627,000 and advances from the state and Nassau county totaling $14,815,000.

The proposed authority for the New York city region would duplicate substantially the present Triborough Bridge Authority. The report did not suggest that it be replaced.

The Triborough Authority, with current obligations for $235,508,000, has annual revenues of $29,672,000, enough to carry a debt of $539,490,000.

The report was compiled under the direction of Dr. William J. Ronan, dean of New York University's Graduate School of Public Administration and Social Service, and Arthur H. Schwartz, a former justice of the State Supreme Court.

Caretaker Kills Wife at Irvington

Irvington, Dec. 23 (AP) — A caretaker of a large estate last night shot to death his wife as she sat in front of a lighted Christmas tree, police said.

The body of Mrs. Veronica Cordeiro, 37, decapitated by the force of the shotgun blast, was found in front of the gaily decorated tree in the caretaker's cottage after an unidentified person notified police.

Her husband, Anthony Cordeiro, 43, was bending over the body and three sons, ranging from 8 to 13 years, were crying "mommy," police said. A bed upstairs was piled with Christmas gifts.

The husband was booked on a second degree murder charge.

Police quoted him as saying the argument ensued after he accused her of not buying enough food for the children.

Both Cordeiro and his wife were employed at the estate of Garson Reiner, wealthy brassiere manufacturer. She worked as a domestic and Cordeiro as a caretaker, police said.

Both Cordeiro and his wife, apparently had been hired recently, police said. Cordeiro's driver's license listed his address as Old Country Rd., East Quogue.

The indictment was dismissed Monday by County Judge Frederick W. Loomis, after District Attorney Richard Bookhout recommended the move "in the interests of Justice."

Employes Win Safety Awards

Under the Hercules Powder Company's safety award plan, the employes at the Port Ewen plant won, on December 22, the introductory prize, which required a plant the size of Port Ewen to go 165 days without a lost time injury, E. P. Rochford, works manager, announced today.

The prize plan is an arrangement whereby a plant which goes the required number of days without a lost time injury can award merchandise prizes to each present employe who has worked over half of the required time to win.

THE PORT EWEN employes will have a choice from a list of 17 different prizes such as a hand saw, billfold, fry pan, canister set, chisels, clock, handbag, etc. All the items are being purchased locally.

At its present level of employment, 165 days more without a lost time injury, at the Port Ewen plant, will make the employe eligible for the plant manager's prize, which will be of the same value. Another 165 days will entitle them to a director of operations prize which is worth more. A total of 660 days at the present level of employment will bring the general manager's prize, worth twice that of the introductory prize won yesterday.

Democrats Plan Monopoly Probe

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) said today Senate Democratic leaders will meet soon to discuss what may be an "intensive investigation" next year of alleged business monopolies.

Kefauver said the leaders will discuss the question before the new Congress convenes Jan. 5.

The senator told newsmen he believes "the whole problem of economic concentration and enforcement of the antimonopoly laws" should be investigated.

The disputed Dixon-Yates power contract also should be probed further as "just one feature" of what should be a "broad study" of business giants in various industrial fields, he said.

Indictment Over In Arson Case

Cooperstown, Dec. 23 (AP)—On motion of the district attorney, a second-degree arson indictment against Stewart T. Beckley, former Democratic chairman of Otsego county, has been dropped.

The indictment was dismissed Monday by County Judge Frederick W. Loomis, after District Attorney Richard Bookhout recommended the move "in the interests of Justice."

Beckley, 46, had been accused of firing a barn on his Clintonville farm last Jan. 5 in what the indictment said was an attempt to defraud several insurance companies.

He was brought to trial last Sept. 27, but the jury was dismissed on Oct. 21 after it was unable to reach a verdict.

Division to Move

Tokyo, Dec. 23 (AP)—The 24th Division has been alerted for movement to South Korea to replace the 1st Marine Division, the army said today. The division headquarters, one regiment and its artillery moved to Japan last month.

Employes Win Safety Awards

Under the Hercules Powder Company's safety award plan, the employes at the Port Ewen plant won, on December 22, the introductory prize, which required a plant the size of Port Ewen to go 165 days without a lost time injury, E. P. Rochford, works manager, announced today.

The prize plan is an arrangement whereby a plant which goes the required number of days without a lost time injury can award merchandise prizes to each present employe who has worked over half of the required time to win.

THE PORT EWEN employes will have a choice from a list of 17 different prizes such as a hand saw, billfold, fry pan, canister set, chisels, clock, handbag, etc. All the items are being purchased locally.

At its present level of employment, 165 days more without a lost time injury, at the Port Ewen plant, will make the employe eligible for the plant manager's prize, which will be of the same value. Another 165 days will entitle them to a director of operations prize which is worth more. A total of 660 days at the present level of employment will bring the general manager's prize, worth twice that of the introductory prize won yesterday.

Democrats Plan Monopoly Probe

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) said today Senate Democratic leaders will meet soon to discuss what may be an "intensive investigation" next year of alleged business monopolies.

The senator told newsmen he believes "the whole problem of economic concentration and enforcement of the antimonopoly laws" should be investigated.

The disputed Dixon-Yates power contract also should be probed further as "just one feature" of what should be a "broad study" of business giants in various industrial fields, he said.
